MARRIAGE-ON-THE-ROCKS — Alcohol puts many marriages on the rocks, but quite often drinking is merely a symptom of a more fundamental matrimonial problem. The basic problem may cause the drinking, not the other way around.

Our Drinking Habits

Heavy Drinking Isn't Always Marriage Villain

By HOWARD WHITMAN

Mix matrimory with heavy drinking, chill, and stir briskly, and you get marriage-on-the-rocks. It's a concoction that's becoming tragically popular at the nation's bars—of justice.

Here, typical of cases heard every day, is verbatim testimony from the Common Pleas Court of Philadelphia.

Lawyer: When did your husband start this drinking?

Woman (suing for divorce): Well, he used to drink right after we were married, but nothing came of it . . .

Lawyer: Then what happened?

Woman: He took to staying out two or three nights a week. He would come home blind drunk about 3 or 4 in the morning, unfit to go to work the next day. Finally he lost his job. He got another, and for a while everything was all right, but then it started all over again.

Probably the most frequent lines spoken when drinking squabbles end up in court are (from the wife), "He's such a wonderful man when he's sober, Judge," and (from the husband), "I'm sorry, Your Honor. Give me one more chance and I'll never touch another drop."

And so the merry-go-round goes round.

In an analysis of 1,434 divorces in Philadelphia, excessive drinking was charged in 21 per cent of the cases. It was a more frequent complaint (though it is not a legal ground for divorce in Pennsylvania) than cruelty, adultery, bigamy, fraud, and sexual aberrations combined.

In Chicago, a study of 1,000 families torn by marital discord listed drinking as the prime cause in 30 per cent of the cases.

Alcohol appears, on the surface at least, an execrable villain. But there is more to the story. If drinking were a cause in itself, how is it that millions of married couples drink quite a bit and remain happily in love?

A woman goes to a lawyer and starts her tale of woe with, "Everything was all right until my husband started drinking." And in that very line is the joker. Everything wasn't all right. That's why he started drinking.

Today the enlightened judge recognizes excessive drinking as a symptom, like a fever which is not a basic disorder but rather a signal that someing more fundamental is awry.

Instead of trying to cure the malady by destroying the marriage, he tries to cure the person and save the marriage. He sends the excessive drinker for counseling or treatment to a family agency, a psychiatrist, or A.A.

In its nearly quarter-century of experience with big drinkers, Alcoholics Anonymous has learned, among many things, that "the causes of alcoholism may stem from the problem drinker's early childhood and (many married couples) have assumed, mistakenly, that the alcoholic drinks to excess solely as an expression of rebellion against his or her mate."

In other words, it might be as bad in any marriage. Cure the person!

Lagunitas Trustees Call For Bids On Woodacre Property

Lagunitas School District will offer its seven-acre Woodacre property, once intended as a second school site, for sale to the highest bidder Jan. 14 at 8 p.m.

The five district trustees last night called for bids. The Woodacre property is located on the south side of Sir Francis Drake highway.

Supt. Clifford L. Frye reported that since September, the Lagunitas School has lost 38 pupils. Present enrollment is 350.

TO TRANSFER PUPILS

The board members approved a plan to move first graders out of a small library building into a room now used for sixth grade instead of renting an additional room at the San Geronimo Community Presbyterian Church.

The shift will take place when pupils return to classes on Jan. 5 after Christmas vacation. The two sixth grade classes will be reorganized and a small group of sixth graders will move into the library building, Frye said.

The first graders will get a new room but they will remain on double sessions.

ACCEPT 65 BOOKS

Marin, Bay Area Jolted By Quake

IT'S STILL HOT, DRY; NO RAIN YET IN SIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The temperature in San Francisco reached 71 degrees before noon today, an all-time high for Dec. 11, and the city's fifth heat record in as many days.

Smoke and haze also worsened. At Oakland and San Francisco airports flights were on instrument operations.

Temperatures throughout the state yesterday generally were above normal.

No rain was yet in sight. The Weather Bureau put it this way:

"A storm far out in the Pacific was no threat to California at this time."

County Escapes Damage

Residents of Marin and the entire Bay Area were jolted awake at 1:52 a.m. today by an earthquake shock that measured 4.75 on the Richter scale at the University of California seismograph.

Several aftershocks followed the initial quake.

No damage was reported in Marin. Broken dishes and cracked plaster were reported in San Francisco, Daly City and South San Francisco.

Dr. Don Tocher, University of California seismologist, was awakened by the quake and hurried to his laboratory at Berkeley. He said the shock apparently centered near Daly City, and suggested it was a long-delayed aftershock of the San Andreas fault quake that broke water mains and building foundations there on March 22, 1957.

TWO AFTERSHOCKS

A mild aftershock, with a Richter magnitude of only 2 points, hit the Daly City area at 4:41 a.m. today, and still another, with a reading of 2.5, at 6:55 a.m.

Among Marinites shaken by the tremblor was Mrs. Fred Catz of 355 Sunset trail, Novato. She said she and her family moved to Marin from Daly City less than a month ago to get away from earthquakes.

"This was nothing," she said, compared to what they experienced in Daly City on March 22 last year. "We were right on the center" of that one, she declared.

Police switchboards buzzed in San Rafael and San Anselmomo as the quake awakened sleepers.

BOARD LIGHTS UP

Officer Donald Ray, on late watch duty at the San Anselmo police station, said the switchboard there "looked like a Christmas tree for awhile."

"Groggy voices would ask, 'what was that?' But most of them assumed it was an earthquake," said Ray.

A woman resident of San Anselmo, just off the Miracle Mile, said she "thought sure the walls had cracked, but I checked them this morning and there wasn't a crack."

Hugh Turner of 1470 Pastel lane, Novato, manager of radio station KTIM, said he had slept

Sonic Boom Jolts Wide Marin Area

Things were shaky in Marin.

At 4 p.m. yesterday, not quite 10 hours before an earthquake jolted the Bay Area and awoke many sleepers, Marin County and San Francisco were shaken by what apparently was a sonic boom.

An F104 Starfighter had just taken off from Hamilton Air Force Base, climbed to 40,000 feet and headed north. But officials at the base were quick to deny it could have caused the jar.

HEADING NORTH

"The plane was heading north. If it had caused a boom, it would not have been felt south of here because sonic booms always travel in the direction of flight," declared a 28th Air Division spokesman.

Alameda Naval Air Station also disclaimed responsibility for the sonic boom.

SHARP SHOCK

The shock was sharp throughout most of Marin County and in parts of San Francisco.

Sgt. William Woodington of the Belvedere Police Department said "I thought the building was coming down" when the jar hit the city hall.

Woodington reported feeling two distinct shocks, as did Alto Fire Chief Carl Heynen Jr., who was in Strawberry when the boom hit, and women in Corte Madera and on the Del Mesa ridge in Kentfield who telephoned the Independent-Journal.

Mrs. Rose Serio of 1581 Sir Francis Drake boulevard, San Anselmo, mother of Asst. Chief Sam N. Serio of the San Anselmo Police Department, said the jar "almost threw me off my chair."

Homestead Fire Chief Chester Kirby said he saw two jets maneuvering high over the bay in the direction of Richmond at the time of the boom.

"I though sure somebody had dropped an atom bomb," said Sgt. Guy Gibbs of the Marin City sheriff's substation.

Industrial Development Rate In '58 Doubles '57 In Marin

Industrial development in Marin during 1958 has been proceeding at a rate double that of 1957, and capital investment involved is three and one-half times greater, the Marin Development Foundation reported today.

To date this year the foundation has recorded 12 industrial building projects compared with six last year. This year's investment in land, buildings and equipment totals $1,678,500, as against $480,000 in 1957. In jobs created, the difference is even more pronounced, with figures of 226 and 43.

Eight of the developments were new industries and four were expansions. Seven are in San Rafael, three in Sausalito, one in Larkspur and one in West Marin near Olema.

Foundation president Walter Freitas commented: "Marin's industrial progress this year has been healthy and diversified. I believe it evidences to Marin that tax-broadening, nonresidential assessed valuation can be added to the benefit of the county without harmful effect on our way of life. Also, it is evidence to business executives and industrial developers throughout the Bay Area that, despite its past reputation to the contrary, Marin does have a place for successful and harmonious operation by many types of industries."

The foundation listed the following industrial projects:

Baban Concrete Pipe and Products Co., 2074 Redwood highway, Larkspur: New plant opened in July, representing $50,000 capital investment, for manufacture of concrete drain tile and other prefabricated concrete products; seven jobs created.

H. C. Little Co., Woodland avenue, San Rafael: Expansion totaling $100,000 to plant manufacturing water heaters, gas boilers, oil furnaces and incinerators; 20 jobs added.

Knoles and Co., 96 Woodland avenue, San Rafael: New business opened in March in new 6,800-square-foot building with investment of $100,000, for fabricating and installing heating and air conditioning equipment; five to 10 jobs created.

Metalcald, Inc., Gate 5 road, Sausalito: New $200,000 business opened in May, making nickel-chrome plated chinaware, also nickel, silver and copper plating; created five jobs.

Mission City Meat Co., 659 Irwin street, San Rafael: New $200,000 meat packaging and wholesaling plant of 14,000 square feet nearing completion, which will create 23 jobs.

Mission Wood Products, 120 Front street, San Rafael: New business opened in February in rented building, for manufacture of prehung door units, etc., creating seven jobs.

Heart Attack Ruled Out In Car Fire Death

The car fire which burned to death 69-year-old Frank B. Shouse, member of a prominent Solano County family, at Tiburon yesterday started inside the car and never reached the gasoline tank, investigators reported today.

An autopsy showed Shouse was alive when the fire started, and did not die from a heart attack with the fire following, Coroner Frank J. Keaton reported.

DUPUIS INVESTIGATING

Fred G. Dupuis, special agent for the National Board of Fire Underwriters, and Gene Helm, assistant San Francisco manager of the National Auto Theft Bureau, had raised the possibility that a cigar or cigarette might have dropped from from Shouse's dead hand after a heart attack claimed him as he sat in his stalled car on the extension of Mar East road.

Dupuis said his investigation showed the fire definitely started inside the car, apparently in the back seat. Shouse's body was found seated half-turned in the front seat, with one arm extending over the backrest. His key container lay on the smoldering rear seat.

STOMACH EMPTY

Coroner Keaton said the autopsy showed Shouse's stomach was empty, indicating he had nothing to drink for at least two hours and no substantial food for at least six hours before he died. Further tests of the body fluids were being made.

Just when Shouse died remained undetermined. But apparently it was not long before

STOLEN CAR FOUND (WHERE OWNER LEFT IT)

San Rafael police looked for a "stolen car" for almost 24 hours but finally canceled the report last night when the owner remembered she had parked it somewhere else.

Carol Ann Lucas of 180 Miller avenue, Mill Valley, thought she had parked her car in Macy's parking lot in San Rafael Tuesday morning. About 5 that night she reported her car stolen.

Then at 4:45 p.m., she came to the police station when she remembered she had left her car in a parking lot at Court and Mission streets. It was still there.

Yule Star To Glow Again On Mt. Tam

At dusk tomorrow, the 64-foot star atop Mt. Tamalpais will again be lighted for the Christmas season, according to Lt. Col. John P. Byrne, commanding officer of the 666th Aircraft Control and Warning Station on the mountain top.

Colonel Byrne said Mill Valley Mayor Robert D. Huber has been invited to throw the switch which will light the decoration, visible over much of the Bay Area.

Made up of strings of lights, 60 in all, the star is strung on cables between two 90-foot antenna poles near the station's radar dome.

Sewer Backup 'Ruins' House; Family Flees

A Marinwood family of five, including a 2-year-old child, was routed from their home today by sewer water which bubbled over the toilet bowl and overflowed throughout the house.

After four hours of frantic calls for help, Mrs. Dale W. Blanton of 269 Blackstone drive, declared various officials had given her the run-around but no relief.

Shortly before noon, an official of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District ordered the family to leave because the home is not fit for human habitation until thoroughly cleaned. An engineer from the sanitary district was at the home but could not find the source of the trouble.

A neighbor drilled holes in hardwood floors to allow the water to drain out of the living quarters.

Mrs. Blanton's husband, who is assistant sales manager of Enterprise Engine and Machinery Co. in San Francisco, was away at work.

They have three children, Rusty, 10; Debbie, 8, and Wendy, 2. The youngest baby was being cared for in a neighbor's home.

"Our home is ruined," Mrs. Blanton cried.

She said the toilet bowl started bubbling over about 8:15 this morning. She said she called several officials in San Rafael, who kept referring her to others. About 9:15, she called the sheriff's office in desperation. Sheriff's deputies called the sanitation department, which in turn notified engineer J. Warren Nute of the Las Gallinas Sanitary District.

"I phoned everybody, but nobody knows what to do," Mrs. Blanton said.

Novato Doctors To Form Corporation

Nine Novato doctors agreed last night to form a corporation to build a hospital in the North Marin community.

The decision was reached at a meeting with Dr. John C. Siemens, administrator of Ross General Hospital and adviser to the Novato group, at the Twinbrook Medical Center in Novato.

Details of the organization were unobtainable this morning.

Midyett Campaign Cost Totals $4,620

Donald E. Midyett's unsuccessful campaign for sheriff cost a total of $4,620, according to an expense statement on file with the county clerk.

This is about $1,800 more than the amount spent by Sheriff-elect Louis P. Mountanos, who lists his total expenses as $2,825.

Midyett put up $100 himself, and the remaining $4,520 came from contributions.

Virgil Sydney Hollis, the new county superintendent of schools, says his campaign cost $1,967. His opponent, Samuel N. LeCount reported his campaign expenses as $3,381.

Sausalito Planners Approve Church, Apartment, Motel Jobs

Projects totaling approximately a million dollars were given the green light by the Sausalito Planning Commission last night.

By 9-0 vote, the commission granted a use permit and side variances which will permit construction of a new Star of the Sea Catholic church, designed by Arnold Constable & Son of Sausalito. It is planned for a location opposite the present church on Harrison avenue.

Also approved by unanimous vote was the proposed 39-unit overwater apartment project on the historic Nunes Brothers Boat Works property at Second and Main streets. It is to be built by William McDevitt Co. of San Rafael.

The commission approved by 7-2 vote a use permit for a 30-unit motel at Bridgeway and Olive streets for Jessie F. Silva of San Francisco. Chairman Victor E. Hecht and secretary Ruth Sisson dissented, contending the matter should first be presented at a public hearing.

The way is now cleared for construction on all three projects.

Planning consultant Sydney Williams reported by letter that the completed city master plan would be presented at the Jan. 14 commission hearing.

Chairman Hecht said hearing dates on the plan would be set that night, with the expectation that about five hearings would be held on consecutive nights.

The board received a request

Report Of Body Spurs Bay Search

Report that a body was floating in Richardson Bay near the north end of Richardson Bay Bridge sent sheriff's deputies and a seaplane on the search yesterday about 1:45 p.m.

Inspector Mike Melovich and Deputy Arthur Leal said they found no evidence of any body. A plane from Commodore Aviation flew over the bay but failed to spot anything.

Sausalito police called the sheriff's office reporting that an unidentified motorist had notified the Coast Guard about a floating body

Convict Misses Trapeze, Suffers Injury To Back

A San Quentin Prison inmate tried a double flip on a trapeze bar yesterday afternoon and missed, falling about 20 feet and injuring his back.

C. J. Mack, 41, convicted of mayhem in Los Angeles County three years ago. X-rays disclosed a vertebra fracture. Mack underwent five hours of surgery at the prison hospital and was reported in good condition today.

He entered San Quentin in June, 1957, on a six-month-to-14-year term. He was at the state reception-guidance centers at Chino and Vacaville before being transfered here.

The trapeze and parallel bars are located in the lower yard for use in the institution's supervised recreation program.

J. E. French Co. To Handle Simca Car Line In Marin

The J. E. French Co. of San Rafael, Dodge-Plymouth auto dealership, has been appointed Marin dealer for the Simca car, it was announced today.

The Simca is built in France. Its 1959 line, including four models, will go on display at the J. E. French Co. showroom at 1542 Fourth street, San Rafael, shortly after Jan. 1, according to managing partner Leon C. Smith.

Chrysler Corp. dealers will handle the Simca throughout the United States. The corporation recently purchased the controlling interest in the Simca plant.

The 1959 line will offer two four-door sedans, a station wagon and a convertible, with the lowest-priced sedan to sell for less than $1,900 delivered in Marin and equipped with a heater, Smith said.

Walter (Buzz) Kilborn, San Rafael, has been Marin distributor for Simca in conjunction with his tire, recapping, brake service and wheel alignment business. Kilborn said he was notified of the change of dealership only two days ago, and does not yet know whether he will take on a dealership for some other car.

"For the present, we will concentrate on our tire, brake and alignment business," he said.

A Scout since 1953

Marin Scout To Receive Eagle Award

Norman Hansen, 15-year-old student at Redwood High School, will receive an Eagle Scout award at a court of honor tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at Reed School. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hansen of 7 Apollo road, Belveron Gardens.

Other members of Troop 48 to receive awards tomorrow evening will be Bud Norris, life scout; Jeff Norris, Forrest McKie and John McGaughey, star scouts; Terry Tsegeletos and Alan Rice, first class scouts.

The new Eagle Scout will be given his challenge by Hugh Turner, manager of radio station KTIM and Marin Boy Scout Council executive board member.

Norman entered Scouting in September, 1953, while living in Larkspur. His family moved to Novato, where he became a member of Troop 56 and later, a member of Explorer Post 56.

In October he joined Troop 48, sponsored by the Bel Aire Property Owners Assn. He has been named junior assistant Scoutmaster by Scoutmaster M. T. McMillan.

Sheriff's Air Patrol Elects New Officers

William B. Barnes of San Rafael was elected captain of the Marin County Sheriff's Air Patrol Squadron at a meeting last night in San Rafael City Hall.

Plans were made at the meeting for the squadron to be hosts for a "fly-in" in January of other units in California, Nevada and Arizona.

Barnes said other officers elected were Vic Hedemark of Santa Venetia, lieutenant, and Rubin Hendrickson of Novato, lieutenant adjutant.

Outgoing officers are Alfred H. Hansen, Marc Palen and Claire Griffin.

Hansen will be in charge of the one-day fly-in visit and meeting in January. A date has not yet been set. Installation of new officers will be held Jan. 10.

The members of the squadron are unpaid deputies who assist the sheriff's office during emergencies. The men furnish their own equipment.

Placer Puts 6-Month Ban On Billboards

AUBURN (AP)—No new billboards will go up in Placer County for six months.

The board of supervisors ordered the moratorium to give the planning department time to develop a countywide zoning ordinance to control billboards.

Meeting Date Changed

The Sausalito Recreation Commission, which had previously announced that its Dec. 18 meeting had been advanced to tonight, will instead meet next week at the normal time, according to member John Minton.

Old Oil Derricks Felled Just Like Redwoods

HUNTINGTON BEACH (AP)—Timber-r-r!

California's forest of old wooden oil derricks are coming down—and when they hit they bounce.

Just like the giant trees of the north woods, these 136-foot-high Goliaths are weakened at the base by sawing and then toppled over onto the ground.

There is no more economical way of removing these unsightly relics of a bygone age. Dismantling them would take more man hours than the lumber is worth.

Sometimes there isn't room enough for the derrick to fall intact and it is topped—in much the same way that logging crews top especially tall trees.

An expert in this work—a by-product of the increasing use of portable drilling rigs—is H. R. Reed of Huntington Beach. Reed pulls over about 100 derricks a year and figures he's going to be in business for a long time.

"Next year is the deadline for all wooden derricks to be pulled out of Long Beach," he says. "That should keep us hopping for a while."

Reed and his crew of two have to hop fast at times.

"Many of the derricks are rotted out," he says, "and as we start to pull them over one leg or the other is apt to break too soon, making the derrick twist instead of falling in a straight line."

There are other dangers.

Derricks are pulled over by a steel cable running from the top of the tower to a winch on Reed's truck. The man running the winch is in the direct line of fall.

"I've had timbers stick smack through the windshield of the truck," Reed recalls.

So far, he's not been hurt this way. His only major injury was suffered in a fall when a rotten timber on a derrick platform gave way. He spent 11 months in the hospital recovering from that one.

Why does he keep on doing it?

The answer to that one is easy—$350 per derrick.

PHONE BOOK TO FEATURE CIVIC CENTER

Marin's new telephone directory, due for distribution next April, will carry a front cover depicting the new civic center and fairgrounds at Santa Venetia.

The board of supervisors today approved a drawing of the cover submitted by Lloyd Marshall, district manager of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. Supervisor William D. Fusselman voted no "to be consistent." He has opposed the civic center development.

The drawing on the phone book, of which there will be 75,000 distributed, looks at the site from above Puerto Suello Hill. It shows the main buildings and the auditorium in the foreground, the fairgrounds and other developments in the distance.

Tam High Dance Set

La Nuit de Noel, this year's Tamalpais High School Girls' League dance, will be presented in Ruby Scott auditorium tomorrow evening starting at 9 o'clock. The Art Club, under president Pencho Dimitroff, is doing the decorations in "night before Christmas" style.

The Maine Sardine Council claims that if all the sardines canned in Maine during as ingle year were lined up tail to tail, the "procession would stretch 10,000 miles.

Guide Dogs Gets $140,000 Bequest

Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., of San Rafael will become $140,000 richer through the will of the widow of a Dupont executive.

The will of Mrs. Edna Temperance Grubb of Oakland, widow of Reginald Grubb, executive of E. I. Dupont de Nemours and Co., was filed yesterday in Alameda County Superior Court. The will left $2,783, 183 to 14 charitable organizations, including the $140,000 to Guide Dogs, plus $70,000 to 11 relatives. The total of charitable bequests was one of the largest ever recorded in Alameda County, court attaches said.

Mrs. Grubb took her own life on Sept. 10. She was 69.

Marin Youths Suspected In Car Theft Ring

Breakup of a car theft ring involving Marin County youths, suspected of driving a stolen Thunderbird into Mexico to obliterate identification, was reported by sheriff's deputies today.

Two youths from Marin and a garage man from San Francisco were being held for further questioning by San Francisco police. Other suspects were being sought.

WOODACRE SUSPECT

One suspect is Leslie Martin Booth Jr., 20, of Rock Ridge and Madrone, Woodacre, where a cut-up Thunderbird was found by Sheriff's Deputies Kenneth Irving and William Christensen last week. Booth was not there when deputies called. Relatives said the youth had gone to Mexico.

San Francisco police joined the investigation because a red 1955 Thunderbird had been stolen from Jack A. Baker of San Francisco last Nov. 8. The Federal Bureau of Investigation also joined the case because it involved the possible transportation of a stolen car over state lines.

CLAIMED PURCHASE

On Monday, when Booth returned from Mexico, investigators questioned him. Booth maintained he had bought the car from a friend known only as "Little Bill" at a drive-in in San Rafael. Deputies said Booth finally admitted he knew some of the men who were taking stolen items to his home in Woodacre.

Tillman and Phillip Sheridan of 59 Almenar drive, Greenbrae, were arrested by San Francisco police Tuesday. Others, including a San Anselmo youth, are also suspected of being members of the ring.

Marinite Steps Down From Chairmanship

Alfred J. Jacobs of San Anselmo, assistant transfer agent with Standard Oil Co. of California, has been succeeded as chairman of the San Francisco Stock Transfer Assn. by William W. Bertram of San Francisco, trust officer with the Bank of America.

Other officers for 1959, installed yesterday at the group's annual dinner meeting in San Francisco, are Leland S. Bright of San Carlos, vice chairman, and Merle Kimberling of San Francisco, secretary-treasurer.

Hub Trustees Retain DePue, Two Assistants

Four trustees of the San Anselmo School District last night unanimously re-elected Supt. Harold R. DePue and Asst. Supts. James R. Jordan and Gladys K. Zumwalt to continue during the 1959-60 fiscal year.

The San Anselmo trustees earlier voted that the next fiscal year would be their last in a 40-year confederation with Fairfax and Kentfield school districts.

Salaries of the three superintendents will be discussed when teachers' salaries are considered next spring.

TO VISIT SCHOOLS

DePue reported that Dr. Bernard Lonsdale, a consultant of the state Department of Education, would visit San Anselmo schools Jan. 14 and 15. San Anselmo is one of the school districts to be included in a state-wide study of seventh and eighth grade curriculum.

Robert Johnston and Val Travaglini, teachers at Hidden Valley School, reported high interest among youngsters in four classes who are following television courses on KQED, especially among those watching conversational Spanish. The one-school project is underwritten financially by the Hidden Valley Parents Club.

ATTEND MEETING

Three members of a Sleepy Hollow committee looking into a rapid learner program attended last night's board meeting: Mrs. Lyman McBride, Mrs. Leonard Ward and Mrs. Eugene Hammond. The group of about a dozen members has held an organizational meeting and has at least a six-month study before it, estimated DePue.

Mrs. Zumwalt reported successful completion of a six-meeting series at Brookside School on teaching grammar, punctuation and reading.

The San Anselmo trustees received a resolution of the Marin County Labor Council saying the school district should not restrict teachers from getting outside jobs. No action was needed since San Anselmo District has no such restriction.

In executive session, the board heard reports on a truant boy who has not been to school since Dec. 1. No action was taken by the board, DePue reported.

2 Die In Refrigerator

NATIONAL CITY (UPI)—An unused refrigerator in the garage of their home has claimed the lives of Michael Garcia, 5, and his brother, Mark Anthony, 4.

Police said the children apparently locked themselves in the refrigerator yesterday while playing late in the afternoon. Searchers found them last night. They had suffocated, police said.

WHAT'S THIS? A HEFFALUMP?

Brian Reid of Macon, Ga., was walking home from work the other day when he spied this creature. It looked rather like the heffalump in "Winnie the Pooh." Reid tried to get the jar off with soap and grease, but finally had to break it. The creature turned out to be a mongrel pup who apparently got into the predicament while hunting for food. Brown Names Dalsimer To State Post

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov.-elect Edmund G. Brown today appointed Vincent S. Dalsimer, Bellflower attorney and lifelong Democrat, to the $15,000-a-year post of director of the state Department of Professional and Vocational Standards.

Dalsimer, 37, is vice mayor of Bellflower who served briefly as a deputy attorney general under Brown in 1951. He was 23rd Congressional District chairman for the Brown-for-governor campaign last fall and in 1949 was state treasurer of the Young Democrats.

Dalsimer will succeed H. Jack Hanna as head of the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards, an agency which regulates contractors, doctors, phamacists and other professions and the state Athletic Commission.

Construction of the Leaning Tower of Pisa began in 1174.

Fire Kills 6 In Family

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—A family of six sleeping in two beds in a three-room frame house burned to death early today.

The victims were Elmer Littlejohn, 29; his wife, Betty, 25; and their four children, Gary, 7; Gail, 5; Dorothy, 3, and a 5-week-old son, Dale Ray.

Deputy sheriffs said that an oil cooking stove probably set fire to the house.

The bodies were found either in or near the beds, indicating that the flames had spread so quickly none had a chance to escape. The fire broke out about 5 a.m.

Pardon My Error

DERBY, England (UPI)—Police Sgt. Joseph Shorthouse blushed and took a second oath in court yesterday, after first reciting: "I swear to tell the truth, the whole truth and anything but the truth."

EIGHTY YEARS TOGETHER — Mr. and Mrs. Peter Peterson of Fairview, Utah, who observed their 80th wedding anniversary today, still get a kick out of an old-fashioned stereoscopic viewer. (AP Wirephoto)

Utah Pair Starts 81st Year Of Married Life

FAIRVIEW, Utah (AP) — All the days of their married life have started with a prayer, and today—their 80th wedding anniversary—was no exception for Peter and Celestia Peterson.

He is 98 and she is 97.

This central Utah town honored the couple with a testimonial dinner last night. A tape recording was made and will be played to them today because they couldn't make it to the dinner. Both are hard of hearing.

Mayor Otis Nielsen and Apostle LeGrand Richards of the Latter-day Saints (Mormon) Church called their lives and marriage a shining example of love and devotion.

They were married Dec. 11, 1878, in St. George, Utah, 250 miles southwest of here.

"My wedding dress had ribbons on it, but Peter took them off," recalls the silver-haired Mrs. Peterson. "He said, 'You're pretty enough without those.'"

Peterson, then a strapping 18-year-old farmer, had driven a wagon load of grain eight days to get to St. George from here. The grain was sold to pay for their wedding journey, another eight-day trip by horse-drawn wagon through rugged mountainous country only recently cleared of hostile Indians.

Peterson credits their longevity to plain living and the fact that neither he nor his wife ever smoked or drank.

"We have always lived congenially," he said.

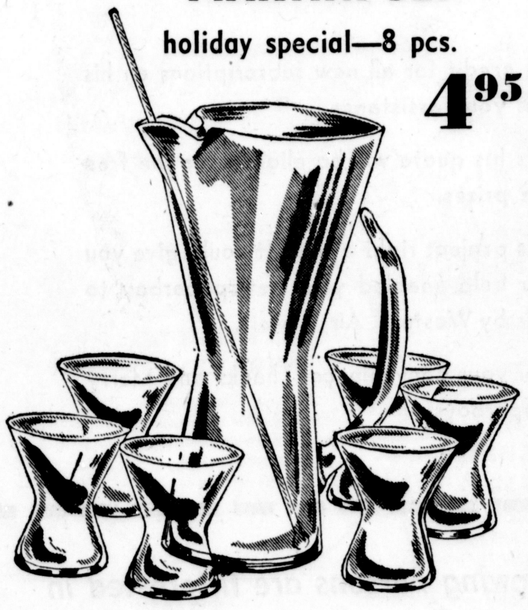

They have 253 blood descendants. Adding those related by marriage, the family tree numbers 326.

"I gave birth to 10 sons and daughters and only had a doctor for one of them," says Mrs. Peterson. Seven of the 10 survive and are among those honoring their parents today.

New Plan Studied For Hall, Hospital

Marin County, unsuccessful in obtaining voter approval of a bond issue for a juvenile hall and hospital in Lucas Valley, is exploring the possibility of obtaining the facilities through a lease-purchase arrangement.

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen told the board of supervisors Tuesday that he has written letters to seven firms, including insurance companies, asking for proposals for private construction of the Lucas Valley buildings, to be acquired by the county through lease-purchase.

Jensen noted that there is little information available on experience of other California counties in the lease-purchase field. Only Los Angeles has entered such an arrangement, and he has not yet obtained adequate information about that transaction, Jensen said.

The administrator noted, too, that there may be too much delay in a lease-purchase arrangement, even if a favorable proposal is received.

He has been informed, he said, that lending institutions may require a court decision, in a "friendly suit," approving such a deal, before they will go into it. If so, the time required for litigation would probably be so long as to rule out this type of financing for Marin, Jensen said.

Prefab Homes Office Approved

The Corte Madera Planning Commission has approved site plans for a prefabricated homes sales office and storage yard on Paradise drive northeast of the Highway 101 interchange.

Pacific Modulars Corp. plans a landscaped, prefabricated model home at the site. The model also will serve as office. A materials storage yard will be at the rear.

The National Park Service reports that more than 20 million people each year visit the historic sites under its administration.

Dixie Board Accepts Bid On New School

Trustees of the Dixie School District last night accepted the low bid for construction of the proposed Lucas Valley Elementary School and approved preliminary plans for a seventh and eighth grade school in Terra Linda.

W. J. Kubon of San Rafael was successful bidder with a base bid of $151,623, plus utility and site work bid of $27,239.

The school will be located in the center of the new Lucas Valley Homes tract near Marinwood.

Construction of the first eight-classroom unit on the 10-acre site is expected to begin early next month, said Supt. Dennis B. Willis.

TEMPORARY NAME

In approving preliminary plans for another seventh and eighth grade school, the trustees also decided to give it the "tentative temporary" name of Dixie Intermediate School. Further board iscussion is expected to be given for choice of a permanent name. This school will be located on an extension of Las Gallinas avenue, south of Freitas parkway in Terra Linda. Construction is expected to begin sometime in 1960.

The board agreed to joint action with the San Rafael School District to transfer portions of the Dixie district at the top of the ridge north of San Rafael into the San Rafael district.

NO HOMES YET

No homes have been constructed in the area, which lies west of Rafael Highlands.

The board voted to operate a summer school program next year and to study "point by point" the report of the Marin County Grand Jury on the county's schools

The board also authorized an agreement with the Terra Linda Corp. to lease the Terra Linda Community Building for one year for use as four classrooms.

Resignation for health reasons was accepted from Mrs. Katharine Strauss, seventh and eighth grade teacher.

The board voted to cancel its next regular meeting, scheduled Dec. 24.

rary books. Selection of the $100 worth of books was "tops," said Frye.

The trustees adopted a policy on use of the school building by outside groups specifying that the time requested shall not interfere with the regular school program and adequate advance notice must be given. They approved a request to use the school by the Woodacre Improvement Club, recently burned out of its clubhouse.

The board also decided that starting next July it would sign contracts with its school custodian and bus driver instead of simply hiring them without any written contract.

RUSS THREATEN TO QUIT BERLIN UNILATERALLY

LONDON (AP) — Russia tonight accused the Western Powers of avoiding a business-like settlement of the Berlin crisis and threatened to end its partial occupation of the divided city unilaterally.

"If the governments of the United States, Britain and France do not wish to cooperate with the Soviet Union in solving this problem, nothing remains for the Soviet government but to relieve itself of the functions connected with maintaining the occupation regime in Berlin," Moscow Radio said.

The radio, broadcasting a summary of Tass statement on the former German capital, added "a corresponding agreement" 'would be concluded with the East German government.

Two weeks ago, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev proposed a demilitarized free city of Berlin.

One-Way Street Plan Favored

San Rafael's one-way street committee indicated today it would like to see one-way traffic installed, at least at the congested Irwin street underpass.

City Manager Dan E. Andersen said most of the committee members are in favor of a one-way traffic pattern, counter-clockwise, under the overpass, north on Irwin, west on Third, south on Lincoln and east on Francisco back to the underpass.

The committee will continue its discussion of one-way streets at another breakfast meeting at King Cotton next Thursday.

DEATH

7:10 a.m. yesterday, when Charles Laverne Smith, who lives on the Mar East road extension, discovered the blazing car and made an attempt to extricate the body. Smith was driven back by the flames. The Tiburon Fire Department arrived minutes later to extinguish the fire and remove the charred body.

Still unexplained was the "mystery voice" which Smith's wife reported she heard about 2:15 a.m. — nearly five hours before the fire.

Mrs. Smith said she heard a car at the end of Mar East. She heard one voice, she said, which sounded like someone giving directions.

Investigators yesterday hazarded that Shouse's car might have stalled in the soft, grassy bank of the deadend road when he attempted to turn it around.

Mrs. Grace Sine of Napa, the dead man's sister, said it was not unusual for Shouse to sleep in his car.

A retired Mare Island Navy Yard truck driver, Shouse lived on his $130 monthly retirement pay. He had a recent physical checkup, which showed evidence of senility but no ailment, his sister reported. She said he did not drink and smoked only cigars.

Shouse's father, Thomas, had a drayage business in Solano County. An uncle was one of the first Vallejo town constables. An aunt is the wife of Judge Harlow V. Greenwood of Solano County Superior Court.

Mrs. Sine is the only immediate survivor.

Private funeral services are to be held for the victim at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Russell and Gooch chapel in Mill Valley.

through every other earthquake shock "but this one woke me up—the first time."

Others reported being awakened by the quake, all the way from Belvedere and Sausalito to Novato and West Marin.

Worst damage appeared to be at University of California Hospital on Parnassus Heights in San Francisco, where the roof over the ambulance entrance cracked.

Some plaster cracked in Daly City and dishes fell from shelves there, United Press International reported.

Residents of Westlake in Daly City, which suffered the heaviest damage in March, 1957, said the quake was preceded by a "loud explosion."

Bottles were knocked off shelves in two South San Francisco liquor stores. The quake started several small slides on Highway 1 on the coast of San Mateo County.

On the sixth floor of the News Building in San Francisco, where the United Press International bureau is located, lights swayed back and forth for at least a minute. Staff members on duty reported it felt as though the floor were giving away beneath their feet.

The commissioners accepted with regret the resignation of Commissioner Fred H. Fidler, who said he would be unable to continued in the post due to prolonged absences from the city. The city council is expected to name a replacement at its next meeting.

Bussing On Bus Ruled Assault

A 64-year-old janitor-night watchman at the Indian Valley Golf Club committed assault on a 17-year-old girl by kissing her on a bus last month, Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court ruled today.

Jack Otto Walters, the defendant, will be sentenced for assault and disturbing the peace next Monday at 4 p.m. He was found guilty of committing the offense against Jean Hedwig Thorman, 17, of 1117 Fourth street, Novato, on the evening of Nov. 19.

The trial this morning was disrupted in the midst of Jean's testimony when the girl broke down in tears. She said Walters sat next to her on the bus, put his arms around her and kissed her against her will. She said she pleaded with him to leave her alone, but he persisted.

Deputy Dist. Atty. P. Roy Vallarino prosecuted the case. Walters was defended by Lawrence Wright.

IT'S COLD IN PITTSBURGH

Noting the temperature in Pittsburgh at three below yesterday, Associated Press photographer Walter Stein wondered if it was cold enough to freeze water pouring from a teakettle. He plucked an icicle from his roof, planted it in his yard and had his wife pour water over it. Sure enough, it was cold enough in Pittsburgh yesterday to freeze water from a teakettle. New Dining Room Opens Tomorrow

A new dining room, temporarily named the Tahitian Room, will be opened at 5 p.m. tomorrow in the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael, according to owner Irving (Whitey) Litchfield.

Litchfield said the new room will be opened "without fanfare," but will have a grand opening at a later date. Later, too, it will receive a permanent name, to be selected through a contest.

Litchfield said he received more than 9,000 name suggestions for the motel in a contest conducted when the establishment was built. He said he expects a similar amount of interest in a contest to name the dining room.

The Tahitian Room will seat about 350 persons, he said. It will be located in a newly built wing overlooking the swimming pool.

Alfred Cawest, a widely experienced hotel chef, will be in charge of the kitchen. "The Four Twerps" of San Francisco will provide music tomorrow night.

RANCHER CAN'T AFFORD TO 'DONATE' TREES

Christmas may be a time for giving, but Lucas Valley rancher Pat H. Munkres complained to the sheriff he cannot afford to let pilferers jump his fence and cut fir trees at random.

That's what is happening almost every day, especially on Sundays, reported Munkres, rancher on Lucas Valley road, about three miles east of Nicasio road.

Both Munkres and sheriff's patrols will be watching to nab the Christmas tree thieves.

Ross Council May Name Treasurer

Mrs. Phyllis Martin will be proposed this evening to the Ross Town Council to fill the unexpired term as town treasurer and tax collector of her late husband, Kenneth C. Martin.

The post will be filled again by election in April, 1960. The treasurer's salary is $760 a year.

Also on the agenda of the Ross council meeting at 8 p. m. will be:

1. A resolution to ask the county to collect Ross taxes next year;

2. A tentative map of a five-acre, five-lot subdivision on property formally owned by the late Mrs. Bertha E. Pillsbury on Laurel Grove avenue. A large house on the property is unoccupied. The subdivider is Sylvan Development Co., whose president is David G. Cohn of Sylan lane, Ross.

More than half the population of the British, French and Dutch Guianas is from Asia.

DAMAGE MOUNTS

Still More Snow Hits Storm-Stricken City

OSWEGO, N.Y. (AP) — Hope gave way to renewed gloom today in this blizzard-stricken city as residents awoke to new snow and a forecast of more.

Another four inches had fallen overnight, raising to about six and one-half feet the thick white blanket that has broken roofs, buildings and business, and almost broken spirit here in the last five days.

Two local building contractors estimated that damage has reached $500,000 and probably would go higher.

The battle to repair damage and prevent more resumed today in zero temperatures, with drifts more than 20 feet high.

Three families were reported evacuated from their homes during the night because of collapsing roofs.

So far, no injuries have been reported.

Most roads in the area had been opened and food supplies were considered adequate.

A contractor's warehouse and an oil company building collapsed yesterday, and roofs of at least three other business places gave way.

Householders cleared snow from rooftops when cracks appeared in the walls of many dwellings.

There was some sunshine yesterday and the heavy snows tapered off.

Schools were expected to reopen tomorrow. Industries recalled workers.

Equipment loaned by Rochester during the most severe storms earlier in the week was recalled. Additional plows have been loaned to Oswego by Camp Drum at Watertown. The Civil Aeronautics Administration authorized its offices at Buffalo and Rochester to send snow tractors.

The Andes mountains, stretching the length of South America's west coast, are the world's second greatest mountain range.

No Break Expected In State's Dry Spell

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The autumn dry spell has taken a firmer grip on California. And still no rain is in sight.

Today's forecast was for fair and warmer weather through tomorrow with clear skies and gentle winds.

The five-day forecast, through next Monday, said it was possible there might be a little rain late in the period in the extreme north but none elsewhere.

As of today in San Francisco the drought exceeded the record dry autumn of 1929 in duration. And the 1929 record was surpassed only by one during the Gold Rush days.

San Francisco has had only .30 of an inch of rain since the Weather Bureau season started July 1. Normal to date is 4.58 inches, and at this date in 1957 the city had received 6.55 inches.

The same thing holds true in virtually all of California.

Here are some figures. The first is rainfall since July 1, the second normal to date, the third seasonal to date in 1957:

Eureka 5.87, 9.83, 12.33; Red Bluff 1.29, 5.34, 8.26; Sacramento .49, 2.23, 2.83; Hamilton Field .07, 5.32, 7.25; Oakland Airport, .39, 2.84, 4.29; Stockton .17, 2.82, 2.78; Fresno .70, 1.84, 2.05; Santa Maria 1.83, 2.28, 3.91; Los Angeles .50, 2.47, 2.74; San Diego 1.06, 2.17, 3.57.

Forecaster W. J. Denney explained that vast areas of high barometric off the California coast are shunting ocean storms far to the north of California.

To California farmers, the drought has proved to be a mixed blessing. On one hand, it has enabled farmers to harvest such crops as cotton, citrus, avocados, dates and olives, and to plow and sow for next spring's crops.

On the other hand, cattlemen have been buying feed to make up for a lack of range grasses and citrus and vegetable growers have had to irrigate. Rain is needed soon for wheat, oats and barley seeded in dust in anticipation of moisture.

Agricultural experts said the situation is not yet serious, but they said rain had better come before much longer.

Christmas Cage Tourney Deadline Set For Dec. 18

The roster deadline for the San Rafael Recreation and Park Department's Christmas Basketball Tournament is Dec. 18 and all teams wishing to enter the tournament must have their entry blanks in by that date.

The program will be held Dec. 26, 27 and 29 in four age divisions: 12 and under, 14 and under, 16 and under and 18 and under.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will co-sponsor the tournament by providing awards and officials for the games.

Finland Still In Crisis

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)— President Urho Kekkonen was expected to ask the Agrarian party today to form a coalition government to end Finland's week-old cabinet crisis.

A government headed by the Agrarians and excluding the rightwing parties presumably would be acceptable to the Soviet Union. Moscow brought down the last government by stopping trade because Conservatives dominated it and the Communists were left out.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—San Francisco is still in the running as site of the 1960 Democratic convention, according to Mayor George Christopher.

He told the Democratic National Committee last week that the city would guarantee $300,000 if the Democrats would convene here.

The mayor said yesterday he will present a similar offer to the Republicans when the GOP National Committee convenes next month.

Officials of the two parties have indicated that they would like to hold their conventions in the same city to cut convention and broadcast expenses.

Ex-Child Star Accused

PORTERVILLE (UPI)—Carl D. Switzer, 32, of Los Angeles, one-time child movie star, will be arraigned tomorrow in Porterville Justice Court on charges of illegally cutting Chrismas trees.

Switzer played the part of 'Alfalfa' in Our Gang comedy films in the 1930s.

The charges were filed against Switzer by Sequoia National Forest Ranger George Tourtillot. The ranger said Switzer cut 15 trees Nov. 29 on Poso Creek near Sugar Loaf Lodge without obtaining a Forest Service permit.

State High Court Upholds Carter's Stay For Kidnaper

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Supreme Court yesterday approved the action last week of Justice Jesse W. Carter of Sleepy Hollow in granting an 11th-hour stay of the scheduled execution of Edward S. Wein, 35, Los Angeles rapist-kidnapper.

Carter granted the stay to permit an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court even though Carter's own tribunal had, as a group, twice before refused Wein a delay.

Deputy State Atty. Gen. Arlow Smith asked the state court to set aside Carter's stay on grounds that he had no legal right to hold up the execution slated for last Friday. The high court upheld Carter yesterday simply by denying Smith's motion without comment.

Carter had granted the stay upon the plea of Russell E. Parsons, Beverly Hills attorney, that there were new arguments and facts in the case on which the U.S. Supreme Court should be permitted to rule.

Wein, who faces five death sentences, was sentenced on 22 counts of kidnapping, rape, sex perversion and robbery by a Los Angeles jury in May, 1957.

Mill Valley Commuter Club Elects Officers

George Wickham, Mill Valley consulting engineer, was named president of the Mill Valley Commuters Club for 1959 in a special meeting at the Mill Valley City Hall Tuesday evening. He succeeds Stephen C. Cook.

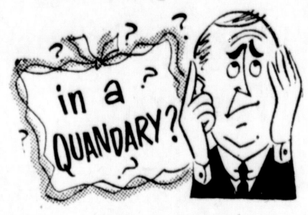

Edward J. Boessenecker was elected vice president and Alberta Nagel was re-elected secretary. Cook was named treasurer.

In addition to the four officers, four new members were added to the board of directors. They are Lawrence W. Jordan Jr., A. P. O'Neill, C. Harvey Mielenz and Stewart G. Wilson, Re-elected to the board were Peter Rhodes, A. H. Caldwell Jr., Joseph W. Taylor and Mrs. Muriel Pearce.

Retiring president Cook announced that as plans for the rapid transit district progress, the club will act as a clearing house for questions on it.

Reviewing the club's activities during the past year, Cook pointed to the erection of a new bus shelter at Miller avenue and Reed, the club's annual potluck supper and the Supreme Court decision against separation of Pacific Greyhound's commute operations which Cook noted had been opposed by the club.

Club directors have scheduled meetings in the Mill Valley City Hall on the third Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m.

REUNITED AFTER 47 YEARS

These three sisters, reunited in Seattle after separation of 47 years, say their objective now is to find three long-lost brothers. The sisters (from left) are Mrs. William J. Lozott, Seattle; Mrs. R. M. Parks, Anaheim, and Mrs. R. K. Seely, Coulee Dam, Wash. Mrs. Lozott said the sisters and three brothers, children of John and Lena Nelson, were separated in 1911 after being placed for adoption in Seattle. (AP Wirephoto)

Bridges Beats Nevada Law, Gets Married

RENO (AP) — "We got married," said Harry Bridges. And that seemed to cap the hectic two days in which he went to court and successfully challenged Nevada's 94-year-old statute banning marriage between Orientals and Caucasians.

The 58-year-old West Coast Longshore leader and 35-year-old Noriko Sawada, a Nisei, were honeymooning today after convincing a Nevada district judge that the statute is unconstitutional. It was patterned after a California law dating back to the gold rush days. The California law was declared unconstitutional in 1948.

Said Judge Taylor Wines, "Marriage isn't a privilege. It is a right of a free and equal individual." And he ordered the county clerk to issue a license.

"To my wife, who had a rough go getting here," said Bridges after a private marriage ceremony performed by Justice William Beemer. It was a champagne toast.

Their romantic trip came to an abrupt and embarrassing interlude Tuesday when they learned of the old Nevada statute.

Three times Bridges and Miss Sawada were denied a marriage license. After the second turndown the Australian-born labor leader announced he would fight the law. Then he went to the hotel where he had registered himself and Miss Sawada as "Mr. and Mrs. H. Bridges" and reregistered his fiancee under her maiden name.

Newsmen and photographers were barred from Justice Beemer's chambers.

Bridges, harried on this elopment to his third marriage, told the cameramen: "No, this is private. It's my marriage and my last one, I might add, because I'd never live through another like that."

He emerged smiling, lipstick-smeared and congenial, and poured champagne while photographers took pictures.

Their honeymoon plans were a secret. But Bridges let it be known they'll go abroad, especially to the Orient.

Morse Blames Solon's Illness For Feud

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Wayne Morse suggested last night that the cancer suffered by his colleague, Sen. Richard L. Neuberger, accounts—at least in part—for the souring of their close personal friendship.

"It is my judgment that his illness explains psychologically, even more than he may know, his conduct towards me," Morse said in a statement commenting on a Newsweek report on the feud between the two Oregon Democrats.

Morse said he was happy to hear that Neuberger is on his way to "full recovery" from an operation for the removal of a malignant growth.

"Although Senator Neuberger and I have suffered great damage to our mutual friendship, it is my hope that the therapeutic values of the passage of time will restore at least some of our former respect for each other," Morse said.

The split began to take shape in 1957 when the two senators, who were once called the "Morseburger" because of the similarity of their views, took opposite sides on the administration's civil rights bill.

Neuberger voted for the bill. Morse opposed it as futile.

The two senators also differed on a bill to raise postal rates, with Neuberger supporting the administration's request and Morse opposing it. During the debate, Morse called a Neuberger argument the "most absurd" he ever had heard in the Senate.

The feud reached a climax when Morse blocked Senate passage of a Neuberger bill involving the city of Roseburg, Ore.

Dulles—A Lilliputian?

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda today likened U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to a Lilliputian statesman.

The article in the Soviet Communist Party newspaper said Dulles talks more than the tiny speaker in Swift's satire "but his outlook hardly surpasses the dimensions of the Lilliputian statesman."

Only one thing emerges clearly "from the anti-Communist shell in which Dulles wraps all his speches—fear before the gigantic successes of the Soviet Union, Communist China and other people's democracies," the article said.

Restoration Of Playground Set

Restoring a weed-grown playground off Via Sombras in Greenbrae was main topic of a meeting this week of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. at the home of its chairman, Dr. Ted F. Pett.

Dr. Pett said estimates are to be obtained before the January meeting on costs of hiring a gardener to maintain the park and of repaving portions of the basketball court.

Dr. Pett said the group also decided that window decorations will be eligible this year in Christmas decorations contest sponsored by the association. More than $200 in prizes will be awarded. Next meeting will be Jan. 12.

Marinite Admits Bank Holdup

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Robert F. Gladu, 53-year-old Marin County janitor, pleaded guilty in federal court yesterday to a charge of robbing the Bank of America in Calistoga.

Federal Judge Sherill Halbert set Dec. 29 for sentencing.

Unable to raise $5,000 bail, Gladu is held in the Sacramento county jail. The former janitor at the Marin County Farm was captured by the bank manager, Fred Piner, a few minutes after he had taken $750 from a bank teller.

TOP JOBS UP FOR SAN RAFAEL VOTE

Nearly Every Elective Post Will Be At Stake In Municipal Ballot Next April

By WAT TAKESHITA

San Rafael city officials are getting ready for next April's municipal election, in which almost every elective post in the city will be at stake.

The mayor's term expires every two years. Mayor John F. McInnis is expected to try for a repeat. Councilmen Charles W. Aby and Fred Jensen are also up for re-election. The mayor receives $100 per month and each councilman gets $50 per month.

Political observers are hinting that the two councilmen and the mayor may get some opposition this year.

But the biggest fight appears to be shaping up for the post of city attorney, now held by Albert E. Bagshaw. When Harold J. Haley, former city attorney, was appointed municipal court judge in 1956, Bagshaw was named to the post. As of now, Bagshaw intends to run.

Several other attorneys are being named as possible candidates. Foremost among them is Thomas P. Boyd, former member and chairman of the San Rafael Board of Education and now a member of the city recreation and park commission.

City Clerk-Assessor W. L. (Lynn) Morgan will be seeking his third term. Morgan was appointed in July, 1953, when Gene Smith died. He was elected in 1955.

Chief of Police Frank Kelly will be going for his fifth term. Elected in 1943, Kelly was re-elected in 1947, 1951 and 1955.

Tax Collector-Treasurer Angelina (Angie) Soldavini, who is filling out the term of retired C. C. Webb, is looking ahead for a full four-year term. Miss Soldavini has been with the city since 1928. The council appointed her to succeed Webb in June of last year.

Three posts on the San Rafael Board of Education are also expiring. They are held by Rex Silvernale, chairman of the board, C. Paul Bettini and Roderick P. Martinelli, who was appointed this year to fill the unexpired term of Boyd, who resigned.

Election day is the second Monday in April, or April 13.

Merit Plan Set For Cheer Leaders

Tamalpais High School students have decided to elect their cheer leaders strictly on a basis of merit, rather than by popular vote as in the past.

The plan calls for a "clinic" for those aspiring to become cheer leaders, where they would learn how to make their job as effective as possible.

After a designated time, those in charge of the clinic would elect not less than three nor more than six to run for the office of head leader.

Runnersup in the election would become assistant cheer leaders.

'I DON'T EXPECT TO CHANGE'

Ex-Glass Blower Inherits $1 Million

FRESNO (AP) — Charles C. Binkley, 73, woke up today with a cold, a headache and a million dollars.

How does it feel?

"Not much different, son," replied the twinkle-eyed grey-haired little man. "I haven't seen the money yet."

UNKNOWN BENEFACTOR

A Superior Court jury deliberated 3½ hours yesterday and then awarded Binkley half of a fortune left by a half-sister he never met—or had ever heard of before about three years ago.

Mrs. Cora Nidever died in 1955 at the age of 85. She left an estate of $3,126,488 but no will was ever found.

Binkley, a retired glass blower from Montpelier, Ind., first heard of Mrs. Nidever when he was shown a clipping in an Indiana newspaper.

'LITTLE INVESTIGATION'

He began what he calls a "little investigation" that included a check of Civil War pension files.

Then he announced his father, a Union Army veteran named Joseph Binkley, had been the father of Mrs. Nidever. He said his father married Anna Miller Lewis in Indiana in 1880 after leaving Mrs. Nidever's mother Hester Binkley in Ohio in 1878.

Eight nieces and nephews of Mrs. Nidever contested Binkley's claim but the jury was unanimous in determining his right to half the fortune.

STILL SILENT

Noncommittal before the judgment was announced, Binkley was still silent about his fiscal plans today.

"I've lived in the same house in Montpelier for years," he said, "and there's no reason to move now.

"I don't need any clothes. I really don't have any plans. I don't expect to change my mode of living."

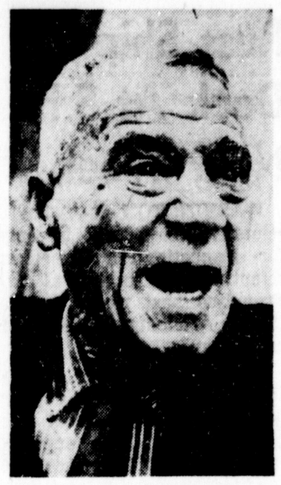

He has a daughter, Mrs. Glenoma Saunders, and five grandchildren in Weiser, Idaho.

His biggest interest is his horse, a 7-year-old pacer named Grand Ripple Mite. He races the horse at Indiana county fairs.

There have been plenty of suggestions on how he might spend the money. "I've had 50 or 60 offers already. Everything from business opportunities to proposals of marriage."

He chuckled.

"None of that foolishness for me," he said.

Seven N.Y. Newspapers Suspend Publication

NEW YORK (UPI)—Seven of nine major New York City newspapers hit by a strike of deliverymen suspended publication today.

An eighth paper, the News, a morning paper, was unable to publish when printers refused to cross a picket line.

The ninth paper, the Mirror, which published this morning, had not announced whether it would go to press tomorrow.

The suspensions were the latest development in the two-day strike of newspaper deliverers which cut off deliveries of the newspapers in the metropolitan area. All of the papers published yesterday, with sales restricted to the newspaper offices.

The papers which suspended publication were, in order, the Post, the Herald-Tribune, the Times, the World-Telegram and Sun, the Long Island Star-Journal, the Long Island Daily Press and the Journal American.

The other morning papers, the Mirror, Times and Herald-Tribune, published a limited number of editions for sale at their offices.

Radio and television stations and out-of-town newspapers—even a restaurant and a railroad—tried to fill the news void, but their efforts fell far short of satisfying the news thirst of New York City's five million readers.

New Chief Of Information At Hamilton

Maj. Phillip Coady, a command pilot, has been assigned to head the office of information services at Hamilton Air Force Base, it was announced today.

Major Coady has been base disaster control officer and acting executive officer, as well as director of operations of the 78th Air Base Group. He has been transferred to the 78th Fighter wing, which operates the information office.

Major Coady is a former commander of the 61st Fighter Intercepter Squadron.

Lt. Jack Crawford, who formerly held the information office post, and Lt. Louis Baldacci will continue serving in the office.

PHENIX CITY SLAYING

Convict Admits Murdering Alabama Vice Crusader

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A Virginia convict has confessed to the 1954 slaying of vice crusader Albert Patterson, Gov. James E. Folsom's office said yesterday.

"There appears to be a degree of truthfulness" in the signed statement of Calvin W. Pruitt, 28, who said he shot the attorney general-elect in a robbery attempt while a debt-ridden soldier stationed at Ft. Benning, the governor said.

Folsom said he asked Atty. Gen. John Patterson to join in an investigation of the confession concerning the murder outside his father's Phenix City law office the night of June 18, 1954.

The Patterson City vice cleanup which he had promised in winning the Democratic nomination for attorney general shortly before.

John Patterson was sent into the attorney general's office in his father's place and was elected governor this year. He takes office in January.

He was unavailable for comment.

Pruitt, a native of Hayeville, Ala., is serving Virginia sentences of 30 and 20 years. He was convicted last May of robbing two service stations.

Brush With Law Almost Costs Boy Inheritance

BLACKPOOL, England (AP)—A 15-year-old British boy will inherit $42,000 in 1991 if he hasn't spent two years in jail for larceny. He appeared in juvenile court yesterday—on a larceny charge.

The boy pleaded guilty to stealing a camera and a raincoat. The charge normally would result in sentencing to a juvenile detention center—not jail.

The boy's attorney said that would still leave him eligible for the inheritance.

The money was left by an eccentric seaside postcard seller. When he died in 1951, he said his adopted son could have the money when he became 48. But two or more years in jail for larcency would bar the boy from ever getting the money, the will stipulated.

Sentencing was postponed for two weeks to await a medical report. The youth's name was withheld.

County Gets Title To Marin City

Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority, has delivered a check for $78,671.50 to the Public Housing Administration in San Francisco, which "gives the authority title and clears the mortgage on the 32-acre parcel of property which will be the site of the 300-family low-rent housing project."

Klahn said 16 contractors are figuring on the huge construction project. Bids are to be opened next Wednesday.

VICTIMS OF BLAST — Bodies of persons killed in yesterday's bombing of the Fountain of the World cult center at Chatsworth lie beneath rubber sheets beside the demolished building. Nine persons, possibly 10, were killed in the blast, including the cult's leader and the two men who apparently rigged the bomb in a murder-suicide plot. (AP Wirephoto)

Public Worker Drive Planned By Teamsters

MIAMI BEACH, Fla (AP)—The Teamsters Union will start an organization drive early next year among the nation's 10 million city, county and state employees.

"I believe all Americans have the right to representation," Teamsters president James Hoffa told the union's directors yesterday.

"We believe that if the AFL-CIO is so lax in its responsibility to organize the unorganized in this field who are seeking organization we should extend our help to assist them in getting better wages and working conditions."

The Teamsters were expelled by the AFL-CIO last year on corruption charges.

Hoffa would not estimate the length of the drive among government workers. He said there is "tremendous opposition from the politicians."

Henry Feinstein, president of New York's Teamster Local 237, said some 3,000 New York checkoff cards and one policeman will present a card to the police department next week as a test case.

Pair Angered At Cult's Leader Believed Bombers Of Its Center

CHATSWORTH, Los Angeles County (AP) — Tape recordings discovered near the dynamited wreckage of the Fountain of the World monastery point to two former cult members as the bombers, police say.

Nine persons, possibly 10, were killed in yesterday's earth-jarring explosion. The two dynamiters are believed to have shared the fate of their victims.

Detectives said the blast apparently was touched off by Ralph Muller, 33, and Peter Kamenoff, 42, both of Joshua Tree, San Bernardino County.

Tape recordings made by the pair the night before the dynamiting indicate they were angry at the leader of the cult, Krishna Venta, and wanted to "bring him to justice," officers said.

The tapes, an hourlong recital of grievances against Krishna and the cult, also were described as farewell messages and detectives believe the men deliberately blew themselves up.

Muller once confided to a friend that it was his ambition to depose Venta and set up a cult of his own to replace the Fountain of the World.

The suicidal nature of the bombing was underscored by the fact the triggering device had to be manually operated, presumably by one of the men who carried the dynamite into the building in a zippered bag.

Venta, a barefooted, self-styled mystic, five of his flock and two children were killed in the explosion. One and perhaps two other bodies have also been recovered.

The violent explosion and the fire that followed made identification nearly impossible.

Muller and Kamenoff were seen in an argument with Venta about an hour before the blast. Details of the quarrel were not known.

The tape recordings were found in Muller's pick-up truck, parked near the cult's 29-acre colony in Box Canyon, about 30 miles northwest of Los Angeles.

After listening to them, officers pieced together this story:

Muller and Kamenoff left their desert home in Joshua Tree—about 115 miles east of Los Angeles — picked up 20 sticks of dynamite and electric primers and drove to the cult area.

They registered at a motel in nearby Tarzana, set up their recorder and taped their last words.

"They said they wanted to bring Krishna Venta to what they termed justice," said Undersheriff B. B. Cummings of Ventura County.

"Whether they meant religious or otherwise, I wouldn't attempt to say.

"They said they were going to take care of their problems in their own way. What the problems were, we don't know.

"They don't say out and out they were going to commit suicide, but they bid their goodbys. One of them said: 'If we don't come back, people will understand.'"

Officers said Kamenoff blamed Venta for separating him from his wife and child by persuading her to stay in the cult's Homer, Alaska, colony. Kamenoff also left a written farewell note, said detectives.

Kamenoff and Muller apparently planned the bombing several weeks ago. A Joshua Tree neighbor said they came to him last month seeking information on the use of dynamite. They said they wanted to use it in mining.

Both men were construction workers. Kamenoff was a member of the cult from 1949 to 1957. Muller was a member off and on for several years.

Teamsters Told To Comply With Cleanup Orders

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. district court judge today ordered the Teamsters Union to comply with reform orders of court-appointed monitors. The union was barred from holding a scheduled new convention next March.

Judge F. Dickinson Letts upheld complaints of a two-man majority of the three monitors that the union under president James R. Hoffa had failed to comply in good faith with reform recommendations.

Judge Letts, noting that the monitors are officers of the court and subject to the court's supervision, said they have all powers reasonably necessary to bring about a cleanup of the union.

"The Teamsters are obliged to comply with such orders of recommendation (by the monitors) and in good faith cooperate with the monitors," he said.

Letts, an 83-year-old former Republican congressman from Iowa, rejected a contention that the role of the monitors is merely advisory.

Letts said in his 12-page memorandum opinion that the Teamsters, without the knowledge and consent or approval of the court-appointed monitors had issued a call for a convention in the early part of March, 1959.

Officers, Sergeant Given Promotions

Two young commissioned officers and a veteran sergeant, all from the Army's Nike site at Santa Venetia, were promoted this week in the office of Lt. Col. Thomas F. Bristol at Ft. Baker, commander of the 2nd Missile Battalion, 51st Artillery.

Promoted from second to first lieutenant were John P. Real of 310 Pinewood drive, San Rafael, and Samuel S. Sindoni of 45 Corrillo drive, San Rafael.

At the same ceremony, Sgt./1c George H. Powers of 445 Via Herbosa, Novato, was promoted to warrant officer. He first enlisted in 1940 with the Massachusetts National Guard.

Russ Ship To Dock At S.F. Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Soviet scientific vessel will be open for inspection by American scientists and others at San Francisco next week, the National Academy of Sciences said today.

The ship, the Vityza, will be the first to visit this country during the International Geophysical year. It is expected to dock at San Francisco next Wednesday for a brief halt in its studies of the ocean bottom.

The IGY committee is arranging for Americans to visit the vessel and for members of the Soviet scientific group to inspect research facilities in this country.

The vessel has been cruising recently in the eastern and northern Pacific, but has worked as far south as New Zealand.

Veterinarians Elect

Dr. W. T. Berner, San Rafael veterinarian, this week was elected treasurer of the Bay Counties Veterinary Medical Assn. Dr. Tom D. Harris Jr. was elected president.

Survey Finds Inequities In Veterans' Pensions

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A survey by the House Veterans Committee indicated today that thousands of veterans drawing non-service connected pensions on the basis of need actually enjoy, with their wives, either fair incomes or substantial holdings of stocks, bonds and cash.

One such "needy" veteran had, with his wife, a net worth of $62,096, including $53,296 in liquid assets, and an income of $3,348. He had drawn pension checks totaling about $5,400 and on the basis of mortality tables could expect to draw another $9,450. His military service totaled four months, all in the United States.

The survey showed, on the other hand, that many thousands of less fortunate veterans are supporting themselves meagerly in their old age with no income but their veterans' pensions of either $66.15 or $78.75 per month.

Veterans Committee Chairman Olin E. Teague (D-Tex.) proposed to correct both conditions, at least partially. He said legislation is being drafted to pare from the pension rolls some of those who don't need help and to increase payments for those who need it badly.

The White House has hinted it may sponsor legislation in the same field, as part of a drive to cut government spending. Teague's proposals, at least intially, probably would increase total outlays for veterans' pensions.

Pensions are not to be confused with compensation. Compensation is paid, as a matter of right, to veterans with disabilities incurred in military service. Pensions are for disability incurred in civil life and are payable only where the veteran passes a test of need.

No allegation was made that dishonest claims of need were made by the veteran, even in the most extreme cases turned up by the committee. The blame was fixed rather on faulty law and administration.

Fatal home accidents are estimated to have cost the nation 11 billion, 900 million dollars last year in addition to the human toll.

Lodge Declares Hungary Still Run By Terror

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge declared today that a reign of terror, carried out by Soviet agents, is continuing in full force in Hungary despite U.N. efforts.

He called on the 81-nation General Assembly to condemn the Soviet Union once more and to persist in trying to end the repressive measures.

NEW DEBATES

Lodge addressed the Assembly as it opened a new round of debate on the Hungarian problem which it took up first in an emergency session during the 1956 Hungarian uprising.

Lodge himself blasted the Soviet Union and the puppet Hungarian regime for the execution of former Premier Imre Nagy, Gen. Pal Maleter and other leaders of the uprising. He called their execution "murder in judicial disguise."

'SCOURGE OF TERROR'

"The Hungarian people must be relieved of that scourge of terror," Lodge declared. "Of all our aims with respect to Hungary, that is the most urgent."

Lodge formally submitted a 37-nation resolution calling on the Soviet Union and the Hungarian Red government to end repression in the battered satellite. The Assembly was expected to give the proposal overwhelming approval.

In 1841, Oberlin College in Ohio became the nation's first college to confer degrees on women.

Big 4 Meet On Berlin Looms

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Big Four foreign ministers conference next spring is being mentioned by many diplomats as a means of easing East-West tensions over Berlin.

Some officials are predicting, however, the three Western Allies will propose that such a meeting deal with the entire problem of Germany's future as well as Berlin.

American, British and French diplomats are reported giving increasing thought to the advantages of a new round of talks with the Russians. This prospect has been weighed carefully in considering a reply to Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demand that West Berlin be turned into a free city.

The feeling that such new talks would be desirable appears to be gaining ground among Western diplomats. But a decision is being delayed until after the 15-nation Atlantic Pact Council meeting which starts in Paris next Tuesday.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, now hospitalized by an intestinal ailment, is planning to attend the Paris conference, assuming he recovers in time. The State Department reported that Dulles is doing some work in his hospital suite in preparation for the meeting.

Allied authorities are in no hurry to rush an answer to Khrushchev's Berlin proposal.

The Atlantic Pact foreign ministers will discuss the reply generally, informants said, but will not seek to draft a reply. This conference would approve guide lines which diplomats would follow in drafting a formal note a few weeks later.

At this stage it is not decided whether the American-British-French answer to Khrushchev should propose the foreign ministers meeting. Some diplomats favor delaying this bid until later.

Those favoring it believe it would be a positive reply of the kind that is needed. It would be a mistake, they believe, merely to reiterate Western determination to stand firm in Berlin regardless of Soviet pressure.

Russian Steals Show At Nobel Prize Banquet

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A stocky, gray-haired Soviet physicist stole the show at last night's glittering banquet for 1958 Nobel Prize winners.

The King of Sweden and the rest of the royal family, the other six prize winners and 700 selected guests applauded warmly when Igor Tamm spoke in Swedish to express appreciation for the prize he and his two countrymen, P. A. Cherenkov and I. M. Frank, shared in physics.

After just two well-pronounced phrases, the audience in Stockholm's City Hall started clapping.

The smiling Tamm, who has become immensely popular with the citizens of Stockholm in his few days here, waved his hands to quiet the applause and started his speech all over again. Then the scientist from the proletarian Soviet Union greeted the Swedish King and Queen in their own language with traditional, elaborate phrases.

He repeated his speech in English, praising fellow winners and expressing hope that "the spirit of friendly international cooperation of scientists all over the world will lead to peaceful cooperation in other fields between all nations."

Others honored at the banquet were British chemistry winner Frederick Sanger, and the three Americans who shared the prize in medicine and physiology: Joshua Lederberg of the University of Wisconsin, Edward L. Tatum of New York's Rockefeller Institute and George Beadle of the California Institute of Technology.

The only President of the United States to be buried in Arlington Cemetery in Virginia is William Howard Taft.

Russ Reject U.S. Demand To Free Pilot

BERLIN (UPI)—Russia today rejected American demands the Soviets release a U.S. Army pilot held by East German Communists since he parachuted into the Soviet Zone on Dec. 3.

A spokesman for the Soviet Embassy in East Berlin said the matter was outside Soviet jurisdiction—which meant Russia would insist the United States negotiate with Communist East Germany if it wants the flier returned.

The flier is Lt. Richard Mackin, 27, of Washington, D.C., who bailed out of his small liaison aircraft when he ran out of gasoline and wandered into East Germany.

The Communists are also holding a West German pilot, Georg Genth, who made a forced landing 200 yards inside the Communist zone yesterday with his sports plane on a flight from Luebeck. It was considered certain he also would be used as a hostage to try to force Bonn to negotiate with East Germany.

The United States refuses to deal with East Germany and it has asked the Soviets to return Mackin under four-power occupation agreements. The Soviets have told the west they will abrogate all such agreements in six months.

Mom Of 6—Triplets!

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A San Francisco mother of six children has given birth to three more at St. Joseph's Hospital.

But as usual, it was the father who was doing all the talking.

"We were only expecting twins," said Peter Tarantino, a fish company employee. "I'm sure excited. I feel wonderful. Babies are wonderful."

Mrs. Marguerite Mary Tarantino, 40, just beamed at Marie Louise, Mary Joan and Victor.

No One Said 'Dulles,' But Russ Got Mad Anyway

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union delegates lost their tempers today in the 10-nation conference on prevention of surprise attack. They lashed out with denunciations of NATO and accused the West of trying to trick the Communist bloc with Trojan horse tactics.

Soviet Dep. Foreign Minister Vassili Kuznetsov became so angry during his speech that he apparently misunderstood some of the translations of remarks made by the Western side.

Kuznetsov thought he heard the name of John Foster Dulles and that set him off on a bitter denunciation of what he described as "aggressive Western tendencies." Actually, the Western delegates had made no reference to the U.S. secretary of state.

Soviet Col. Gen. A. A. Gryzlov followed Kuznetsov with a speech filled with references to alleged Western attempts to spy on the Soviet bloc.

L. D. Wilgress and Air Commodore W. W. Bean, both of Canada, and Gen. Otto P. Weyland, commander of the U.S. Tactical Air Command, denied the Soviet bloc allegations.

Moscow Says Revolt Put Down In China

LONDON (UPI)—Moscow Radio today reported the discovery and liquidation of what it called an "American-Chiang Kai-shek" spy ring in Red China's Kwantung Province—where an attempted uprising was reported yesterday.

A Tass news agency dispatch from Peiping said the Kwantung Province Peoples Court sentenced five agents to death, gave prison terms to others and acquitted six who voluntarily surrendered.

Press dispatches last night from Portuguese Macao, off the Kwantung coast of South China, reported a Hungarian-type uprising had taken place on the Red offshore island of Lappa early Tuesday.

According to the Macao reports there were sounds of rebellion on the nearby Communist island, followed by heavy troop movements, gunfire and public execution of three men.

REGULUS LEAVES SHIP — Regulus II guided missile roars off the deck of landing ship King County yesterday in test of missile firing system of USS Halibut, nation's first nuclear-powered missile. AFTER THAT, WHO WANTS TO GO SHOPPING?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Intent on Christmas shopping, Mrs. Dorothy Moore and her son Dale, 8, stepped from a bus. Then she realized she had left her purse—with $90—on board.

She raced after the bus, caught it and retrieved her money.

Then she remembered her son, left eight blocks behind. Back she hurried. When she reached him, he was window shopping.

"I was so glad to see him I was no good after that," said Mrs. Moore.

"We just took the next bus home."

Record-Setting A-Sub To Get New Power Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The crew of the nuclear submarine Seawolf, which established a record by staying submerged two months, will be dispersed and the individuals assigned to other submarines within the next two months when the submarine is withdrawn from service for installation of a new power plant.

The 20-million-dollar job will require from 11 to 13 months.

A few of the officers and men in her crew may be in the new crew formed when the Seawolf is recommissioned sometime in 1960.

Capt. Richard Laning, skipper of the Seawolf since she joined the fleet in 1957, has been ordered to duty in the office of chief of naval operations here.

Leakage in part of the heat exchange equipment of the present liquid sodium reactor resulted in the Seawolf operating at only 80 per cent of maximum power. The Navy decided to replace the sodium reactor with the standard pressurized water system used in other nuclear submarines.

MMWD Approves Purchase Of Land

Directors of Marin Municipal Water District last night authorized purchase of land for a North Marin filter plant near San Geronimo and agreed to share costs for two fire main extensions for the Kentfield Fire District.

Robert J. Brusatori, secretary, said the board approved the purchase of seven and one-half acres of land at a cost of $22,005 from the Ralph S. Roy Jr. family of San Geronimo for future location of the filter plant, to be built in connection with the Nicasio dam project.

The directors approved agreement with the fire district to extend four-inch lines on Briar road and Foster avenue in Kentfield, with each party paying half the cost, estimated at about $5,000.

Directors absent last night were Dr. L. L. Stanley and William Marcus.

Missile Flies 250 Miles From Vessel

POINT MUGU (AP)—The silhouette of a ship that could have been a submarine slipped silently through the morning mist.

Midway along the foredeck of the ship, a circular hatch some 15 feet across swung open and a shiny metal bird with folded wings crawled up into the light along a slanted track.

It came to rest in a cradle of steel girders, straightened its stubby wings and swiveled into launching position.

The great bird, as long as a five-story building is tall, began to scream louder and louder as submariners remote in the bowels of the mother ship opened the throttle of the missile's powerful turbo-jet engine.

A rocket-like blast broke the straining bird loose from its moorings and hurtled it toward an inland target.

The shot yesterday was a shakedown of the missile firing system of the USS Halibut, the nation's first nuclear-powered missle submarine, which will be launched at Vallejo next month.

For this test the forward hull of a tank-landing ship, King County, had been converted to duplicate the Halibut.

The missile used in the test, a 57-foot-long Regulus II, sped 250 miles from its launcher to Tonopah, Nev.

Eisenhowers To Open Social Season Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower will open the White House winter social season tonight with a formal state dinner honoring the Supreme Court.

The guest list may be a little larger than usual, but the social season itself—with five state dinners—is the shortest ever.

The Eisenhowers have reduced the traditional presidential entertaining to a minimum. They dropped a military-science dinner added last season.

But an Eisenhower innovation—the after-dinner musicale for about 150 additional guests—was retained for tonight.

Two diplomatic dinners have been set for next Wednesday and Thursday. The brief social season will wind up next month with state dinners Jan. 26 for Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the Cabinet, and Jan. 27 for the speaker of the House, Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.).

Rematch Of Moore-Durelle Classic Sought Next July

Archie Wins Greatest Fight In Last 10 Years

(COMBINED AP AND UPI)

MONTREAL—Promoter Eddie Quinn said today a return performance of the great Archie Moore-Yvon Durelle ring classic is a "must" for Montreal next July.

And Truman Gibson, president of the International Boxing Club, agreed with him.

A classic it was—one of the ring's greatest—as Moore, perhaps the oldest active champion in boxing annals, climbed off the canvas four times last night (once from a slip) and became the sport's all-time kayo king by blasting the Canadian champion with four knockdowns for an 11th-round knockout.

HEART BROKEN

It was with good reason that Durelle, the fighting fisherman from New Brunswick, burst into tears in his dressing room from heart-breaking frustration; for he had been almost as close to becoming light-heavyweight champion as a man could—in the first round and again in the fifth session of their blood-and-thunder battle.

Moore admitted he talked to himself after his second knockdown.

"Hey, 'old man,' this can't be age catchin' up to you. You just can't let this happen—with the all-time knockout record to be won," he said to himself.

KAYO RECORD

Whether Archie will be 42 or 45 Saturday, his birthday, he carved a niche in boxing history with his amazing determination and surprising dynamite that many a future youngster will envy as he learns how knockout No. 127 was scored by the patriarch from San Diego before 8,484 frenzied fans in the Montreal Forum.

The thrilling knockout boosted Archie out of a tie with the late heavyweight challenger, W. L. (Young) Stribling at 126 KO's during their careers: 204 bouts in 23 years for archie, and more than 230 in 12 years for Stribling of Macon, Ga. It'll be a long, long time before anyone else approaches 127.

Only one more successful defense and Archie will have equalled his class record of eight, established by Maxie Rosenbloom back in the early 1930's.

GREAT CONDITION

Archie weighed 173¾—the lightest in four years—to 172 for the champion of Canada and the British Empire. Their low weights, indicating that each was trained unusually sharp, may have been responsible for their great fight.

Referee Jack Sharkey counted Yvon out at 49 seconds of the 11th round as he lay flat on his back, for his fourth knockdown.

MOORE ON DECK

It was amazing that Archie, at his age, still had enough power to blast 29-year-old Durelle into submission, after taking such a terrific early battering. Moore was on the floor for official knockdowns twice in the first round for counts of eight from two rights to the chin. And another trip, from a half-punch, half-push, was ruled a slip.

In the fifth round a right to the jaw dropped him for seven and he took a savage battering until a few seconds before the bell when he came storming back. The knockdowns were the high points of the fight; but in every round they were blasting away in a fashion that had the fans wondering what kept Archie and Yvon on their feet.

OKAYS REMATCH

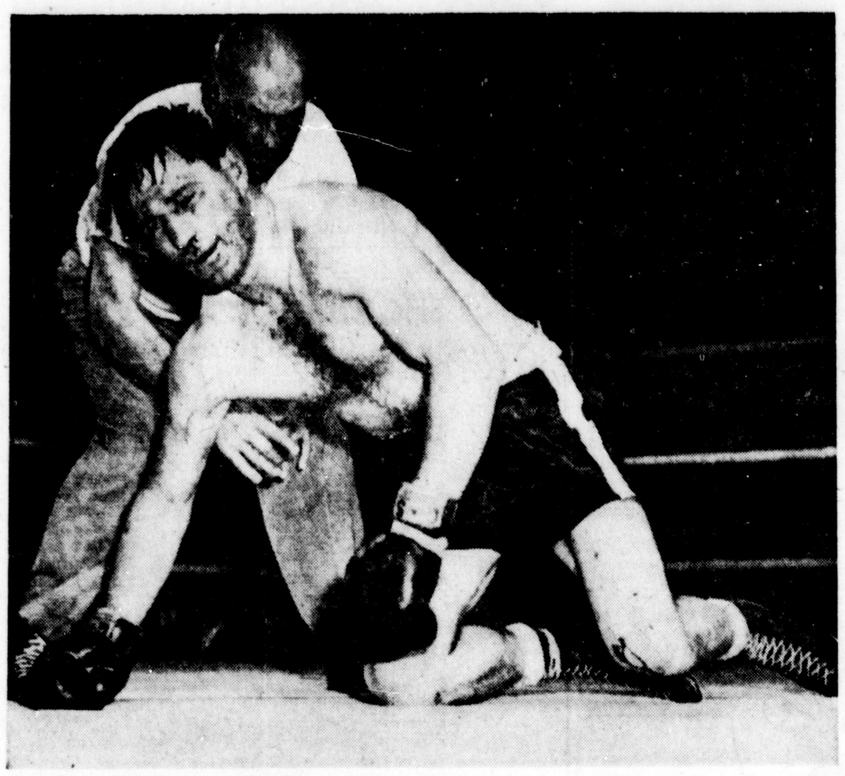

"Durelle put up a great fight and can have another chance if he wants it," said the champion. "I'd like another chance too at heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson."

"Yeah, Patterson, we'd like him," interjected Moore's manager Jack "Doc" Kearns. "If he doesn't fight that Swede Ingemar Johansson this summer, maybe he'd like to take on the old man. If he's not interested then there's that Sugar Ray Robinson. He and Archie would pack any stadium."

Moore was full of praise for Durelle, a 3½-1 underdog who put up a great battle.

"Durelle is one of the very top light heavyweights I have ever fought," he said. "I knew I had him after the fourth round, but before that I was awfully rocky. Every knockdown was clean and fair."

All three judges had Moore leading on points when the end came—Judge Rene Ouimet, 46-45; Lucien Germain, 44-42; Harry Shulman, 44-42. The five-point "must" system was used with the winner of each round getting five points and the loser four or less.

IT'S ALL OVER — Canadian challenger Yvon Durelle vainly attempts to get up off deck in 11th round, but Referee Jack Sharkey moves in to help him to his corner after counting him out at Montreal last night.

Cox Hits 16, But Dons Bow To TCU Quint

San Francisco's Dons lost a heartbreaker to Texas Christian 58-56 last night, their second straight defeat, without a victory on their new million dollar basketball court.

The teams were tied 11 times in the game, but Dale Nippert's field goal with only 24 seconds left gave the Horned Frogs the edge. Nippert led the scoring with 19 points. Sophomore Ron Cox of San Anselmo paced the Dons with 16.

Cox, former All-Northern California star at Drake High, started the season as a reserve, but has won a starting position off outstanding performances in each game.

USF led the see-saw contest 31-26 at halftime.

A flurry of fisticuffs occurred just before the end of the game when the Dons' Dave Lillevand and TCU's H. D. Kirchner tangled on a retrieve try. Players from both benches leaped to the floor and a few punches were exchanged before order was quickly restored.

No major game is scheduled for northern California quintets tonight.

BOWLING

Walt Silva, the Sausalito tavern owner, bombed the pins to the tune of a 664 series Tuesday night in the Marin Bowl's Handicap League, easily walking off with top honors.

Silva compiled his mighty margin on games of 235, 232 and 197.

Team results and high scorers: Bret Harte Super (Willie Corda, 586) d. Ranch Wagon (Sam Pillus, 516) by 4-0; Hit and Misses (Roy Butterfield, 520) d. Gomez Was A Flop With The Giants, But Will Sanford Be Any Better?

CONNOLLY

Last year, for the want of something better to do and because a guy always has the right to dream, I carefully went over all the pitchers on the S.F. Giants staff and, so help me, I believed Ruben Gomez would be a winner, wire to wire.

And what happens?

Of all the good for nothing so and so's, Gomez was it. He kicked off the season like a champion and suddenly became a bum, not even a stumble bum, because he couldn't last long enough to get up a sweat. But unfortunately, before Manager Bill Rigney was able to yank him, dear ole Ruben had given the other side a whale of a lead and the game was lost almost before it started.

And now we find in the news that Gomez has been traded to Philadelphia for a guy named Jack Sanford, whose record with the Phillies for 1958 wasn't an iota better than the record of Gomez with the Giants.

Sanford, I hope, will become the big star of the Giants, but a guy has to be a helluvan optimist to believe in comebacks.

Sanford won (with a tail-end club) 10 games and lost 13.

Gomez captured 10 games and lost 12. His earned run average was 4.37 per game against an earned run average compiled by Sanford of 4.45. So it's six of one and a half dozen of the other, on pitching form.

The only difference is Gomez was on a first division club and Sanford was on a tail-end outfit.

But very often in major league baseball a recruit pitcher has his best year. And that Sanford had in 1956 while a recruit with the Phils. Then he slipped last year in his sophomore year, so the dope is that he should go to town for the Giants in 1959. I wonder? He has to make a comeback!

Gomez will never be any better with any club than he was with the Giants last year for the simple reason he thinks more of what he does in the Puerto Rico league than what he does in the National League, where he really earns money.

Until someone comes along and tells Gomez he either pitches in the summer in the USA or he doesn't pitch at all, he'll go no place.

This business of allowing Puerto Rican ball players to set the rules in organized baseball is a lot of hooey. Either the National League bosses should say to the Puerto Ricans "stop winter ball or get the heck out of here" or else let the Puerto Ricans run the circuit.

I believe that a big league ball player dragging down a fat salary should be told that he is expected to conserve his energy in the winter for the right to earn his chops in the summer.

But in Puerto Rico they say it is a crime against their country not to play winter league ball. Well, if that is the case, I'd say the heck with Puerto Rico and let them play where they were born instead of coming here and milking the American baseball fans.

And the sooner the majors discover they are setting a bad precedent, the better it will be for the paying public.

The late Judge Landis would have no truck with such ideas. He'd tell the Puerto Ricans to either play baseball in the U.S.A. ONLY or get the heck out of the game.

And, money wise, it would be a severe shock to Gomez and other Puerto Rican players if they could only get dough like they play for in the winter, as against the dough they got for summer play in the National League.

What a joke it is to consider Orlando Cepeda playing all winter and exposing himself to injury for a paltry sum like the Puerto Rico League pays him.

Suppose Cepeda was seriously injured? Who would suffer . . . the Giants or the Puerto Rican League?

I began this epistle by talking of the respective merits of the Sanford-Gomez deal. But I got sidetracked.

But truthfully I can't say I'm too much impressed with the Sanford-Gomez swap.

I hope it works out like Bill Rigney expects it to work out.

Giants Must Pay Taxes On Stadium

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants will have to pay more money for the use of the Seals Stadium next year, it was learned today.

Paul I. Fagan, owner of the stadium, said he has asked the Giants to pay the taxes as well as the rental. Taxes amount to about $36,000 a year.

Fagan said he relieved the Giants of the tax this year as a favor to Mayor George Christopher, who thought it would hasten the Giants' decision to move west.

He said the Boston Red Sox paid the taxes when they owned the San Francisco Seals.

Under the agreement between Fagan and the Giants, the club can move to its new ball park at Candlestock Point whenever it is completed.

"The move will leave me with an abandoned stadium on my hands," he said. "In partial compensation, the Giants are assuming responsibility for the 1959 taxes."

Fagan will demolish the stadium after the Giants move.

Tars Clobber Vallejo For 3rd Straight Win

Coach Cal Riemcke's red-hot College of Marin Tars, showing the class that won them the Golden Valley Conference championship last season, rolled to their third straight triumph last night with a 65-51 triumph over the Vallejo College Falcons at the Marin gymnasium.

Led by freshman Bill Breuner, the 6-foot, 8-inch product of Marin Catholic High, the Tars rallied from a nip and tuck first half into their run-away victory.

Breuner scored 15 points in the attack, followed by veteran Junior Banuelos' 14 and freshman Kenny Anderson's 13 points. Rounding out the Tar tally were Larry Fulton 9, Pat Anthony 7, Claude Curley 4, Robbie Harvey 2 and Butch Warmington 1 as Riemcke, in his second year at Marin, was able to use his reserves.

The Tars led most of the way, except for a brief moment in the first half when the visitors edged into a 23-22 advantage. Marin quickly regained the lead, made it 39-33 at half, then pulled away.

The Tars will go gunning for victory number four tomorrow night when they battle Santa Rosa J. C. at Kentfield, 8 o'clock.

Varsity Defeats Faculty Squad At Marin Catholic

Youth won out over age last night when the Marin Catholic High School varsity basketball team huffing and puffing faculty squad by a 44-31 margin in their annual game.

Gary Ragghinanti scored 10 points to lead the Wildcats while Father Kenneth Hunt, a 6-foot, 5-inch star, hit 10 for the losers. Father Bernard Cummings tallied six points.

When the faculty team first took the floor, the school band blared out with "Hold That Tiger!" The crowd of approximately 700 fans loved every minute of the game.

COLTS' DEFENSIVE HERO

Marchetti Returning To Scene Of College Glory

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It may be anti-climactic for the Baltimore Colts, but Sunday is a big day for their star defensive end—hefty Gino Marchetti. He'll be back in Kezar Stadium.

The opposition will be the San Francisco 49ers, in the tail-ender of the National Football League season, but the setting will be the same for Gino, who starred there with the San Francisco Dons in their last football year, 1951.

Marchetti was on the unbeaten San Francisco team which produced nine professional footballers.

The Colts already have won the Western Conference title in the NFL. The 49ers seek a measure of revenge for the licking they took in Baltimore, which gave the Colts the title. Baltimore has yet to win a game in Kezar Stadium.

But it will be a homecoming for Marchetti. The 6-4, 240-pound ironman from Antioch started his pro career with the now defunct Dallas Texans. He joined Baltimore in 1953. He earned All-Pro honors in 1956 and 1957.

John Bridgers, Colt defensive line coach, calls Marchetti "the greatest defensive lineman in pro football."

"Gino is quick, strong and has the savvy so necessary to get the job done in pro ball," he added.

In 10 games Marchetti has tossed passers for losses on 17 occasions and 17 other times he has deflected passes.

Mrs. Hatchet Tops Women's Tourney

Mrs. Jack Hatchet turned in a card of 94-18—76 to win top honors in Class A of the Marin Golf Club's women's medal handicap tournament Tuesday at the new course.

Mrs. Fred Ahnert was second with 110-22—78.

In Class B Mrs. Albert Wilson led the way with 112-36—76, followed by Mrs. C. E. Wright with 110-33—77.

USC Admits Probe Of Irregularities

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Dr. Hugh C. Willett, University of Southern California faculty representative, said today he was confident the school has operated within NCAA recruiting practices.

The administrator, former president of the NCAA, confirmed reports that SC was under investigation.

Dr. Willett said yesterday that charges of alleged irregularities involving two prospective athletes had been filed with the NCAA in the summer of 1957 "by a person or persons unknown to us."

"We immediately made a thorough investigation and filed affidavits which we believe completely refute those charges," he said.

USC was placed on probation by the NCAA in November, 1956, after a similar ban by the Pacific Coast Conference for giving illegal financial aid. The school was reinstated in good standing by the PCC last July, but is still on NCAA probation.

"We are still technically on probation," a USC spokesman said. "The fact we are on probation could make it rough on us."

University spokesmen were quick to deny that Angelo Coia and Dan Ficca were the athletes involved.

Palmer, Casper Co-Favorites In Florida Tourney

SANFORD, Fla. (AP) — Golf's two biggest money winners of the year—Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., and Bill Casper Jr., of Apple Valley, Calif.—teed off as favorites in the $15,000 Sanford Open today.

The tournament over the 6,600-yard par 71 Mayfair course continues through Sunday and is the final PGA-sanctioned event of 1958.

Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass., who won the Dorado Beach Tourney in Puerto Rico last week, ranks close with Palmer and Casper among the top choices in the field of 150.

Bears Practice On Pass Defense

BERKELEY (AP)—California's Golden Bears, drilling on alternate days for their Rose Bowl clash with Iowa New Year's Day, worked on pass defense and running plays yesterday.

Right tackle Jim Green, who was knocked out in the first bowl practice Monday, remained sidelined. The only other missing Bear was quarterback Gus Gianulias, who was injured early in the season.

FUNERAL FOR SPEAKER TODAY

HUBBARD, Tex. (UPI)—Funeral services were to be held today for Tris Speaker, former star outfielder for the Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox and a member of baseball's Hall of Fame.

Burial was to be in Fairview Cemetery, where Speaker's mother and father are buried.

Speaker died of a heart attack Monday at the age of 70 while returning from a fishing trip on Lake Whitney near his native home here.

Mike Watters Good Choice For J.C. All-Star Game At Stockton

The announcement yesterday that College of Marin star Mike Watters had been selected to play in the third annual East-West All-Star Junior College game in Stockton Dec. 20 was greeted happily yesterday by Mike's coach, Harry Pieper.

"Well, that's a fitting climax to Mike's two years with us at Marin," beamed Pieper, adding, "I can't think of any more deserving player. He is one of the most outstanding players I've ever coached."

Mike's teammates seconded the motion with a roar, for they respect his ability and leadership.

Pieper pretty well sums up Mike's ability thusly:

"Here is a boy who will do anything asked of him. We started him at end at the start of the season and he played 60 full minutes of all-out football. When we needed a guard, he jumped right into that position and did the same thing. Then we needed a back and he took over that position and again turned in 60 minutes of top notch play. I didn't keep track of how long he played each game, but I think he played 60 minutes of nearly every game.

"He helped hold our club together and I found it a pleasure to work with him."

Mike will play end in the All-Star game.

Pieper says Mike is a cinch to make good at a four-year college and right now it looks like he may go to Oregon or Oregon State.

Watters, who hails from Novato, first made a football name for himself at San Rafael High. As an end, he led San Rafael to an undefeated record in 1956, winning All-Northern California recognition and earning an invitation to the North-South Shrine Classic in Los Angeles.

At San Rafael he was one of the main reasons the San Rafael line never had a touchdown scored against it. He was a tremendous defensive player.

We're sure he'll do well for himself at Stockton Dec. 20.

SOME FAIR to middlin' former college basketball stars will be seen in action at the Redwood High School gym Saturday night when the San Francisco Olympic Club takes on the Hamilton Field club.

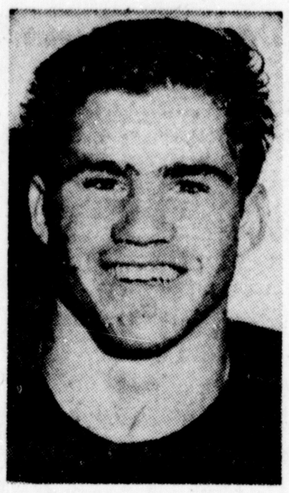

Among members of the Olympic team are Ron Tomsic (Stanford), Ken Flaig (COP), and Don Bragg (UCLA).

Their coach is Carl Minetti of Kentfield.

The main event will start at 8 o'clock, but get there early because five grammar school teams will play in a preliminary tournament that should be fun to watch. I'll start at 6:30 o'clock.

AN AIR FORCE officer interviewed San Rafael High's All-Everything football star, Ron Snidow, this week. The Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs is mighty interested in this 6-foot 2, 205-pound terror.

Missouri, with 21,813 calves, led the nation in 1958 in the production of registered Angus cattle, followed by Iowa, Illinois, Texas and Oklahoma.

Boat Drag Race Produces New World Speed Record

By BETTY FROST

Northern California's first boat drag race produced a new world's champion last weekend when Carl McGinn of Glendale took his "Hot Ice" over the quarter-mile course at Searsville Lake at 98.03 mph.

McGinn's performance broke the dead-heat record which he and Rudy Ramos had achieved at the same time in southern California in the early summer. McGinn's boat is classified as a cracker box hull powered by a fuel-injected Chrysler engine.

Approximately 4,000 spectators witnessed the record-breaking performance as 105 boats took part in the boat drag race. Roy Sayles of San Rafael, president of the sponsoring V Drive Boat and Ski Racing Assn., said the spectacular races attracted so much favorable interest that the organization is scheduling a similar event for early next spring in the Bay Area.

Joe Flores of Hanford was clocked at a speed of 93.36 in the 90-95 mph class. Other winners were Wes Hansen of Corcoran, 86.20 in 85-90 mph class; Jim Burrow, Sun Valley, Calif., 84.31 in the 80-85 mph class; Bill Iacona, 79-22 in the 75-80 mph class; Weston Rose, San Jose, 74.25 in the 70-75 mph class; Sonny Kraus, 67-61 in the 65-70 mph class; Le Roy Temple, 64.00 in the 60-65 mph class; Ernest Rose, Santa Clara, 56.63 in the 55-60 mph class; Fred Morales, Richmond, 52.94 in the 50-55 mph class; Larry Schevabeenen, Fresno, 47.23 in the 45-50 mph class; Tim Mahoney, San Francisco, 43.94 in the 40-45 mph class; John Cordell, Redwood City, 38.11 in the 35-40 mph class; Ralph Reynold, Red Bluff 33.66, in the 30-35 mph class.

DR. PAUL DE SILVA of San Francisco was named commodore of the San Francisco Yacht Club at the annual membership meeting held at the Belvedere club Saturday night. For De Silva this is a return engagement as he served the club as commodore in 1951-52. He sails the International class sloop, Icy Folly, and has sailed as a crew member on ocean races to Hawaii and Tahiti.

Dr. Emmet Rixford of Sausalito is the new vice-commodore; L. E. Von Schultheis of Belvedere is rear-commodore; Leonard James of Sausalito, secretary, and John R. Moore of Belvedere, treasurer. Directors are Robert Barth, David Imrie, Paul Marcucci, Don Owen, Frank Wosser, and retiring commodore, Dr. Raymund J. Millzner of Belvedere.

Search For S.F. Girl Spreads To Marin

A 19-year-old San Francisco secretarial student and former University of California coed, vanished from her home a week ago, and the search for her spread into Marin County where the girl had some acquaintances.

The missing girl is Laurel Edith Breier, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Breier of 65 Borica street, San Francisco. Breier operates a bowling alley in San Francisco.

The girl is about 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 148 pounds, and usually wears sweaters and skirts with a preference for black. Her father said she had never run away before. She had attended University of California, then a secretarial school in San Francisco. One week ago today, she left home to look for a job and never returned.

San Francisco police asked Marin officials to help in the search. Deputy Sheriff Arthur Wiggins said he had talked to Robert Irvin, 33, of 942 Greenhill road, Homestead Valley, who knew the girl, but he has been unable to provide any information on where she might be.

Marin YMCA Installs At S.F. Meeting

Walter Zurcher of San Rafael was installed as chairman of the board of managers of the YMCA of Marin, at a dinner meeting Tuesday night in San Francisco's Park Presidio YMCA.

Other officers installed are Erwin Farley, vice chairman, for camping activities; Dr. Catherine Pike, vice-chairman, program; Bert Broemmel, treasurer, and Warren Staiger, secretary.

Installation ceremonies were conducted by Fred H. Smith IV, chairman emeritus. Rex Silvernale, outgoing chairman, reviewed the YMCA's accomplishments in the past year, noting particularly the growth in number of HI-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs in Marin.

The Y hopes to reach a total of 75 of these clubs by next May, he noted.

Dinner was served by the San Rafael Tri-Hi-Y Club under direction of Mrs. Malcolm Finley and Mrs. Finn Dale.

Snark Missile In Round Trip Over Atlantic

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP)—A Snark guided missile, the nation's most advanced weapon capable of spanning intercontinental range, blazed across the Atlantic early today on the start of a round trip flight.

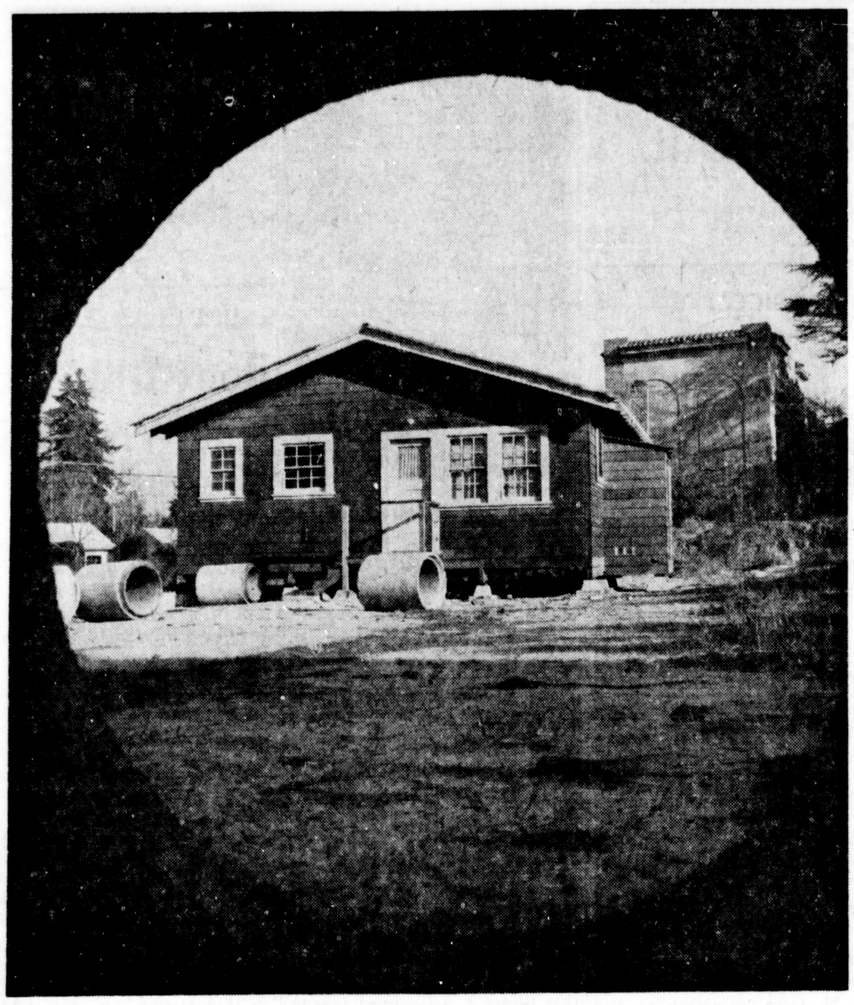

The 69-foot weapon was fired once before from the cape and recovered.

One of the goals of this shoot reportedly was to test new instruments aboard the Snark. The range attempted and type of new equipment used was not disclosed.

The Snark, capable of carrying a nuclear warhead over 6,000-mile range, will become operational next July when the first unit is assigned to Presque Isle, Me.

CENTER OF INTEREST — Eastman Hall, new recreation facility being installed in Larkspur, the use of which was requested by numerous civic groups last night at a meeting of the city recreation commission. The hall is located at William avenue and the NWP tracks. (Independent-Journal photo)

Use Of Eastman Hall Discussed By Larkspur

The Larkspur Recreation Commission last night heard requests by city youth and civic organizations for use of Eastman Hall, at a meeting attended by about 20 persons.

Orrin W. Gray, chairman, said the commission made no decision as to which requests for use of the partially-finished hall, could be accepted, pending review of written applications and an opinion by the city council.

The hall, recently sold to the city for $1 by the Larkspur Women's Club, was donated by Redwoods Presbyterian Church.

It was moved to William avenue and the NWP tracks. Gray said the structure is expected to be ready for use by March 1.

"The requests we received last night seemed to dovetail enough that there would be no particular conflicts in scheduling," Gray said.

He said he expects to get an opinion on the use of the hall from the council and the women's club in time for a decision Jan. 14.

The recommendation will then be sent to the council for final approval in February.

Gray said groups heard from last night included Camp Fire Girls, Brownies, Funsters, Lions Club and Women's Club. Use of the hall for the eight week summer recreation program also was suggested.

77 Children Flee Flames At School

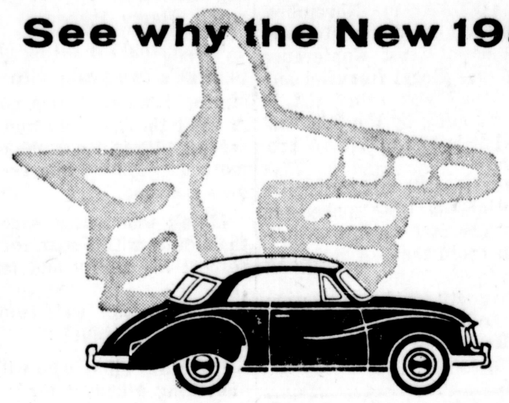

WOBURN, Mass. (UPI)—Seventy-seven grammar school children were led safely from a burning school today.

The two-alarm blaze broke out in the basement of the four-room wooden school when a boiler became overheated. Firemen confined flames to the basement, although first floor timbers were scorched.

Less than two hours after the fire, the building was condemned by the state. Officials said fire escapes at the school were enclosed with wood.

It was the second school closed in Massachusetts for fire safety reasons since last week's school fire tragedy in Chicago in which 92 died.

FINAL PLANS for the Women's Auxiliary of the San Francisco Yacht Club cocktail hour and fashion show on Saturday were made aboard the yawl "Le Reve." Left to right, are Mesdames Colin Mason, Paul Marcucci and Emmet Rixford.

'YULETIDE FOR YACHTSMEN' is the theme for the show with clothes from the Modern Eve Shop and shoes from Netboys, San Rafael. The planning committee saw a fashion preview of the forthcoming event. Modeling this yachting outfit is Mrs. Allen M. Olinger Jr.

FOR YACHTSMEN

Final Plans Are Complete For Auxiliary's Show On Saturday

To get into the spirit of its Yuletide for Yachtsmen party to be held Saturday, Dec. 13, members of the Women's Auxiliary of the San Francisco Yacht Club held a planning session aboard the newest addition to the club's sailing fleet, Mr. and Mrs. Clement McKaig's "Le Reve."

The 40-foot Concordia class yawl provided a nautical background as committee workers made final plans for the cocktail hour fashion show, which is a popular annual club event. "Le Reve" was built in Germany for the McKaigs and officially joined the SFYC fleet at ceremonies in the Belvedere harbor on Nov. 8.

Committee members on hand to put the finishing touches on the holiday party were Mrs. Colin Mason, newly elected Auxiliary president, Mesdames Emmet Rixford, chairman of the party, Robert Barth, hospitality chairman, Paul Marcucci, decorations chairman, and Raymund Millzner, who will assist the models.

The committee workers enjoyed a preview of the forthcoming style parade, as Mrs. Allen Olinger and Mrs. Robert Boat modeled clothes they will wear in the fashion show.

Added to the list of models is Linda Fromhagen, whose engagement to yachtsman Robert Bernheim was recently announced. Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jules Bernheim, will host a group of friends at the cocktail-fashion party.

Clothers to be displayed will be from the Modern Eve Shop, with Netboys supplying the shoes, and Mr. David of The Salon arranging hair styles for the models.

Second Girl Arrives

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Wynn of South San Francisco are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter on Dec. 9 at St. Francis Hospital in San Francisco. They have named the baby Sharon Marie. She has one sister, Dayna, who will be two years old on Dec. 28. Grandparents of the children are Mrs. Lucille M. Wynn of Mill Valley and Mr. and Mrs. George Watson of Sausalito. The children's maternal great grandmother is Mrs. Awelia Butelo of Oakland and the paternal great grandmother, Mrs. W. H. Christensen of Spokane, Wash.

Country Christmas Focus Show Honors Friends Of Arequipa

"Make Mine a Country Christmas" jingled the holiday bells on Tuesday at Rickeys' Rancho Rafael, as Grace Graham invited the "Fashion Focus" guests to a festive, old fashioned Yuletide luncheon and fashion show.

Right in the mood for a country Christmas were the Friends of Arequipa, honored for their work with the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., to bring holiday happiness to many of Marin's handicapped citizens.

Five beautifully bedecked snowy white trees, each trimmed in a different color and accented with effective spotlights, were in the different dining rooms to welcome the Friends of Arequipa and their guests. Redwood baskets tied with big red bows and filled with snowy greenery hung from the ceiling of the Garden Room above the living tree glowing with tiny Italian lights. Red streamers hung with snowballs, tall red candles, and snowy pine added the country Christmas feeling to the Rickey smorgasbord table skirted in bright green for the holiday.

In a Christmas commentary, Marion Bellamy, "Fashion Focus" coordinator, reminded that the nicest country Christmases are happy, relaxed and fun because the early bird has written her cards, baked her cakes, bought the gifts and planned a holiday wardrobe. The first two Christmas tasks the early bird struggles with alone; for the last two she enlists the aid of Grace Graham who has the magic knack of knowing what gifts and fashions Marin women love to give and receive!

CHRISTMAS TOUCH

Mrs. Graham's unusual Christmas touches to each holiday outfit-jeweled ornaments, gay felt "trees" hung on a cummerbund, armloads of imported scarves carried by the models as gift suggestions, brought exclamations of delight from the enthusiastic audience. Holiday hair fashions styled by The Salon of San Rafael added a note of Yuletide elegance and glamour and Beauty Counselors showed makeup to add extra sparkle.

"Santa Claus is coming to Town," Mrs. Herman Feutsch the Santa in slim, red plaid tapers, imported popcorn stitch white pullover; a Christmas wreath on one arm; red Grace Graham gift packages tucked in a basket, her Empire hair style by the Salon protected by a soft wool scarf.

"Making A List and Checking It Twice," Mrs. Walter Moreno of the Hawthorne unit sporting a handsome leather jacket in a soft "new" green, topping an imported muted tweed skirt and beige wool pullover.

"Deck The Hall," then welcome the guests, Mrs. Dan Sweeney of the Sycamore Unit hostessing in pastel yellow jersey, the neck a high sabrina, the silhouette a pretty blouson, the accent a red Christmas rose.

"Tis The Season To Be Jolly" and trim a tree with a silver Grace Graham sunburst. Mrs. James Conley of the Hawthorne Unit the trimmer, velveted in perwinkle tapers and gray silk shirt; a plaid cumberbund accenting a tiny waist.

"Jolly Old St. Nicholas" take me on a cruise, the Christmas wish of Mrs. Douglas Duchan from the Madrone Unit in palest blue moygashel linen sheath, over it the luxury of a white mohair full length coat.

HOLIDAY SEPARATES

"Lend Your Ear This Way" and bring me favorite holiday separates; slim gold brocade skirt and scooped neck cashmere trimmed with leaves of gold, the wisher, Mrs. Frank Stolte of the Sycamore Unit.

"O, The Weather Outside Is Frightful," inside Mrs. Len Ravoni of the Cascade Unit ready for a party wearing a lush blue and green very full skirted shirtmaker print; jewelry to accent the brilliant colors.

"Inside It's So Delightful" meeting Mrs. Gordon Wardlaw, from the Cascade Unit, a Christmas red rose blooming at the waist of a white brocade dress for a holiday night.

"Holiday at Home" accenting the fresh, contemporary feeling of Christmas will be next Tuesday's "Fashion Focus" luncheon theme. Honored guests will be Tom Thumb Chapter of the Children's Home Society

LeNoir Hosack, Mezzo-Soprano To Entertain San Rafael Club

A brilliant mezzo soprano, Le Noir Hosack, will entertain at the meeting of San Rafael Improvement Club on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 16. She was soloist at the Carmel Bach Festival for three years and a finalist in the San Francisco Opera auditions. She was chosen by Darius Milhaud to create two roles in his Minute Operas.

Recently she completed the creation of a leading role in the premiere performance of the challenging modern opera, "The Love of Dan Perlimplin and Belisa" by Arnold Elston, at the University of California in Berkeley. In 1954 Miss Hosack was the recipient of a scholarship for study with Madame Lotte Lehmann at the Music Academy of the West in Santa Barbara.

Miss Hosack brings to the interpretation of her large repertoire an emotional expressivity which invariably wins acclaim of critics. She received her early musical training in Ohio and Pennsylvania. At 15, her serious vocal study was begun and continued through college years when she was enrolled in the Drama Department of Carnegie Institute of Technology. She played three seasons in leading roles with the Pittsburgh Savoyards, outstanding Gilbert and Sullivan company, under the direction of Harvey B. Gaul, renowned composer and organist. After her marriage the singer came to California with her husband and continued her musical activity first on the Monterey Peninsula and then in San Francisco.

LENOIR HOSACK, mezzo soprano, who will be featured on the program of the San Rafael Improvement Club on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 16. The program, which begins at 2 o'clock, will be followed by a tea.

The program will begin at 2 o'clock and will be followed by a tea. Mrs. Robert Allison is chairman of the tea committee. Assisting her will be Mesdames George W. Duncan, Leslie Jones and Sydney H. Diehl. Presiding at the tea tables will be Mesdames Herbert Brainerd, Louis L. Robinson, both past presidents, Mrs. Edith J. Foran and Miss Ethel Bryce.

The decrations will be exceptionally beautiful, as Mrs. Fedora Ross, as usual, is conducting a workshop. On Saturday and Sunday, starting at 9 a.m., members will gather at the clubhouse to create Christmas garlands and wreaths under Mrs. Ross' direction. Mrs. Murray Schrock is in charge of placing the decorations Tuesday.

Junior Music Club Plans Open House

The Marin Junior Music Club will meet Saturday, Dec. 13, 1:30 p.m. at Olney Hall, College of Marin, and will share an unusual topic: "What is a Recorder?" by holding open house to county music teachers and their students.

To tell the history of the recorder will be Leo Christiansen, Sausalito teacher of piano and YWCA recorder class, who has an outstanding reputation as choral director.

Assisting in the demonstration of recorders, from bass to high pitched soprano, will be members of the Mill Valley Recorder Club: Mrs. Margaret Greene, Tim Kelly, Mrs. Bernard Klopf, Mrs. Abe Goodman, Mrs. Richard Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fourman of Mill Valley and Dr. Margaret Bennett of Kentfield.

They will play works by old masters written for this instrument followed by modern compositions and Christmas carols, showing it's traditional use in social gatherings.

The Marin Junior Music Club is open for membership to young musicians 9 through 16. At this meeting members will be signing up to play in the Annual Concert, to be held in April. Applications for the Federations Junior Festival will be distributed.

Business Club Hears Christmas Message

Christmas signifies "the brotherhood of man," the Rev. John David Alexander of the San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo stated when he gave the Christmas message at the dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Marin County at Rickey's Rancho Rafael Tuesday night. He told of the Jewish religious observance, Chanukah, "Festival of Lights" which began on Dec. 6 and ends Dec. 13, and explained it is also a joyous occasion. It celebrates the rededication of the temple in Jerusalem after its defilement by the heathen at the time of the religious persecution of the Jews by the Syrians 168 B.C. to 165 B.C.

The Rev. Alexander spoke of various symbols which are associated with Christmas and said many of them stem back before the time of Christ. The Romans gave gifts at the Saturnalia. The mistletoe was a sacred symbol of the Druids and the Romans considered it a symbol of peace. During the early Christian era the feast of St. Nicholas was observed with the giving of gifts and later the name Santa Claus was given the jolly fellow who distributed gifts.

Anita Meyer was chairman of the evening. Hortense Buck was co-chairman and others on the committee were Helen Hickman and Edith Gray. June Brusatori, club president, welcomed members and guests and introduced the committee, her officers and special guests. In the latter group were Lavina Schroeder, president of Redwood Empire District, BPWC, and Elinor Ballentyne, corresponding secretary of the district. Both are Sonoma residents. Also honored were Harold Keaton and Mrs. Keaton and in behalf of the club, Ella Lossius, junior past president, presented Mr. Keaton with a gift for his cooperation in putting on the club's "Fun Night." Also introduced were two of the club's members, Jean Brown, district chairman of health and safety, and Frances Mason, district emblem chairman.

The meeting was begun with the salute to the Flag led by Mrs. Gray and the reading of the collect by Mrs. Hickman. Mrs. Meyer presided during the program. Young Steven Gutman, son of Marcia Gutman, one of the club members, played a piano solo, Mendelssohn's "Hope."

As has been the custom for many years at the club's Christmas meeting, the A Cappella Choir of College of Marin, under the direction of Clinton Lewis, sang. The program included "O Rejoice Ye Christians Loudly," "Alleluia" by Randall Thompson, a French carol, "Angels We Have Heard On High," a German carol, "Cradle Song of the Shepherds," a Swedish number, "Let Carols Ring," a spiritual "Go Tell It On The Mountain" with Pamela Wilson as the soloist, "Trepak" from the Nutcracker Suite, and "O Holy Night" with Bernice Schneider and Edward Thompson as soloists.

During the dinner community singing was led by Mrs. Buck with Mrs. Meyer at the piano. Gifts were exchanged in a musical skit. The dinner tables were beautifully decorated with sparkling cones and candles.

Crusade Reaches 78.4 Per Cent Of Quota In Marin

Contributions totaling $132,765 put Marin United Fund at 78.4 per cent of its $169,258 quota for 1958, according to figures heard Tuesday at the final report dinner at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, Ignacio.

Addressing some 125 persons attending the meeting, R. E. Mittelstaedt, general campaign chairman, said, "Thousands of dollars are still outstanding in Marin County." He urged "all those responsible to continue to make every effort to bring in those dollars."

Mittelstaedt also appealed to residents who have not been contacted to send checks directly to the United Fund office in San Rafael.

FALLEN BEHIND

He noted that despite the "extremely capable" work of Mrs. Fred T. Adams, Marin residential chairman, the residential division had fallen behind this year because of late organization and incomplete coverage due to a lack of volunteers.

The campaign chairman expressed confidence that a sizeable percentage of Marin's 21.6 per cent shortage will be forthcoming in the next four weeks.

However, fund officials said "allocations to Marin agencies will definitely be less than last year in relation to United Bay Area Crusade experience this year and not the local experience." UBAC reported $9,691,069, or 82.5 per cent, of its 11-million-dollar five - county quota.

LEADS BAY AREA

While Marin places fourth among the five counties in total contributions, it has consistently led the Bay Area by a wide margin in both the small business and public employees divisions. The latter division exceeded results of the previous year (singly and including the military) for the first time in many years.

Special districts in the public employees division have exceeded their quota by $25 and the county's federal post offices are only $13 short of their goal. This division's total percentage is 93.1.

Latest individual business division to meet its quota is the Kentfield business division, with the last minute cooperation of the Kentfield Lions Club. Among the business divisions that have met or exceeded their quotas are Sausalito, San Rafael, Novato and Kentfield.

Also heard at Tuesday night's meeting was a tape recorded digest of current problems of UBAC by Samuel B. Stewart, chairman of the board. Predicting that this year's campaign may be as much as 2 or 3 per cent less than last year, he said "it is reasonable to expect serious questions as to whether the combined annual campaign program can or should be continued in its present form." After analyzing suggested alternatives to the present program, he concluded that the "most practical course of action is to proceed with the organization we now have, and to seek improvement in 1959 by early adoption of plans for such improvements.

Retiring president Eugene Crawford presented a report and newly elected president, Mrs. Thomas J. Mellon, named her finance committee for 1959 as follows: Arthur Latno, executive vice president of the First National Bank, San Rafael, chairman; Irving Chapman, Chapman Shoe Store, San Rafael; Francis T. Fogarty, J. C. Penney store manager, San Rafael; Albert V. Martin, trust officer, Crocker-Anglo Bank, San Francisco, and John V. Bacigalupi, Bank of America, fund treasurer, member ex-officio.

An amendment to the by-laws adding two members at large to the executive committee and changing the status of honorary members to honorary directors was adopted.

State Grants Funds For Harbor Work

The state Small Craft Harbors Commission Monday formally made available more than 15 million dollars in construction loans and earmarked funds, including $300,000 for a Mill Valley small boat harbor and the same amount for Marin County to spend on improving Richardson Bay.

The action by the commission, meeting in Blythe, came as the Marin County Board of Supervisors was discussing possibility of the county loan.

Carroll Snyker, manager of Marin Development Foundation, and Francis Newton, chairman of the foundation's harbor development committee, appeared before the board to outline briefly the need for dredging Sausalito Canal up Richardson Bay so the waters would be made more usable for small craft.

They told the supervisors they would be back next Tuesday with detailed engineering plans for the bay's development.

Reappointment Of 2 Planners Asked

The Mill Valley Planning Commission has recommended the city council reappoint Mrs. George Gustafson and Lew Tyrell to the commission.

Both are serving out the unexpired terms of members who resigned. Their terms expire Dec. 31.

The commission submitted the names of Jane A. Duncombe, Walter Mountjoy and Robert Royston for consideration as members of the architectural advisory committee. In addition, the Outdoor Art Club will be asked to submit a name for consideration.

Mrs. Richard Bennett and Robert C. Coolidge resigned recently from the board.

Hearings Set Monday On Tracts In Tamalpais Valley, Sleepy Hollow

Public hearings on the tentative maps of two proposed subdivisions, Kay Park Unit 3 in Tamalpais Valley and Sleepy Hollow Unit 8 near San Anselmo, are scheduled Monday at 2 p.m. by the Marin County Planning Commission.

The commission will meet in the county office building at 1711 Grand avenue, San Rafael.

Golden Gate Homes, Inc. plans to build 11 homes in Kay Park 3, to be located on 2.9 acres south of Marin avenue and north and west of Richardson way.

The tentative map shows all lots containing a minimum of 7,500 square feet and one new street. None of the lots would be less than 60 feet in average width.

Sleepy Hollow 8, according to the tentative map submitted by developer Harold D. Lang, would consist of 16 lots on 7.2 acres west of Tarry road and north of Sleepy Hollow 7.

At 10 a.m. Monday, the commission will take up Kenny Development Co.'s application for an adjustment permitting erection of a 300-square-foot free-standing directional sign on the northwest corner of Manuel T. Freitas parkway and Highway 101 at the Terra Linda entrance. The sign would advertise Kenney's new Terra Linda Oaks subdivision.

For about 50 Independent-Journal newspaperboys, Dec. 29 will be a day to remember. As a reward for securing new I-J subscriptions, the boys will be flown by Western Airlines to Disneyland, where they will have opportunity to ride the Concord Stage shown here into Frontierland after a trip across the picturesque Rainbow Desert. Or they may choose to make the trip in true pioneer spirit in a covered wagon, a chugging mine train or on the backs of mules. Shown overlooking the stagecoach is Disneyland's ghost town of Rainbow Ridge.

2 Neighbors End Dispute Over Fence

Two neighbors in Loch Lomond, fighting over a fence that lies between their properties, buried the hatchet Tuesday night at the San Rafael Planning Commission meeting.

Roland Hellman of 32 Manderly road won a variance to permit construction of a six-foot fence on top of a six-foot concrete retaining wall. But Hellman must complete the six-foot fence along the entire boundary. At present, one portion of the fence drops to about four feet six inches.

His neighbor, Bruce Bernhard, charged that the retaining wall and fence add up to a 12-foot fence and had threatened to put up a 12-foot fence of his own.

Planning commissioners laid the feud to rest by granting the fence to Hellman on condition that Hellman would not appeal the case to the city council.

The planners also set two public hearings for Aldersly, Inc., operator of the Danish Home at 326 Mission avenue, which wants to rezone adjacent property from duplex to multiple residence. The adjacent property, at 507 Belle avenue, has an old residence which the Danish home wants to add to its facilities. Public hearings will be held Dec. 23 and Jan. 13.

Chamber To Elect

Directors of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce will elect 1959 officers at a noon meeting next Thursday at the Ranch House restaurant, said George G. Washburn, chamber secretary.

Red Cross Names New Home Service Chief

Sidney C. Rapp of the Marin County Housing Authority has been appoited chairman of the home service committee of the Marin Red Cross by Mrs. Edward J. Ruff, chapter chairman.

Rapp replaces Mrs. Eugene Lockton of San Rafael, who recently resigned the chairmanship, but remains on the committee.

Home service of American Red Cross helps families of men and women in the armed forces, and veterans and their families meet personal and family problems.

New members of the committee named by Mrs. Ruff include Byron W. Leydecker, Mrs. John E. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Joseph Gutstadt, Mrs. Carl Q. Riznik, Mrs. Esther C. Whitman and Maj. Gerald M. Hayes.

Parking Violators To Get Only One Reminder

If you get a parking tag, you'd better pay up while it's still fresh in your mind.

Beginning next week, only one mailed reminder will be sent to the traffic violator before a warrant of arrest is issued, Municipal Court Clerk Edna L. Lemke announced today. In the past, two notices were sent to the violators.

The judges have ordered the discontinuance of the extra courtesy notice formerly given because other Bay Area communities are giving only the one statutory notice required by the state Vehicle Code.

Mrs. Lemke said dropping the extra notice will ease some of the clerical burden in the clerk's office.

A parking ticket paid within 11 days after the car has been tagged will not be penalized. If unpaid prior to the dispatch of the notice to the owner, $4 will be added to the original bail as shown on the back of the parking ticket.

If the citation is still delinquent and a warrant is issued, the bail will be $15 in most cases. If the original bail were in excess of $5, then the bail would be $10 more than the original bail.

Only about 8 per cent of the nation's estimated 350,000 blind persons are employed.

What Are The Real Facts About U. C. Enrollments?

Every once in a while we receive a book just loaded with statistics. We just did. It is from University of California and is entitled: Summary of Students, Fall Semester 1958.

Now ordinarily such a volume doesn't make inspiring reading, but because of the current interest in schools, we decided to look into it more closely than usual—with some surprising results.

We discovered that there is a distinct and dangerous trend away from poultry husbandry on the College of Agriculture campus at Davis. Not a single, solitary freshman is majoring in the course this year, while only one sophomore, two juniors and five seniors are studying it, a definite downward trend.

On the other hand Dietetics is becoming more popular. Eight freshmen girls are majoring in it (lucky husbands), while there were only four sophomores and seniors and just one junior.

Speaking of girls, fellows, if that's what you're lookig for in college try the Santa Barbara campus. Down there they've got 1,443 girls to only 1,279 fellows. It's the only U.C. campus where there are more of the pretties.

On the other hand, girls, are you looking for a fellow? Have you considered law—or oceanography? At Hastings Law School there are only 15 women enrolled to 508 men, but then maybe law students are kept pretty busy with torts and stuff. But then, what about a course in skin diving at a school with 51 men and only two girls? Wow! That's the situation at the Scripps Institute of Oceanography at La Jolla.

Incidentally, there isn't a single Marin student enrolled at La Jolla, but there are 13 students from here over at Hastings. In fact, there are 425 Marin students taking courses on all the U.C. campuses; that's out of a total of 44,005 men and women, less than one per cent.

Of course most of the Marinites are taking their training at Berkeley, where they are 344 strong. Davis comes in second with 27 from here, while 16 are over at the San Francisco medical center. Fifteen Marinites got the word and went down to Santa Barbara, but the book of statistics didn't make it clear whether Marin boys or Marin girls decided they liked it there. UCLA attracted only eight youths from Marin, while Riverside barely escaped being skunked when two Marinites registered.

There are reams of vital information in a book like this, but we'd like to close on this hopeful note:

Although there are no seniors, eight juniors at Berkeley are majoring in American Civilization. That's the same number of juniors who are majoring in Communications and Public Policy.

U.S. Is Leader Of Human Rights

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The observance of Human Rights Day yesterday by many national and local groups not only commemorated the anniversary of the adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights by the United Nations General Assembly, but marks a decade of effort here and abroad to obtain recognition of these rights as a moral obligation in every country and territory.

In the past the efforts of the United States have been notable. Our statesmen incorporated a Bill of Rights in our own constitution. In the lifetime of many of our citizens, another American statesman conceived the League of Nations as the world's initial effort to protect the rights of all peoples. Later it was our statesmen who were chiefly responsible for the more effective United Nations.

In future efforts, we look to America to take an even greater lead in establishing an international order which will assure the equal rights of all peoples.

Truly this is a great and revered nation. Her liberty has reached its highest degree. The intentions of its people are most praiseworthy. They are indeed worthy of being the first people to build the tabernacle of the great peace and proclaim the oneness of the world of humanity.

High Level Bond Campaign Needed

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The I-J is to be commended for granting so much coverage to analysis of the local bond issue failures.

To date, however, it has been almost "one-sided" inasmuch as the voters responsible for the defeats remain silent. To some wishful thinkers already contemplating special elections this silence is being construed as an expiation on the voters part.

I would like to submit the following opinions for consideration. They are my own, resultant of a few years of "door-bell-ringing election campaigns" here in Marin County. My motive in writing is to introduce a thought overlooked by experts before and after Nov. 4.

The majority of the people of Marin County, despite much opinion to the contrary, are a thinking people, a discriminating people. As such, they are sensitive to the needs of our ever expanding communities and are willing to assume responsibility at all costs — not at any price.

One person on the local scene recognized this and saw fit to establish a rapport with some 20,000 people. It is surely safe to assume that Dr. Virgil Hollis is thoroughly acquainted with and mindful of the mood of the people in regard to education.

As a thinking people, therefore, the Marin County voters qualify in having facts presented before them in an intelligent manner, unaccompanied by the aura of the "public - relations - type - boys" campaign that has prevailed and too often succeeded in other areas. Scare-ads, threats, gobble-de-gook, expediency and innuendoes are not the tactics of the humanitarian.

A worthy proposition that needed no glamour was Proposition H of San Anselmo. A yes majority on this issue disproved the "no-vote trend."

As a voter and out of respect for the many intelligent citizens I was privileged to meet, I suggest to those concerned a higher level of bond issue presentation and campaigning. Give the people pertinent facts only and do not be angered at their ability to separate the essential from the non-essential.

Ornamented Tree Brings Sadness

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I won't complain when Santa scares the kiddies,
I'll shop for gifts until my bones all ache
On Christmas day, I'll chop and stuf and whip and bake
Even raise a cup of cheer — that Yuletide's here,
But when I raise my eyes unto the cross to contemplate His gift of Love,
I only see — shining from the hills above — an ornamented tree.

Must Efficiency Bring Discomfort?

EDITOR:
Independent-Journal

You may publish this. The original has been sent to the city council:

Council Parking Committee,
San Rafael
Gentlemen:

"Parking"—"Parking Problems" — "Parking Committees" — words synonymous with San Rafael these years.

So we FINALLY develop parking lots, gloat over the additional spaces (with justification) and immediately erase 50 or more from the streets! First was the lack of parking space, now it's the slow traffic. Which is more important?

I don't know the answers and my sympathy to those who have tried, and try trying, to work out the problem. However, I question this in particular: Why the sudden enthusiasm for cutting out the few extra spaces in front of the Post Office on D street, also those on the slope above it—WHY this drastic measure during the Christmas rush?

Efficiency and discomfort seem to go hand in hand today—are these words also becoming synonymous?

Sincerely,
DAVINA KOSH

Simple Plan To Reduce Deficit

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

A beautifully simple plan to reduce the federal deficit will be brought before the House of Representatives soon.

The overpowering debt affects us all. This was evident in the last election when Joe Atlas (the American tax payer), Marin edition, turned thumbs down on more expenditure for either hospital or school. How will we win the desperate race out of this world, among other things, without more millions for rockets which, we hope, won't fizzle?

Rep. Paul Fine will advance an idea (again) which is not a vague, half conceived, esoteric blueprint to change the world, but a practical, workable plan to get us out from under—a national lottery.

Think it over.

STOPS DRIVING AT 81

An 81-year-old woman surprised officials by turning in her driver's license recently in Albany, N.Y.

The octogenarian had a perfect driving record. But she returned her license to the State Motor Vehicle Bureau with this thoughtful comment: "It would be a nice gesture to turn in my license and retire from driving a car voluntarily before I might become a menace to life on the highway."

To have the wisdom and courage to acknowledge one's limitations is tribute to anyone, old or young. It is even more commendable when such self-restraint shows a consideration for the well-being of others.

God has put it within the power of every one of us to contribute to the well-being of humanity by doing good and avoiding evil.

The more we realize that the peace of the world starts with each of us, the more alert we will probably be in thinking up practical ways to apply divine law and order to human affairs.

Deepen in me, O Jesus, a greater thoughtfulness for others.

Pet World's Elsa Maxwell Wants To Throw Equine Beach Party

NEW YORK (AP) — Mary Simpson, known as the Elsa Maxwell of the pet world, has an odd professional ambition. She wants to throw a beach party for horses.

"A beach is an ideal place for such a party," she explained. "Horses love the surf, but most of them rarely get to visit a beach."

Throwing parties for animals is now a career for this pretty, blue-eyed blonde.

Miss Simpson, an employee of the Hess Brothers department store in Allentown, Pa., is the world's only pet party consultant — at least as far as she knows.

But Mary, a college graduate who majored in Far Eastern history, doesn't think of her job as odd. She has loved animals all her life, enjoys catering to them.

"People have been throwing parties for their pets for some time," she said, "but it has been on a rather haphazard basis."

Miss Simpson likes to go over the animal guest list in advance — just as a professional Washington social hostess might.

"Animals don't differ much from human beings at a party," she observed. "They catch the air of excitement. They have their showoffs and their wallflowers. You have to be sure the guests will get along.

"So far I haven't supervised a party where we mixed canaries, parakeets and cats and dogs. But we've had a number of cat and dog mixed parties that came off very well.

"THE FACT a dog chases a cat outside the home has no bearing on how they will get along at a party. After they get to know each other, they behave very well. Cats and monkeys also get along well at parties."

Jealousy arises only when the guest pet of honor gets all the presents — or when two dogs want to show off at the same time.

"As at a children's party," cautioned Miss Simpson, "it is important that all the guests receive a favor. And it is better if the favors are identical. This keeps down envy."

Pets like to play games at parties just like people. Their favorite games. Mary said, are "bone scramble" and "hide the meatball."

WHAT SHOULD you give a pet as a birthday party present?

"The best present for a bird is another bird," said Miss Simpson. "The best way to surprise a cat or dog is to get it another toy like the very first one it ever had. It will remember — and be pleased.

"You can also get it a copy of some object it likes around the house but has been forbidden to play with — such as a slipper, lady's hat, rubber, or braided rug. But it is essential that you first use the object yourself, so that the pet will associate it with you. Otherwise he won't care for it."

Argument Is Whether Students Should Be Marked For Effort Or Achievement

The endlessly debated question—whether effort or scholastic achievement should be most rewarded — got two different answers in the past 10 days from two public bodies concerned with schools

The Marin County Grand Jury said achievement should be emphasized. The West Marin School Board said effort should be emphasized, and backed up its opinion by adopting a new report card for its 195 pupils.

ACTUALLY THE NEW report card will have two sets of marks.

First, the pupil will get a mark of A, B, C, D, or F for effort in his various subjects.

He will receive a mark of 1, 2 or 3 in achievement to indicate if he is in the top, middle or lowest one-third of his class. Two cards a semester will be augmented by one parent-teacher conference.

Supt. George Stratton explained that it will be possible for a low-ability pupil to receive a high letter grade and get a little boost to his morale. And it will end any "coasting through with A's and B's" by high ability pupils because they will be marked for their effort.

IN CONTRAST, the Grand Jury said in its report that it was not the high ability pupils nor the low ability pupils that concerned it so much as those with average intelligence who form the "great majority."

"Many are advanced from elementary school to high school and are eventually graduated without having mastered any proficiency in basic academic subjects. We feel that the administrators have been lax in not demanding higher scholastic achievement from the student of average mentality."

It should be said, in fairness, that this last statement was contradicted by Richard L. Foster, county superintendent of schools. Foster said results of standardized achievement tests indicated otherwise.

HOWEVER, SOME parents would quarrel that standardized achievement tests don't require very high achievement for any specific grade level. And the debate continues.

I have often wondered what happens to students, once graduated and working, who find that no longer does anyone particularly care about the amount of effort? It's only what they can produce that counts.

The answer to that argument would probably be that what they produce is not always dependent on book learning.

AS THE GRAND Jury observed:

"In order to improve the end product of the schools, the education of the pupils, we are of the opinion that nothing permanently constructive can be accomplished until there is instilled into the parents and the community at large a greater respect for learning. Academic achievement in the minds of a large segment of the public is running poor competition with athletics, extra curricular activities and social events, with natural reaction from youngsters."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Is It True We Can't Afford The Defenses That We Need?

Only the Armed Services Committees of the Senate and House can require a full accounting as to why the administration is cutting the Army and Marine Corps about 70,000 men.

Secretary of the Army Wilbur Brucker does not approve the cuts. Gen. Maxwell Taylor and Gen. Randolph McC. Pate oppose them. Defense Secretary Neil McElroy is not happy about them. Nobody in the Pentagon considers these cuts either wise or safe and yet nobody, including the President, will come right out and say to the country: "We can't afford the defenses we need."

THE ISSUE OF cutting back the Army and Marine Corps is thus becoming woefully blurred and the only way it is going to get unblurred is for Congress to press some searching questions upon every witness, military and civilian, whom the Pentagon sends to the Hill to explain its budget.

Congress deserves to get from the two generals and others their candid, professional judgment as to what these reductions would mean. To this end both Congress and the military chiefs will do well to bear in mind the commitment which Secretary McElroy gave to the Senate Armed Services Committee last June 25. He said:

"It is my conviction that officials of the Department when testifying before Congress should give their personal judgment and opinion when asked for them," and . . . "answer such questions frankly and honestly in the light of his professional knowledge and experience.... There should not be any question of retaliation or penalty for such testimony."

THERE IS THE KEY with which Congress can get the needed information.

The military chiefs are not to volunteer opinions which conflict with higher Defense Department policy.

But they are to answer "frankly and honestly" when asked. And no retaliation.

They certainly ought to be asked and I have no doubt that it will be nearly the first order of business after Congress convenes next month.

No knowledgeable person will assume that everything the military chiefs want is either attainable or absolutely necessary. Anybody who is charged with the responsibility of defending the nation wants about all he can get.

THEREFORE, THE HEART of the matter is this: At what point has the Administration stopped reducing padded military demands and at what point has it begun to cut the Army and Marine Corps on the theory that our "economy can't afford it?"

That is the core of the issue, now blurred by lack of information, which Congress needs to get at because Congress is alone free to decide what the country can afford to spend for its defenses. And if Congress will get the information out in the open, the American people will help it decide.

Making Trees Less Tasty To Beasts Urged

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A Washington forester said today that animal damage in the nation's timberlands could be cut in half by changing the taste of trees.

William S. Looney of Shelton, Wash., told the 49th annual Western Forestry Conference that animals have damaged about two million acres of timberland in the Pacific Northwest.

He said rabbits have feasted on 66,000 acres of seedlings in Washington and Oregon, deer and elk have browsed on about 60,000 acres, and bears have clawed their way through a million acres. Smaller animals accounted for the rest.

Foresters estimate that "animals cost the Pacific Northwest some 12 to 15 million dollars a year," Looney said.

"Basic control of animal damage lies in research in the food habits of these destructive animals," Looney said. "Perhaps a systemic repellent can be developed which will make trees taste more like hash instead of cake and thus discourage cellulose sabotage."

Space Research May Give Man Longer, Better Life

NEW YORK (AP)—Space research may lead to a better and even longer life for man.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency, said this today in a speech prepared for a convention of the Life Insurance Assn. of America.

Johnson said space projects involve almost a billion dollars this fiscal year, with 700 million dollars of it devoted to research.

Aside from the contribution to national defense, he said, the programs produce knowledge and techniques permitting still further increases "in our national productivity, our standard of living, and our way of life."

"Our manned satellite programs can lead to better health and life for all Americans," Johnson said.

"We shall have to develop foods and vitamins of great energy content, packaged and capsuled to efficiently and safely preserve the life of man in space. We may need drugs to perform new and wonderful missions for the space travelers.

"There is no reason to assume that such foods, vitamins and drugs will not also benefit those of us who remain behind on our globe. . . .

"In the vacuum of outer space, we may find environmental cures for the diseases of earthman; we may even discover means to directly increase the human life span."

GIs' Soft Early Life Blamed For Brainwash Success

Communist indoctrination of American soldiers captured in Korea succeeded because of the training (or lack of it) they received before entering the Army, an Army psychologist charged last night.

Thirteen per cent of American GIs captured in Korea turned collaborators, said Lt. Col. Frederick A. Zehrer, chief of the clinical psychology service at Letterman Army Hospital, in a speech before the San Francisco Psychological Assn.

In contrast, he related, the Turks captured by the Reds in Korea produced no collaborators.

The Turks, said Zehrer, "adapted themselves to the diet and scrounged for food. They maintained rigid discipline with rank respected as it was prior to capture; they refused to participate in indoctrination sessions; they stressed the point that if a leader was removed, the next in rank would be in command so that segregation would be useless.

"They believed in their cause they cared for one another. They had a language barrier in their favor, but when an interpreter was located, they sent him away rapidly."

But the Americans — or too many of them — "fell for" the system under which "progressives" received special treatment by their Chinese captors while "reactionaries" drew the work details and scanty food, the Army psychologist said.

The same mental attitudes that resulted in 13 per cent of the surviving Americans becoming "collaborators" accounted for a high death rate among the young GIs (average age 21 at capture) in the Red prison camps, said Zerer.

In one North Korean prison camp, he said, 400 of the 1,500 American prisoners died. In the same camp, all 229 Turkish prisoners survived.

Related the psychologist:

"An Army doctor, who was taken prisoner while caring for combat casualties and was decorated for his heroism . . . reported that at a certain point in his starvation, a young soldier would complain he was too weak to get his food. He would lie down, pull a blanket over his head and shut out the world . . . In a few days, he would be dead."

These Americans, Zehrer pointed out, were mostly men with little Army experience, who entered service as members of the army of occupation in Japan. Other United Nations units in Korea were composed principally of World War II veterans.

This, he argued, showed that the Americans had not developed the mental discipline and strength of will that should have been acquired before they ever entered Army service.

"This responsibility for youth," he said, "is one shared by parents, church and educators. . . . It includes a basic fortitude developed throughout early life by exposure to example and a basic system of personal values."

New Legislature Favors Tougher School Discipline

By JERRY HARRELL

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Tougher discipline in the classroom and stepped-up teaching of fundamentals are among the primary targets of the 1959 Legislature in the field of education.

Replies to an Associated Press questionnaire also s howed strong sentiment favoring:

A separate state board to run the state colleges, more state help for junior colleges and giving the Legislature a bigger hand in educational policies.

Asked if they think California's elementary schools and high schools are doing a good job, more than half of the lawmakers said no.

Three out of five said, however, they think the University of California and the state colleges are doing good jobs.

Almost 40 per cent said they want changes in the state's education laws. The same number said they favor more control of educational policies and operations by the Legislature. But many disagreed.

"I do not believe we should become quasi-educators," one assemblyman said. "I would oppose legislation fixing curriculum requirements."

Assemblyman S. C. Masterson (D-El Sobrante) took the opposite view:

"We have turned our schools over to the 'professionals' and now we electors find that we are dissatisfied with the job that is being done and we're powerless to force changes."

Assemblyman Sheridan N. Hegland (D-La Mesa) said he would resist "any effort to centralize more power in the Department of Education. I think that local school boards are best qualified to determine educational policies."

There was almost unanimous agreement in the demand for cutting out "frill" courses, increasing the solid subjects and establishing a firm discipline in the schools.

Recommendations ranged from a terse "eliminate progressive education" to letting teachers administer "on-the-spot timely physical force."

"I would like to see the rod returned to the teacher's hand so a teaching-learning environment can return to the classroom," said Assemblyman-elect Charles G. Garrigus (D-Reedley).

"Let's start teaching more fundamentals," said Sen John J. Hollister, Jr. (D-Coleta).

Assemblyman Frank Lanterman (R-La Canada) joined the call for "re-emphasis on disciplined learning habits" and "less emphasis on social adjustment."

While the battle over the curriculum looms as the most explosive issue, the lawmakers also face these other education problems:

1. The proposal for a separate board to run the state colleges, which is opposed by the State Board of Education and the Education Department.
2. School finances.
3. The continuing need for more classrooms.
4. Textbook selection.
5. Teachers' salaries.

Several legislators called for a speed-up in the state's school building program. One assemblyman urged year - round school sessions to make the fuliest use of existing buildings.

Hegland said he hopes something can be done to abolish "the monopoly now in the hands of the state Education Department over elementary textbooks."

The Legislature and the department are at odds over science books ordered early this year for first and second graders.

Hegland joined several others in calling for state financial aid to districts for building junior colleges.

Assemblyman Ernest R. Geddes (R-Claremont) noted:

"Communities are likely to, and do, put on pressure for a state college with no local taxes because it is cheaper than establishing a properly based junior college."

Legislation establishing a minimum wage for teachers and barring discrimination in the hiring of teachers was suggested by Assemblyman Phillip Burton (D-San Francisco).

Assemblyman Dorothy M. Donahoe (D-Bakersfield) urged "more realistic" state college courses in teacher training.

A consolidation of school districts with one district to a county was advocated by Assemblyman Charles J. Wilson (D-Los Angeles).

Several lawmakers said they preferred not to comment until the first report of the Joint Interim Committee on the Public Education System and the citizens' advisory commission make their reports.

The two groups also have called for more discipline and more teaching of fundamentals.

ANNUAL ROLE

Mill Valleyan Set To Play Santa Again

On this Christmas Eve, as usual on recent 24ths of December, LeMoyne (Lee) Porter of 101 Longfellow road, Enchanted Knolls, Mill Valley, will play Santa Claus to about 15 Mill Valley families and the community's Methodist Church.

Porter, who during the rest of the year is personnel manager for the marketing division of the Shell Oil Co., makes a real production of his portrayal of St. Nick.

First, with the aid of his wife Edythe, he compiles a list of homes at which an appearance of Santa has been requested and a dossier on each child at each home—age, distinguishing physical characteristics, present requested and where the present is to be found in the garage or grounds of the home.

Then he memorizes the list and hits the Santa trail, appropriately garbed.

He picks up the cached presents at each house, bursts in the door with a well-practiced "Ho, ho ho!" and hands out the gifts, addressing each recipient by name.

Mostly, he gets by without being recognized, but on occasion some smart tot spots neighbor Porter behind the whiskers.

Porter's annual performance in the role of Santa has been recognized by the Shell Oil Co. in an article in the current issue of its magazine, Shell News.

Warren Ailing, Won't Attend Ike's Dinner

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren is ill with a virus infection.

The White House announced today that Warren will be unable to attend tonight's official dinner for Supreme Court justices.

Justice Felix Frankfurter already was off the list because of a heart disturbance that sent him to a hospital.

Mail Gifts NOW, Says Postmaster

San Rafael Postmaster Warren H. Williams emerged from behind a pile of Christmas mail bags at the post office long enough to tell residents that "the time is now" to mail those Christmas cards and packages.

"It's too late to talk about early mailing," said Williams. "Time means everything now. Even a few hours delay in getting your cards and gifts mailed may mean disappointment to your friends and loved ones on Christmas Day."

USE AIR MAIL

If Christmas cards going out of Marin County are not dispatched promptly, they'd better go by air mail, the postmaster suggested.

He offered a reminder, too, to "be sure to include your return address on all Christmas card envelopes and package labels."

Every year, he said, many packages wind up in the dead letter office instead of under Christmas trees because of wrong addresses—and no return addresses.

Williams said volume of Christmas mail is already heavy at the San Rafael office, with the "big bulge" yet to come.

EXTRA PERSONNEL

Twenty-five extra men have already been added to the San Rafael Post Office's force to help unload, load and deliver the Christmas mail. By Monday, the number will be swelled to 100, Williams said.

The last two of seven extra trucks from military installations were to be turned over to the post office today. Four are from Hamilton Air Force Base, two from the National Guard's 579th Combat Engineer Battalion at Fairfax and two from the Army station at Two Rock Ranch.

Postal employees are digging in for the big drive to get everything delivered by Christmas Eve. The San Rafael Post Office will be open from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., including Saturday, and from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

"This year," said Williams, wishfully, "I'd like to see every mail bag empty and every post office employee relaxing at home on Christmas Eve."

Strep Infections On Increase Here

Streptococcic infections are on the increase in Marin, the weekly report of the Marin County Health Department indicated today.

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, said 14 "strep" infections were reported to her office last week. Eight of the cases were in San Rafael, two in Mill Valley, and one each in Kentfield, San Anselmo, Fairfax and a rural area.

There were four cases of measles (in Marin City, Mill Valley, San Anselmo and a rural area); two cases of mumps (in Kentfield and San Rafael); two cases of salmonella (in San Rafael), and one each of tuberculosis (in San Rafael) and pertussis (in Novato).

Anti-Negro Acts Told

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A parade of Negro witnesses has told a federal judge that state officials erected one barrier after another to keep Negroes out of Georgia State College.

Judge Boyd Sloane is hearing the suit of three Negro women who claim entrance requirements at the college discriminate against their race. There is no jury.

Judy Hassenzahl, a sophomore, read a list of 11 specific complaints about the food as the girls stood outside the dining hall just before it opened.

She listed seven major complaints: Greasiness, small portions, refusals to grant seconds on eggs for breakfast when there are some left, repeated servings of unpopular dishes, "running out of food listed on the menus, refusal to prepare more food until supkplies are completely distributed and thus causing long delays in meal lines, and dishes inappropriate to the weather, such as cold plates on cold days.

Immediately after the mistrial, the state started preparing for selection of a new jury to try Bright. But James R. Venable, defense attorney, sought and received a postponement on grounds that he and his associate Essley B. Burdine were physically unable to proceed at this time.

About Babies–Breast Feeding, Cruelty To Kiddies In Hospitals

Mrs. T. C. "I'm a mother. I'm also a registered nurse, and I work in a maternity hospital. I know from experience that breast babies usually get along better than bottle babies. Yet I hear doctor after doctor telling mothers not to bother with breast feeding. I'll admit it is easier with bottles. But don't the doctors care about the babies? Shouldn't they advise breast feeding, and tell mothers why it is important?"

Reply. I believe they care. But they're busy. Some doctors didn't take the college mental health courses which teach why breast feeding is superior. I share your concern. From the standpoint of babies' emotional welfare I urge all mothers to nurse their little ones. Ladies, please give nature's way a good trial.

HOSPITAL RULES

Mrs. M. S. "I'm starting a crusade for better hospital treatment of small children. My girl is 2½. Until she went to the hospital she was happy, lovable, emotionally stable. Then she had to have serious surgery. The hospital would not let either her father or me into her room before the operation. No one told her what was happening. She thought they were killing her, and suffered a terrible shock. After the operation our visits were limited to one hour daily. She cried for us constantly. They tied her down, and gave her sedatives. Now, six months later, she is a mess. A psychiatrist called her a 'gravely disturbed child.' He blamed the hospital. He said this happened frequently. Is he right? Whom can we sue?"

Reply. I'm sorry to say that the rigid, heartless procedures followed with small children by some hospitals can cause serious emotional damage. However what your hospital did is common. I doubt if you'll get far with a lawsuit. A few modern hospitals are better, especially those built for children only. Other things equal, parents always should try to get their little ones into hospitals which try to minimize fears. Let me join your crusade. Reforms are needed.

5 Men Sentenced For Drunk Driving

Five motorists, convicted of drunken driving, were sentenced Friday by Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin Municipal Court.

Russell Samuel Hoffman, 26, truck driver of 1109 Nye street, San Rafael, drew six months probation and $200 fine. Hoffman was caught on Francisco boulevard south of San Rafael on Nov. 21.

Two men drew five days in jail and $250 fine each for their second offenses. They are Lindy Calvin Backman, 33, of 615 Manuel drive, Novato, and Myron Franks, 56, of San Francisco.

Backman was caught by highway patrolmen last June 4. Since he is appealing the conviction, the judge stayed the execution of sentence.

Franks was arrested by Ross police on Nov. 22.

Kenneth Clayton Bon, 47, of Post Office Box 148, Sausalito, was fined $250 and put on six months probation for drunken driving. Mill Valley police arrested Bon on Nov. 26.

Kenneth Southgate Beebe, 51, must pay $280 fine. He was caught last Wednesday on West Blithedale avenue in Mill Valley.

Arthur Able Charleson, 60, of 108 Ethel avenue, Mill Valley, was freed of a drunken driving charge because the jury could not agree. But the jurors found him guilty of resisting arrest by Mill Valley police last Aug. 8 on Throckmorton avenue, Mill Valley.

For resisting arrest, Charleson is on six months probation, must pay $175 fine, and must make restitution for the torn uniform of a police officer and a dog which Charleson's car killed in the mishap.

Hub To Place Stop Signs On Greenfield Ave.

Residents of Greenfield, Terrace and Spring Grove avenues in San Anselmo have won stop signs to end use of Greenfield as a "speed way," despite the recommendation of Police Chief Donald T. Wood that the signs be denied.

The stop signs, and cross walks, were asked in a petition bearing 68 names — those of 67 residents of the area and of Principal James W. Stinchcomb of Isabel Cook School, which children from the area attend.

Stinchcomb joined several residents in urging the stop signs at Tuesday night's city council meeting.

SON WAS HIT

Principal presentation was by William Castelli of 55 Terrace avenue, whose small son escaped with bruises when struck by a car on Greenfield recently.

The petitioners asked and won: (1) signs stopping traffic on both Greenfield and Terrace where those avenues intersect; (2) crosswalks on both streets there and on Greenfield at the Miracle Mile; (3) moving of a stop sign at the Miracle Mile to conform with the crosswalk; (4) a southbound stop sign at the curve of Greenfield near the Miracle Mile entry. The council, at suggestion of City Manager Arthur W. Brewer, added a crosswalk across Miracle Mile at the Greenfield intersection.

Chief Wood approved the crosswalks but recommended against the stop signs, Brewer told the council.

OTHER ACTION

Also at the San Anselmo City Council meeting Tuesday night and early yesterday:

1. The council upheld a planning commission turndown of duplex zoning for a lot on Humboldt avenue owned by William Youngblood. Councilman Carmel H. Booth, although voting against the "spot zoning," said she would like to see the entire Lansdale area rezoned for multiple dwellings.
2. Warrants totaling $61,070.44 were approved.
3. The new business license ordinance, with retail licenses based on gross receipts, was approved as an emergency measure, effective Jan. 1.
4. The building code ordinance was postponed to Jan. 13, as were the board of review's report calling for re-instatement of James A. Farmer in the rank of police patrolman; a claim by R. E. Nolan because he had to pay workmen kept waiting when the city manager allegedly missed an appointment, and appointment of Warren Landon to the Marin Mosquito Abatement District board.

DANCING WITH BEAR BRINGS HER PRIZES

All she had to do was dance with a bear and she won:

1. A bottle of expensive perfume;
2. A jeweled wrist watch.

It happened on the "Truth or Consequences" television show recently, when Helen Berlew of San Quentin, waitress in a San Rafael restaurant, was on vacation in Southern California.

She missed her question—as master of ceremonies Ralph Edwards calculated she would—and as a result she was forced to take the consequences, in this case, to dance with a bear.

The bear was really a friend in bear's clothing. But says Helen, "At first sight those arms looked awfully big and hairy to me."

Deficiencies In Streets Reported

Larkspur and Corte Madera street deficiencies were outlined to the Larkspur committee to study merger at its meeting Monday at city hall.

Two lines of type showing the figures in the Public Affairs Research, Inc., merger study report were inadvertently dropped from the story in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

The deficiencies of $373,341 for Larkspur and $238,378 for Corte Madera are estimates of the cost of bringing half of each town's street mileage up to state standards.

William R. Zion, manager of the research firm, said he felt the figures were a fair indication of relative costs of any long-range street rebuilding program in the merged city.

Kids Give $70 For Jr. Red Cross

More than $70 was donated by San Rafael High School students to the Junior Red Cross in a recent membership drive in the student body.

The drive was organized by the Junior Red Cross Council, made up of representatives from organizations in the school.

Each club at the high school will choose a project such as making tray mats for hospital patients, providing Christmas tree ornaments, making cookies or candy, or providing entertainment for the hospitalized. The money which was donated will help to buy supplies for these projects.

Chamber In S.F. Elects Marinites

Two Kentfield men have been named to the board of directors of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce for 1959.

Re-elected was W. W. Davison of 636 Goodhill road, vice president, Standard Oil Co. of California. W. E. Waste of 44 Hill drive, executive vice president of the Bechtel Corp., was elected as a new director.

AUDUBON LECTURER—William H. Wagoner Jr., naturalist-photographer, will present color motion pictures of animal life in the Florida Everglades tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Olney Hall at College of Marin. The show, "A Touch of the Tropics," is the second of the Audubon Screen Tours series.

Library Board Sees Sketch Of Addition

An architect's sketch and estimated cost of an addition to the San Anselmo Public Library are to be presented at the library board's meeting on Jan. 12, said J. Edward Jones, member of the board.

Architect Adrian H. Malone showed the board preliminary sketches at a meeting Monday night.

The addition will about double the bookshelf capacity and seating capacity of the library. Cost is expected to fall between $30,000 and $40,000 Jones said. Construction will not begin until the next fiscal year.

Overflow Crowd Hears 'Messiah' At Seminary

By MARTHA BRUCKNER

The traditional Christmas music from the "Messiah" was presented Tuesday for the 22nd time by Dr. John Milton Kelly and the San Francisco Theological Seminary A Cappella Choir combined with the Marin Chorale. The seminary gymnasium was again too small to seat all those who wanted to share the true Christmas spirit of this performance.

Dr. Kelly rendered the wonderful Handel composition spiritually and musically in its pure and genuine meaning, with a performance that was cut like a gem down to the smallest detail. Moreover, this conductor achieves with his thoroughly trained chorus of more than 100 voices a mellow and rich sound quality rarely found in a local choir.

His carefully selected soloists displayed the same spirited beauty. The very light soprano of Marion Swartz (Novato), the warm contralto of Eleanor Clemmens (Oakland) and the firm metallic tenor of Robert Bruce, a seminary student, were already the delight of last year's presentation. As a newcomer, Cary Smith (Mill Valley), a student at San Francisco State College, matched their quality with his rich bass.

At the organ, Wilbur F. Russell, assistant director of music at the seminary, was, as always, an instrumentalist of high taste and skill. With Carolyn Witt from Corte Madera, the accompanying piano was in good hands.

However, the piano of our days brings a strange sound to Handel's music, which was written for a harpsichord. The music department of the seminary is interested in acquiring a harpsichord, after having installed recently some beautiful baroque registers in the organ at Montgomery Chapel. At the moment, however, there are not sufficient funds to purchase a concert-size harpsichord.

MARRIAGE-ON-THE-ROCKS — Alcohol puts many marriages on the rocks, but quite often drinking is merely a symptom of a more fundamental matrimonial problem. The basic problem may cause the drinking, not the other way around.

Our Drinking Habits

Heavy Drinking Isn't Always Marriage Villain

By HOWARD WHITMAN

Mix matrimory with heavy drinking, chill, and stir briskly, and you get marriage-on-the-rocks. It's a concoction that's becoming tragically popular at the nation's bars—of justice.

Here, typical of cases heard every day, is verbatim testimony from the Common Pleas Court of Philadelphia.

Lawyer: When did your husband start this drinking?

Woman (suing for divorce): Well, he used to drink right after we were married, but nothing came of it . . .

Lawyer: Then what happened?

Woman: He took to staying out two or three nights a week. He would come home blind drunk about 3 or 4 in the morning, unfit to go to work the next day. Finally he lost his job. He got another, and for a while everything was all right, but then it started all over again.

Probably the most frequent lines spoken when drinking squabbles end up in court are (from the wife), "He's such a wonderful man when he's sober, Judge," and (from the husband), "I'm sorry, Your Honor. Give me one more chance and I'll never touch another drop."

And so the merry-go-round goes round.

In an analysis of 1,434 divorces in Philadelphia, excessive drinking was charged in 21 per cent of the cases. It was a more frequent complaint (though it is not a legal ground for divorce in Pennsylvania) than cruelty, adultery, bigamy, fraud, and sexual aberrations combined.

In Chicago, a study of 1,000 families torn by marital discord listed drinking as the prime cause in 30 per cent of the cases.

Alcohol appears, on the surface at least, an execrable villain. But there is more to the story. If drinking were a cause in itself, how is it that millions of married couples drink quite a bit and remain happily in love?

A woman goes to a lawyer and starts her tale of woe with, "Everything was all right until my husband started drinking." And in that very line is the joker. Everything wasn't all right. That's why he started drinking.

Today the enlightened judge recognizes excessive drinking as a symptom, like a fever which is not a basic disorder but rather a signal that someing more fundamental is awry.

Instead of trying to cure the malady by destroying the marriage, he tries to cure the person and save the marriage. He sends the excessive drinker for counseling or treatment to a family agency, a psychiatrist, or A.A.

In its nearly quarter-century of experience with big drinkers, Alcoholics Anonymous has learned, among many things, that "the causes of alcoholism may stem from the problem drinker's early childhood and (many married couples) have assumed, mistakenly, that the alcoholic drinks to excess solely as an expression of rebellion against his or her mate."

In other words, it might be as bad in any marriage. Cure the person!

Lagunitas School District will offer its seven-acre Woodacre property, once intended as a second school site, for sale to the highest bidder Jan. 14 at 8 p.m.

The five district trustees last night called for bids. The Woodacre property is located on the south side of Sir Francis Drake highway.

Supt. Clifford L. Frye reported that since September, the Lagunitas School has lost 38 pupils. Present enrollment is 350.

TO TRANSFER PUPILS

The board members approved a plan to move first graders out of a small library building into a room now used for sixth grade instead of renting an additional room at the San Geronimo Community Presbyterian Church.

The shift will take place when pupils return to classes on Jan. 5 after Christmas vacation. The two sixth grade classes will be reorganized and a small group of sixth graders will move into the library building, Frye said.

The first graders will get a new room but they will remain on double sessions.

Marin, Bay Area Jolted By Quake

IT'S STILL HOT, DRY; NO RAIN YET IN SIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The temperature in San Francisco reached 71 degrees before noon today, an all-time high for Dec. 11, and the city's fifth heat record in as many days.

Smoke and haze also worsened. At Oakland and San Francisco airports flights were on instrument operations.

Temperatures throughout the state yesterday generally were above normal.

No rain was yet in sight. The Weather Bureau put it this way:

"A storm far out in the Pacific was no threat to California at this time."

County Escapes Damage

Residents of Marin and the entire Bay Area were jolted awake at 1:52 a.m. today by an earthquake shock that measured 4.75 on the Richter scale at the University of California seismograph.

Several aftershocks followed the initial quake.

No damage was reported in Marin. Broken dishes and cracked plaster were reported in San Francisco, Daly City and South San Francisco.

Dr. Don Tocher, University of California seismologist, was awakened by the quake and hurried to his laboratory at Berkeley. He said the shock apparently centered near Daly City, and suggested it was a long-delayed aftershock of the San Andreas fault quake that broke water mains and building foundations there on March 22, 1957.

TWO AFTERSHOCKS

A mild aftershock, with a Richter magnitude of only 2 points, hit the Daly City area at 4:41 a.m. today, and still another, with a reading of 2.5, at 6:55 a.m.

Among Marinites shaken by the tremblor was Mrs. Fred Catz of 355 Sunset trail, Novato. She said she and her family moved to Marin from Daly City less than a month ago to get away from earthquakes.

"This was nothing," she said, compared to what they experienced in Daly City on March 22 last year. "We were right on the center" of that one, she declared.

Police switchboards buzzed in San Rafael and San Anselmomo as the quake awakened sleepers.

BOARD LIGHTS UP

Officer Donald Ray, on late watch duty at the San Anselmo police station, said the switchboard there "looked like a Christmas tree for awhile."

"Groggy voices would ask, 'what was that?' But most of them assumed it was an earthquake," said Ray.

A woman resident of San Anselmo, just off the Miracle Mile, said she "thought sure the walls had cracked, but I checked them this morning and there wasn't a crack."

Hugh Turner of 1470 Pastel lane, Novato, manager of radio station KTIM, said he had slept

Sonic Boom Jolts Wide Marin Area

Things were shaky in Marin.

At 4 p.m. yesterday, not quite 10 hours before an earthquake jolted the Bay Area and awoke many sleepers, Marin County and San Francisco were shaken by what apparently was a sonic boom.

An F104 Starfighter had just taken off from Hamilton Air Force Base, climbed to 40,000 feet and headed north. But officials at the base were quick to deny it could have caused the jar.

HEADING NORTH

"The plane was heading north. If it had caused a boom, it would not have been felt south of here because sonic booms always travel in the direction of flight," declared a 28th Air Division spokesman.

Alameda Naval Air Station also disclaimed responsibility for the sonic boom.

SHARP SHOCK

The shock was sharp throughout most of Marin County and in parts of San Francisco.

Sgt. William Woodington of the Belvedere Police Department said "I thought the building was coming down" when the jar hit the city hall.

Woodington reported feeling two distinct shocks, as did Alto Fire Chief Carl Heynen Jr., who was in Strawberry when the boom hit, and women in Corte Madera and on the Del Mesa ridge in Kentfield who telephoned the Independent-Journal.

Mrs. Rose Serio of 1581 Sir Francis Drake boulevard, San Anselmo, mother of Asst. Chief Sam N. Serio of the San Anselmo Police Department, said the jar "almost threw me off my chair."

Homestead Fire Chief Chester Kirby said he saw two jets maneuvering high over the bay in the direction of Richmond at the time of the boom.

"I though sure somebody had dropped an atom bomb," said Sgt. Guy Gibbs of the Marin City sheriff's substation.

Industrial Development Rate In '58 Doubles '57 In Marin

Industrial development in Marin during 1958 has been proceeding at a rate double that of 1957, and capital investment involved is three and one-half times greater, the Marin Development Foundation reported today.

To date this year the foundation has recorded 12 industrial building projects compared with six last year. This year's investment in land, buildings and equipment totals $1,678,500, as against $480,000 in 1957. In jobs created, the difference is even more pronounced, with figures of 226 and 43.

Eight of the developments were new industries and four were expansions. Seven are in San Rafael, three in Sausalito, one in Larkspur and one in West Marin near Olema.

Foundation president Walter Freitas commented: "Marin's industrial progress this year has been healthy and diversified. I believe it evidences to Marin that tax-broadening, non-residential assessed valuation can be added to the benefit of the county without harmful effect on our way of life. Also, it is evidence to business executives and industrial developers throughout the Bay Area that, despite its past reputation to the contrary, Marin does have a place for successful and harmonious operation by many types of industries."

The foundation listed the following industrial projects:

Baban Concrete Pipe and Products Co., 2074 Redwood highway, Larkspur: New plant opened in July, representing $50,000 capital investment, for manufacture of concrete drain tile and other prefabricated concrete products; seven jobs created.

H. C. Little Co., Woodland avenue, San Rafael: Expansion totaling $100,000 to plant manufacturing water heaters, gas boilers, oil furnaces and incinerators; 20 jobs added.

Knoles and Co., 96 Woodland avenue, San Rafael: New business opened in March in new 6,800-square-foot building with investment of $100,000, for fabricating and installing heating and air conditioning equipment; five to 10 jobs created.

Metalcald, Inc., Gate 5 road, Sausalito: New $200,000 business opened in May, making nickel-chrome plated chinaware, also nickel, silver and copper plating; created five jobs.

Mission City Meat Co., 659 Irwin street, San Rafael: New $200,000 meat packaging and wholesaling plant of 14,000 square feet nearing completion, which will create 23 jobs.

Mission Wood Products, 120 Front street, San Rafael: New business opened in February in rented building, for manufacture of prehung door units, etc., creating seven jobs.

Heart Attack Ruled Out In Car Fire Death

The car fire which burned to death 69-year-old Frank B. Shouse, member of a prominent Solano County family, at Tiburon yesterday started inside the car and never reached the gasoline tank, investigators reported today.

An autopsy showed Shouse was alive when the fire started, and did not die from a heart attack with the fire following, Coroner Frank J. Keaton reported.

DUPUIS INVESTIGATING

Fred G. Dupuis, special agent for the National Board of Fire Underwriters, and Gene Helm, assistant San Francisco manager of the National Auto Theft Bureau, had raised the possibility that a cigar or cigarette might have dropped from from Shouse's dead hand after a heart attack claimed him as he sat in his stalled car on the extension of Mar East road.

Dupuis said his investigation showed the fire definitely started inside the car, apparently in the back seat. Shouse's body was found seated half-turned in the front seat, with one arm extending over the backrest. His key container lay on the smoldering rear seat.

STOMACH EMPTY

Coroner Keaton said the autopsy showed Shouse's stomach was empty, indicating he had nothing to drink for at least two hours and no substantial food for at least six hours before he died. Further tests of the body fluids were being made.

Just when Shouse died remained undetermined. But apparently it was not long before

STOLEN CAR FOUND (WHERE OWNER LEFT IT)

San Rafael police looked for a "stolen car" for almost 24 hours but finally canceled the report last night when the owner remembered she had parked it somewhere else.

Carol Ann Lucas of 180 Miller avenue, Mill Valley, thought she had parked her car in Macy's parking lot in San Rafael Tuesday morning. About 5 that night she reported her car stolen.

Then at 4:45 p.m., she came to the police station when she remembered she had left her car in a parking lot at Court and Mission streets. It was still there.

Yule Star To Glow Again On Mt. Tam

At dusk tomorrow, the 64-foot star atop Mt. Tamalpais will again be lighted for the Christmas season, according to Lt. Col. John P. Byrne, commanding officer of the 666th Aircraft Control and Warning Station on the mountain top.

Colonel Byrne said Mill Valley Mayor Robert D. Huber has been invited to throw the switch which will light the decoration, visible over much of the Bay Area.

Made up of strings of lights, 60 in all, the star is strung on cables between two 90-foot antenna poles near the station's radar dome.

Sewer Backup 'Ruins' House; Family Flees

A Marinwood family of five, including a 2-year-old child, was routed from their home today by sewer water which bubbled over the toilet bowl and overflowed throughout the house.

After four hours of frantic calls for help, Mrs. Dale W. Blanton of 269 Blackstone drive, declared various officials had given her the run-around but no relief.

Shortly before noon, an official of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District ordered the family to leave because the home is not fit for human habitation until thoroughly cleaned. An engineer from the sanitary district was at the home but could not find the source of the trouble.

A neighbor drilled holes in hardwood floors to allow the water to drain out of the living quarters.

Mrs. Blanton's husband, who is assistant sales manager of Enterprise Engine and Machinery Co. in San Francisco, was away at work.

They have three children, Rusty, 10; Debbie, 8, and Wendy, 2. The youngest baby was being cared for in a neighbor's home.

"Our home is ruined," Mrs. Blanton cried.

She said the toilet bowl started bubbling over about 8:15 this morning. She said she called several officials in San Rafael, who kept referring her to others. About 9:15, she called the sheriff's office in desperation. Sheriff's deputies called the sanitation department, which in turn notified engineer J. Warren Nute of the Las Gallinas Sanitary District.

"I phoned everybody, but nobody knows what to do," Mrs. Blanton said.

Novato Doctors To Form Corporation

Nine Novato doctors agreed last night to form a corporation to build a hospital in the North Marin community.

The decision was reached at a meeting with Dr. John C. Siemens, administrator of Ross General Hospital and adviser to the Novato group, at the Twinbrook Medical Center in Novato.

Details of the organization were unobtainable this morning.

Sausalito Planners Approve Church, Apartment, Motel Jobs

Projects totaling approximately a million dollars were given the green light by the Sausalito Planning Commission last night.

By 9-0 vote, the commission granted a use permit and side variances which will permit construction of a new Star of the Sea Catholic church, designed by Arnold Constable & Son of Sausalito. It is planned for a location opposite the present church on Harrison avenue.

Also approved by unanimous vote was the proposed 39-unit overwater apartment project on the historic Nunes Brothers Boat Works property at Second and Main streets. It is to be built by William McDevitt Co. of San Rafael.

The commission approved by 7-2 vote a use permit for a 30-unit motel at Bridgeway and Olive streets for Jessie F. Silva of San Francisco. Chairman Victor E. Hecht and secretary Ruth Sisson dissented, contending the matter should first be presented at a public hearing.

The way is now cleared for construction on all three projects.

Planning consultant Sydney Williams reported by letter that the completed city master plan would be presented at the Jan. 14 commission hearing.

Chairman Hecht said hearing dates on the plan would be set that night, with the expectation that about five hearings would be held on consecutive nights.

The board received a request

Midyett Campaign Cost Totals $4,620

Donald E. Midyett's unsuccessful campaign for sheriff cost a total of $4,620, according to an expense statement on file with the county clerk.

This is about $1,800 more than the amount spent by Sheriff-elect Louis P. Mountanos, who lists his total expenses as $2,825.

Midyett put up $100 himself, and the remaining $4,520 came from contributions.

Virgil Sydney Hollis, the new county superintendent of schools, says his campaign cost $1,967. His opponent, Samuel N. LeCount reported his campaign expenses as $3,381.

Report Of Body Spurs Bay Search

Report that a body was floating in Richardson Bay near the north end of Richardson Bay Bridge sent sheriff's deputies and a seaplane on the search yesterday about 1:45 p.m.

Inspector Mike Melovich and Deputy Arthur Leal said they found no evidence of any body. A plane from Commodore Aviation flew over the bay but failed to spot anything.

Sausalito police called the sheriff's office reporting that an unidentified motorist had notified the Coast Guard about a floating body

Convict Misses Trapeze, Suffers Injury To Back

A San Quentin Prison inmate tried a double flip on a trapeze bar yesterday afternoon and missed, falling about 20 feet and injuring his back.

C. J. Mack, 41, convicted of mayhem in Los Angeles County three years ago. X-rays disclosed a vertebra fracture. Mack underwent five hours of surgery at the prison hospital and was reported in good condition today.

He entered San Quentin in June, 1957, on a six-month-to-14-year term. He was at the state reception-guidance centers at Chino and Vacaville before being transfered here.

The trapeze and parallel bars are located in the lower yard for use in the institution's supervised recreation program.

J. E. French Co. To Handle Simca Car Line In Marin

The J. E. French Co. of San Rafael, Dodge-Plymouth auto dealership, has been appointed Marin dealer for the Simca car, it was announced today.

The Simca is built in France. Its 1959 line, including four models, will go on display at the J. E. French Co. showroom at 1542 Fourth street, San Rafael, shortly after Jan. 1, according to managing partner Leon C. Smith.

Chrysler Corp. dealers will handle the Simca throughout the United States. The corporation recently purchased the controlling interest in the Simca plant.

The 1959 line will offer two four-door sedans, a station wagon and a convertible, with the lowest-priced sedan to sell for less than $1,900 delivered in Marin and equipped with a heater, Smith said.

Walter (Buzz) Kilborn, San Rafael, has been Marin distributor for Simca in conjunction with his tire, recapping, brake service and wheel alignment business. Kilborn said he was notified of the change of dealership only two days ago, and does not yet know whether he will take on a dealership for some other car.

"For the present, we will concentrate on our tire, brake and alignment business," he said.

The new Eagle Scout will be given his challenge by Hugh Turner, manager of radio station KTIM and Marin Boy Scout Council executive board member.

Norman entered Scouting in September, 1953, while living in Larkspur. His family moved to Novato, where he became a member of Troop 56 and later, a member of Explorer Post 56.

In October he joined Troop 48, sponsored by the Bel Aire Property Owners Assn. He has been named junior assistant Scoutmaster by Scoutmaster M. T. McMillan.

Sheriff's Air Patrol Elects New Officers

William B. Barnes of San Rafael was elected captain of the Marin County Sheriff's Air Patrol Squadron at a meeting last night in San Rafael City Hall.

Plans were made at the meeting for the squadron to be hosts for a "fly-in" in January of other units in California, Nevada and Arizona.

Barnes said other officers elected were Vic Hedemark of Santa Venetia, lieutenant, and Rubin Hendrickson of Novato, lieutenant adjutant.

Outgoing officers are Alfred H. Hansen, Marc Palen and Claire Griffin.

Hansen will be in charge of the one-day fly-in visit and meeting in January. A date has not yet been set. Installation of new officers will be held Jan. 10.

The members of the squadron are unpaid deputies who assist the sheriff's office during emergencies. The men furnish their own equipment.

Old Oil Derricks Felled Just Like Redwoods

HUNTINGTON BEACH (AP)—Timber-r-r!

California's forest of old wooden oil derricks are coming down—and when they hit they bounce.

Just like the giant trees of the north woods, these 136-foot-high Goliaths are weakened at the base by sawing and then toppled over onto the ground.

There is no more economical way of removing these unsightly relics of a bygone age. Dismantling them would take more man hours than the lumber is worth.

Sometimes there isn't room enough for the derrick to fall intact and it is topped—in much the same way that logging crews top especially tall trees.

An expert in this work—a by-product of the increasing use of portable drilling rigs—is H. R. Reed of Huntington Beach. Reed pulls over about 100 derricks a year and figures he's going to be in business for a long time.

"Next year is the deadline for all wooden derricks to be pulled out of Long Beach," he says. "That should keep us hopping for a while."

Reed and his crew of two have to hop fast at times.

"Many of the derricks are rotted out," he says, "and as we start to pull them over one leg or the other is apt to break too soon, making the derrick twist instead of falling in a straight line."

There are other dangers.

Derricks are pulled over by a steel cable running from the top of the tower to a winch on Reed's truck. The man running the winch is in the direct line of fall.

"I've had timbers stick smack through the windshield of the truck," Reed recalls.

So far, he's not been hurt this way. His only major injury was suffered in a fall when a rotten timber on a derrick platform gave way. He spent 11 months in the hospital recovering from that one.

Why does he keep on doing it?

The answer to that one is easy—$350 per derrick.

PHONE BOOK TO FEATURE CIVIC CENTER

Marin's new telephone directory, due for distribution next April, will carry a front cover depicting the new civic center and fairgrounds at Santa Venetia.

The board of supervisors today approved a drawing of the cover submitted by Lloyd Marshall, district manager of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. Supervisor William D. Fusselman voted no "to be consistent." He has opposed the civic center development.

The drawing on the phone book, of which there will be 75,000 distributed, looks at the site from above Puerto Suello Hill. It shows the main buildings and the auditorium in the foreground, the fairgrounds and other developments in the distance.

Tam High Dance Set

La Nuit de Noel, this year's Tamalpais High School Girls' League dance, will be presented in Ruby Scott auditorium tomorrow evening starting at 9 o'clock. The Art Club, under president Pencho Dimitroff, is doing the decorations in "night before Christmas" style.

The Maine Sardine Council claims that if all the sardines canned in Maine during as ingle year were lined up tail to tail, the "procession would stretch 10,000 miles.

Guide Dogs Gets $140,000 Bequest

Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., of San Rafael will become $140,000 richer through the will of the widow of a Dupont executive.

The will of Mrs. Edna Temperance Grubb of Oakland, widow of Reginald Grubb, executive of E. I. Dupont de Nemours and Co., was filed yesterday in Alameda County Superior Court. The will left $2,783, 183 to 14 charitable organizations, including the $140,000 to Guide Dogs, plus $70,000 to 11 relatives. The total of charitable bequests was one of the largest ever recorded in Alameda County, court attaches said.

Mrs. Grubb took her own life on Sept. 10. She was 69.

Marin Youths Suspected In Car Theft Ring

Breakup of a car theft ring involving Marin County youths, suspected of driving a stolen Thunderbird into Mexico to obliterate identification, was reported by sheriff's deputies today.

Two youths from Marin and a garage man from San Francisco were being held for further questioning by San Francisco police. Other suspects were being sought.

WOODACRE SUSPECT

One suspect is Leslie Martin Booth Jr., 20, of Rock Ridge and Madrone, Woodacre, where a cut-up Thunderbird was found by Sheriff's Deputies Kenneth Irving and William Christensen last week. Booth was not there when deputies called. Relatives said the youth had gone to Mexico.

San Francisco police joined the investigation because a red 1955 Thunderbird had been stolen from Jack A. Baker of San Francisco last Nov. 8. The Federal Bureau of Investigation also joined the case because it involved the possible transportation of a stolen car over state lines.

CLAIMED PURCHASE

On Monday, when Booth returned from Mexico, investigators questioned him. Booth maintained he had bought the car from a friend known only as "Little Bill" at a drive-in in San Rafael. Deputies said Booth finally admitted he knew some of the men who were taking stolen items to his home in Woodacre.

Tillman and Phillip Sheridan of 59 Almenar drive, Greenbrae, were arrested by San Francisco police Tuesday. Others, including a San Anselmo youth, are also suspected of being members of the ring.

Marinite Steps Down From Chairmanship

Alfred J. Jacobs of San Anselmo, assistant transfer agent with Standard Oil Co. of California, has been succeeded as chairman of the San Francisco Stock Transfer Assn. by William W. Bertram of San Francisco, trust officer with the Bank of America.

Other officers for 1959, installed yesterday at the group's annual dinner meeting in San Francisco, are Leland S. Bright of San Carlos, vice chairman, and Merle Kimberling of San Francisco, secretary-treasurer.

Hub Trustees Retain DePue, Two Assistants

Four trustees of the San Anselmo School District last night unanimously re-elected Supt. Harold R. DePue and Asst. Supts. James R. Jordan and Gladys K. Zumwalt to continue during the 1959-60 fiscal year.

The San Anselmo trustees earlier voted that the next fiscal year would be their last in a 40-year confederation with Fairfax and Kentfield school districts.

Salaries of the three superintendents will be discussed when teachers' salaries are considered next spring.

TO VISIT SCHOOLS

DePue reported that Dr. Bernard Lonsdale, a consultant of the state Department of Education, would visit San Anselmo schools Jan. 14 and 15. San Anselmo is one of the school districts to be included in a state-wide study of seventh and eighth grade curriculum.

Robert Johnston and Val Travaglini, teachers at Hidden Valley School, reported high interest among youngsters in four classes who are following television courses on KQED, especially among those watching conversational Spanish. The one-school project is underwritten financially by the Hidden Valley Parents Club.

ATTEND MEETING

Three members of a Sleepy Hollow committee looking into a rapid learner program attended last night's board meeting: Mrs. Lyman McBride, Mrs. Leonard Ward and Mrs. Eugene Hammond. The group of about a dozen members has held an organizational meeting and has at least a six-month study before it, estimated DePue.

Mrs. Zumwalt reported successful completion of a six-meeting series at Brookside School on teaching grammar, punctuation and reading.

The San Anselmo trustees received a resolution of the Marin County Labor Council saying the school district should not restrict teachers from getting outside jobs. No action was needed since San Anselmo District has no such restriction.

In executive session, the board heard reports on a truant boy who has not been to school since Dec. 1. No action was taken by the board, DePue reported.

2 Die In Refrigerator

NATIONAL CITY (UPI)—An unused refrigerator in the garage of their home has claimed the lives of Michael Garcia, 5, and his brother, Mark Anthony, 4.

Police said the children apparently locked themselves in the refrigerator yesterday while playing late in the afternoon. Searchers found them last night. They had suffocated, police said.

WHAT'S THIS? A HEFFALUMP?

Brian Reid of Macon, Ga., was walking home from work the other day when he spied this creature. It looked rather like the heffalump in "Winnie the Pooh." Reid tried to get the jar off with soap and grease, but finally had to break it. The creature turned out to be a mongrel pup who apparently got into the predicament while hunting for food. Brown Names Dalsimer To State Post

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov.-elect Edmund G. Brown today appointed Vincent S. Dalsimer, Bellflower attorney and lifelong Democrat, to the $15,000-a-year post of director of the state Department of Professional and Vocational Standards.

Dalsimer, 37, is vice mayor of Bellflower who served briefly as a deputy attorney general under Brown in 1951. He was 23rd Congressional District chairman for the Brown-for-governor campaign last fall and in 1949 was state treasurer of the Young Democrats.

Dalsimer will succeed H. Jack Hanna as head of the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards, an agency which regulates contractors, doctors, phamacists and other professions and the state Athletic Commission.

Construction of the Leaning Tower of Pisa began in 1174.

Fire Kills 6 In Family

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—A family of six sleeping in two beds in a three-room frame house burned to death early today.

The victims were Elmer Littlejohn, 29; his wife, Betty, 25; and their four children, Gary, 7; Gail, 5; Dorothy, 3, and a 5-week-old son, Dale Ray.

Deputy sheriffs said that an oil cooking stove probably set fire to the house.

The bodies were found either in or near the beds, indicating that the flames had spread so quickly none had a chance to escape. The fire broke out about 5 a.m.

Pardon My Error

DERBY, England (UPI)—Police Sgt. Joseph Shorthouse blushed and took a second oath in court yesterday, after first reciting: "I swear to tell the truth, the whole truth and anything but the truth."

EIGHTY YEARS TOGETHER — Mr. and Mrs. Peter Peterson of Fairview, Utah, who observed their 80th wedding anniversary today, still get a kick out of an old-fashioned stereoscopic viewer. (AP Wirephoto)

Utah Pair Starts 81st Year Of Married Life

FAIRVIEW, Utah (AP) — All the days of their married life have started with a prayer, and today—their 80th wedding anniversary—was no exception for Peter and Celestia Peterson.

He is 98 and she is 97.

This central Utah town honored the couple with a testimonial dinner last night. A tape recording was made and will be played to them today because they couldn't make it to the dinner. Both are hard of hearing.

Mayor Otis Nielsen and Apostle LeGrand Richards of the Latter-day Saints (Mormon) Church called their lives and marriage a shining example of love and devotion.

They were married Dec. 11, 1878, in St. George, Utah, 250 miles southwest of here.

"My wedding dress had ribbons on it, but Peter took them off," recalls the silver-haired Mrs. Peterson. "He said, 'You're pretty enough without those.'"

Peterson, then a strapping 18-year-old farmer, had driven a wagon load of grain eight days to get to St. George from here. The grain was sold to pay for their wedding journey, another eight-day trip by horse-drawn wagon through rugged mountainous country only recently cleared of hostile Indians.

Peterson credits their longevity to plain living and the fact that neither he nor his wife ever smoked or drank.

"We have always lived congenially," he said.

They have 253 blood descendants. Adding those related by marriage, the family tree numbers 326.

"I gave birth to 10 sons and daughters and only had a doctor for one of them," says Mrs. Peterson. Seven of the 10 survive and are among those honoring their parents today.

New Plan Studied For Hall, Hospital

Marin County, unsuccessful in obtaining voter approval of a bond issue for a juvenile hall and hospital in Lucas Valley, is exploring the possibility of obtaining the facilities through a lease-purchase arrangement.

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen told the board of supervisors Tuesday that he has written letters to seven firms, including insurance companies, asking for proposals for private construction of the Lucas Valley buildings, to be acquired by the county through lease-purchase.

Jensen noted that there is little information available on experience of other California counties in the lease-purchase field. Only Los Angeles has entered such an arrangement, and he has not yet obtained adequate information about that transaction, Jensen said.

The administrator noted, too, that there may be too much delay in a lease-purchase arrangement, even if a favorable proposal is received.

He has been informed, he said, that lending institutions may require a court decision, in a "friendly suit," approving such a deal, before they will go into it. If so, the time required for litigation would probably be so long as to rule out this type of financing for Marin, Jensen said.

Prefab Homes Office Approved

The Corte Madera Planning Commission has approved site plans for a prefabricated homes sales office and storage yard on Paradise drive northeast of the Highway 101 interchange.

Pacific Modulars Corp. plans a landscaped, prefabricated model home at the site. The model also will serve as office. A materials storage yard will be at the rear.

The National Park Service reports that more than 20 million people each year visit the historic sites under its administration.

Dixie Board Accepts Bid On New School

Trustees of the Dixie School District last night accepted the low bid for construction of the proposed Lucas Valley Elementary School and approved preliminary plans for a seventh and eighth grade school in Terra Linda.

W. J. Kubon of San Rafael was successful bidder with a base bid of $151,623, plus utility and site work bid of $27,239.

The school will be located in the center of the new Lucas Valley Homes tract near Marinwood.

Construction of the first eight-classroom unit on the 10-acre site is expected to begin early next month, said Supt. Dennis B. Willis.

TEMPORARY NAME

In approving preliminary plans for another seventh and eighth grade school, the trustees also decided to give it the "tentative temporary" name of Dixie Intermediate School. Further board iscussion is expected to be given for choice of a permanent name. This school will be located on an extension of Las Gallinas avenue, south of Freitas parkway in Terra Linda. Construction is expected to begin sometime in 1960.

The board agreed to joint action with the San Rafael School District to transfer portions of the Dixie district at the top of the ridge north of San Rafael into the San Rafael district.

NO HOMES YET

No homes have been constructed in the area, which lies west of Rafael Highlands.

The board voted to operate a summer school program next year and to study "point by point" the report of the Marin County Grand Jury on the county's schools

The board also authorized an agreement with the Terra Linda Corp. to lease the Terra Linda Community Building for one year for use as four classrooms.

Resignation for health reasons was accepted from Mrs. Katharine Strauss, seventh and eighth grade teacher.

The board voted to cancel its next regular meeting, scheduled Dec. 24.

rary books. Selection of the $100 worth of books was "tops," said Frye.

The trustees adopted a policy on use of the school building by outside groups specifying that the time requested shall not interfere with the regular school program and adequate advance notice must be given. They approved a request to use the school by the Woodacre Improvement Club, recently burned out of its clubhouse.

The board also decided that starting next July it would sign contracts with its school custodian and bus driver instead of simply hiring them without any written contract.

RUSS THREATEN TO QUIT BERLIN UNILATERALLY

LONDON (AP) — Russia tonight accused the Western Powers of avoiding a business-like settlement of the Berlin crisis and threatened to end its partial occupation of the divided city unilaterally.

"If the governments of the United States, Britain and France do not wish to cooperate with the Soviet Union in solving this problem, nothing remains for the Soviet government but to relieve itself of the functions connected with maintaining the occupation regime in Berlin," Moscow Radio said.

The radio, broadcasting a summary of Tass statement on the former German capital, added "a corresponding agreement" 'would be concluded with the East German government.

Two weeks ago, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev proposed a demilitarized free city of Berlin.

One-Way Street Plan Favored

San Rafael's one-way street committee indicated today it would like to see one-way traffic installed, at least at the congested Irwin street underpass.

City Manager Dan E. Andersen said most of the committee members are in favor of a one-way traffic pattern, counter-clockwise, under the overpass, north on Irwin, west on Third, south on Lincoln and east on Francisco back to the underpass.

The committee will continue its discussion of one-way streets at another breakfast meeting at King Cotton next Thursday.

DEATH

7:10 a.m. yesterday, when Charles Laverne Smith, who lives on the Mar East road extension, discovered the blazing car and made an attempt to extricate the body. Smith was driven back by the flames. The Tiburon Fire Department arrived minutes later to extinguish the fire and remove the charred body.

Still unexplained was the "mystery voice" which Smith's wife reported she heard about 2:15 a.m. — nearly five hours before the fire.

Mrs. Smith said she heard a car at the end of Mar East. She heard one voice, she said, which sounded like someone giving directions.

Investigators yesterday hazarded that Shouse's car might have stalled in the soft, grassy bank of the deadend road when he attempted to turn it around.

Mrs. Grace Sine of Napa, the dead man's sister, said it was not unusual for Shouse to sleep in his car.

A retired Mare Island Navy Yard truck driver, Shouse lived on his $130 monthly retirement pay. He had a recent physical checkup, which showed evidence of senility but no ailment, his sister reported. She said he did not drink and smoked only cigars.

Shouse's father, Thomas, had a drayage business in Solano County. An uncle was one of the first Vallejo town constables. An aunt is the wife of Judge Harlow V. Greenwood of Solano County Superior Court.

Mrs. Sine is the only immediate survivor.

Private funeral services are to be held for the victim at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Russell and Gooch chapel in Mill Valley.

through every other earthquake shock "but this one woke me up—the first time."

Others reported being awakened by the quake, all the way from Belvedere and Sausalito to Novato and West Marin.

Worst damage appeared to be at University of California Hospital on Parnassus Heights in San Francisco, where the roof over the ambulance entrance cracked.

Some plaster cracked in Daly City and dishes fell from shelves there, United Press International reported.

Residents of Westlake in Daly City, which suffered the heaviest damage in March, 1957, said the quake was preceded by a "loud explosion."

Bottles were knocked off shelves in two South San Francisco liquor stores. The quake started several small slides on Highway 1 on the coast of San Mateo County.

On the sixth floor of the News Building in San Francisco, where the United Press International bureau is located, lights swayed back and forth for at least a minute. Staff members on duty reported it felt as though the floor were giving away beneath their feet.

Bussing On Bus Ruled Assault

A 64-year-old janitor-night watchman at the Indian Valley Golf Club committed assault on a 17-year-old girl by kissing her on a bus last month, Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court ruled today.

Jack Otto Walters, the defendant, will be sentenced for assault and disturbing the peace next Monday at 4 p.m. He was found guilty of committing the offense against Jean Hedwig Thorman, 17, of 1117 Fourth street, Novato, on the evening of Nov. 19.

The trial this morning was disrupted in the midst of Jean's testimony when the girl broke down in tears. She said Walters sat next to her on the bus, put his arms around her and kissed her against her will. She said she pleaded with him to leave her alone, but he persisted.

Deputy Dist. Atty. P. Roy Vallarino prosecuted the case. Walters was defended by Lawrence Wright.

IT'S COLD IN PITTSBURGH

Noting the temperature in Pittsburgh at three below yesterday, Associated Press photographer Walter Stein wondered if it was cold enough to freeze water pouring from a teakettle. He plucked an icicle from his roof, planted it in his yard and had his wife pour water over it. Sure enough, it was cold enough in Pittsburgh yesterday to freeze water from a teakettle. New Dining Room Opens Tomorrow

A new dining room, temporarily named the Tahitian Room, will be opened at 5 p.m. tomorrow in the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael, according to owner Irving (Whitey) Litchfield.

Litchfield said the new room will be opened "without fanfare," but will have a grand opening at a later date. Later, too, it will receive a permanent name, to be selected through a contest.

Litchfield said he received more than 9,000 name suggestions for the motel in a contest conducted when the establishment was built. He said he expects a similar amount of interest in a contest to name the dining room.

The Tahitian Room will seat about 350 persons, he said. It will be located in a newly built wing overlooking the swimming pool.

Alfred Cawest, a widely experienced hotel chef, will be in charge of the kitchen. "The Four Twerps" of San Francisco will provide music tomorrow night.

RANCHER CAN'T AFFORD TO 'DONATE' TREES

Christmas may be a time for giving, but Lucas Valley rancher Pat H. Munkres complained to the sheriff he cannot afford to let pilferers jump his fence and cut fir trees at random.

That's what is happening almost every day, especially on Sundays, reported Munkres, rancher on Lucas Valley road, about three miles east of Nicasio road.

Both Munkres and sheriff's patrols will be watching to nab the Christmas tree thieves.

Ross Council May Name Treasurer

Mrs. Phyllis Martin will be proposed this evening to the Ross Town Council to fill the unexpired term as town treasurer and tax collector of her late husband, Kenneth C. Martin.

The post will be filled again by election in April, 1960. The treasurer's salary is $760 a year.

Also on the agenda of the Ross council meeting at 8 p. m. will be:

1. A resolution to ask the county to collect Ross taxes next year;

2. A tentative map of a five-acre, five-lot subdivision on property formally owned by the late Mrs. Bertha E. Pillsbury on Laurel Grove avenue. A large house on the property is unoccupied. The subdivider is Sylvan Development Co., whose president is David G. Cohn of Sylan lane, Ross.

DAMAGE MOUNTS

Still More Snow Hits Storm-Stricken City

OSWEGO, N.Y. (AP) — Hope gave way to renewed gloom today in this blizzard-stricken city as residents awoke to new snow and a forecast of more.

Another four inches had fallen overnight, raising to about six and one-half feet the thick white blanket that has broken roofs, buildings and business, and almost broken spirit here in the last five days.

Two local building contractors estimated that damage has reached $500,000 and probably would go higher.

The battle to repair damage and prevent more resumed today in zero temperatures, with drifts more than 20 feet high.

Three families were reported evacuated from their homes during the night because of collapsing roofs.

So far, no injuries have been reported.

Most roads in the area had been opened and food supplies were considered adequate.

A contractor's warehouse and an oil company building collapsed yesterday, and roofs of at least three other business places gave way.

Householders cleared snow from rooftops when cracks appeared in the walls of many dwellings.

There was some sunshine yesterday and the heavy snows tapered off.

Schools were expected to reopen tomorrow. Industries recalled workers.

Equipment loaned by Rochester during the most severe storms earlier in the week was recalled. Additional plows have been loaned to Oswego by Camp Drum at Watertown. The Civil Aeronautics Administration authorized its offices at Buffalo and Rochester to send snow tractors.

No Break Expected In State's Dry Spell

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The autumn dry spell has taken a firmer grip on California. And still no rain is in sight.

Today's forecast was for fair and warmer weather through tomorrow with clear skies and gentle winds.

The five-day forecast, through next Monday, said it was possible there might be a little rain late in the period in the extreme north but none elsewhere.

As of today in San Francisco the drought exceeded the record dry autumn of 1929 in duration. And the 1929 record was surpassed only by one during the Gold Rush days.

San Francisco has had only .30 of an inch of rain since the Weather Bureau season started July 1. Normal to date is 4.58 inches, and at this date in 1957 the city had received 6.55 inches.

The same thing holds true in virtually all of California.

Here are some figures. The first is rainfall since July 1, the second normal to date, the third seasonal to date in 1957:

Eureka 5.87, 9.83, 12.33; Red Bluff 1.29, 5.34, 8.26; Sacramento .49, 2.23, 2.83; Hamilton Field .07, 5.32, 7.25; Oakland Airport, .39, 2.84, 4.29; Stockton .17, 2.82, 2.78; Fresno .70, 1.84, 2.05; Santa Maria 1.83, 2.28, 3.91; Los Angeles .50, 2.47, 2.74; San Diego 1.06, 2.17, 3.57.

Forecaster W. J. Denney explained that vast areas of high barometric off the California coast are shunting ocean storms far to the north of California.

To California farmers, the drought has proved to be a mixed blessing. On one hand, it has enabled farmers to harvest such crops as cotton, citrus, avocados, dates and olives, and to plow and sow for next spring's crops.

On the other hand, cattlemen have been buying feed to make up for a lack of range grasses and citrus and vegetable growers have had to irrigate. Rain is needed soon for wheat, oats and barley seeded in dust in anticipation of moisture.

Agricultural experts said the situation is not yet serious, but they said rain had better come before much longer.

Christmas Cage Tourney Deadline Set For Dec. 18

The roster deadline for the San Rafael Recreation and Park Department's Christmas Basketball Tournament is Dec. 18 and all teams wishing to enter the tournament must have their entry blanks in by that date.

The program will be held Dec. 26, 27 and 29 in four age divisions: 12 and under, 14 and under, 16 and under and 18 and under.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will co-sponsor the tournament by providing awards and officials for the games.

For further information contact the Recreation and Park Department at Albert Park.

Finland Still In Crisis

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)— President Urho Kekkonen was expected to ask the Agrarian party today to form a coalition government to end Finland's week-old cabinet crisis.

A government headed by the Agrarians and excluding the rightwing parties presumably would be acceptable to the Soviet Union. Moscow brought down the last government by stopping trade because Conservatives dominated it and the Communists were left out.

More than half the population of the British, French and Dutch Guianas is from Asia.

S.F. Still Gunning For Demo Parley

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—San Francisco is still in the running as site of the 1960 Democratic convention, according to Mayor George Christopher.

He told the Democratic National Committee last week that the city would guarantee $300,000 if the Democrats would convene here.

The mayor said yesterday he will present a similar offer to the Republicans when the GOP National Committee convenes next month.

Officials of the two parties have indicated that they would like to hold their conventions in the same city to cut convention and broadcast expenses.

Ex-Child Star Accused

PORTERVILLE (UPI)—Carl D. Switzer, 32, of Los Angeles, one-time child movie star, will be arraigned tomorrow in Porterville Justice Court on charges of illegally cutting Chrismas trees.

Switzer played the part of 'Alfalfa' in Our Gang comedy films in the 1930s.

The charges were filed against Switzer by Sequoia National Forest Ranger George Tourtillot. The ranger said Switzer cut 15 trees Nov. 29 on Poso Creek near Sugar Loaf Lodge without obtaining a Forest Service permit.

State High Court Upholds Carter's Stay For Kidnaper

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Supreme Court yesterday approved the action last week of Justice Jesse W. Carter of Sleepy Hollow in granting an 11th-hour stay of the scheduled execution of Edward S. Wein, 35, Los Angeles rapist-kidnapper.

Carter granted the stay to permit an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court even though Carter's own tribunal had, as a group, twice before refused Wein a delay.

Deputy State Atty. Gen. Arlow Smith asked the state court to set aside Carter's stay on grounds that he had no legal right to hold up the execution slated for last Friday. The high court upheld Carter yesterday simply by denying Smith's motion without comment.

Carter had granted the stay upon the plea of Russell E. Parsons, Beverly Hills attorney, that there were new arguments and facts in the case on which the U.S. Supreme Court should be permitted to rule.

Wein, who faces five death sentences, was sentenced on 22 counts of kidnapping, rape, sex perversion and robbery by a Los Angeles jury in May, 1957.

Mill Valley Commuter Club Elects Officers

George Wickham, Mill Valley consulting engineer, was named president of the Mill Valley Commuters Club for 1959 in a special meeting at the Mill Valley City Hall Tuesday evening. He succeeds Stephen C. Cook.

Edward J. Boessenecker was elected vice president and Alberta Nagel was re-elected secretary. Cook was named treasurer.

In addition to the four officers, four new members were added to the board of directors. They are Lawrence W. Jordan Jr., A. P. O'Neill, C. Harvey Mielenz and Stewart G. Wilson, Re-elected to the board were Peter Rhodes, A. H. Caldwell Jr., Joseph W. Taylor and Mrs. Muriel Pearce.

Retiring president Cook announced that as plans for the rapid transit district progress, the club will act as a clearing house for questions on it.

Reviewing the club's activities during the past year, Cook pointed to the erection of a new bus shelter at Miller avenue and Reed, the club's annual potluck supper and the Supreme Court decision against separation of Pacific Greyhound's commute operations which Cook noted had been opposed by the club.

Club directors have scheduled meetings in the Mill Valley City Hall on the third Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m.

REUNITED AFTER 47 YEARS

These three sisters, reunited in Seattle after separation of 47 years, say their objective now is to find three long-lost brothers. The sisters (from left) are Mrs. William J. Lozott, Seattle; Mrs. R. M. Parks, Anaheim, and Mrs. R. K. Seely, Coulee Dam, Wash. Mrs. Lozott said the sisters and three brothers, children of John and Lena Nelson, were separated in 1911 after being placed for adoption in Seattle. (AP Wirephoto)

Bridges Beats Nevada Law, Gets Married

RENO (AP) — "We got married," said Harry Bridges. And that seemed to cap the hectic two days in which he went to court and successfully challenged Nevada's 94-year-old statute banning marriage between Orientals and Caucasians.

The 58-year-old West Coast Longshore leader and 35-year-old Noriko Sawada, a Nisei, were honeymooning today after convincing a Nevada district judge that the statute is unconstitutional. It was patterned after a California law dating back to the gold rush days. The California law was declared unconstitutional in 1948.

Said Judge Taylor Wines, "Marriage isn't a privilege. It is a right of a free and equal individual." And he ordered the county clerk to issue a license.

"To my wife, who had a rough go getting here," said Bridges after a private marriage ceremony performed by Justice William Beemer. It was a champagne toast.

Their romantic trip came to an abrupt and embarrassing interlude Tuesday when they learned of the old Nevada statute.

Three times Bridges and Miss Sawada were denied a marriage license. After the second turndown the Australian-born labor leader announced he would fight the law. Then he went to the hotel where he had registered himself and Miss Sawada as "Mr. and Mrs. H. Bridges" and reregistered his fiancee under her maiden name.

Newsmen and photographers were barred from Justice Beemer's chambers.

Bridges, harried on this elopment to his third marriage, told the cameramen: "No, this is private. It's my marriage and my last one, I might add, because I'd never live through another like that."

He emerged smiling, lipstick-smeared and congenial, and poured champagne while photographers took pictures.

Their honeymoon plans were a secret. But Bridges let it be known they'll go abroad, especially to the Orient.

Morse Blames Solon's Illness For Feud

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Wayne Morse suggested last night that the cancer suffered by his colleague, Sen. Richard L. Neuberger, accounts—at least in part—for the souring of their close personal friendship.

"It is my judgment that his illness explains psychologically, even more than he may know, his conduct towards me," Morse said in a statement commenting on a Newsweek report on the feud between the two Oregon Democrats.

Morse said he was happy to hear that Neuberger is on his way to "full recovery" from an operation for the removal of a malignant growth.

"Although Senator Neuberger and I have suffered great damage to our mutual friendship, it is my hope that the therapeutic values of the passage of time will restore at least some of our former respect for each other," Morse said.

The split began to take shape in 1957 when the two senators, who were once called the "Morseburger" because of the similarity of their views, took opposite sides on the administration's civil rights bill.

Neuberger voted for the bill. Morse opposed it as futile.

The two senators also differed on a bill to raise postal rates, with Neuberger supporting the administration's request and Morse opposing it. During the debate, Morse called a Neuberger argument the "most absurd" he ever had heard in the Senate.

The feud reached a climax when Morse blocked Senate passage of a Neuberger bill involving the city of Roseburg, Ore.

Dulles—A Lilliputian?

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda today likened U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to a Lilliputian statesman.

The article in the Soviet Communist Party newspaper said Dulles talks more than the tiny speaker in Swift's satire "but his outlook hardly surpasses the dimensions of the Lilliputian statesman."

Only one thing emerges clearly "from the anti-Communist shell in which Dulles wraps all his speches—fear before the gigantic successes of the Soviet Union, Communist China and other people's democracies," the article said.

Restoring a weed-grown playground off Via Sombras in Greenbrae was main topic of a meeting this week of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. at the home of its chairman, Dr. Ted F. Pett.

Dr. Pett said estimates are to be obtained before the January meeting on costs of hiring a gardener to maintain the park and of repaving portions of the basketball court.

Marinite Admits Bank Holdup

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Robert F. Gladu, 53-year-old Marin County janitor, pleaded guilty in federal court yesterday to a charge of robbing the Bank of America in Calistoga.

Federal Judge Sherill Halbert set Dec. 29 for sentencing.

Unable to raise $5,000 bail, Gladu is held in the Sacramento county jail. The former janitor at the Marin County Farm was captured by the bank manager, Fred Piner, a few minutes after he had taken $750 from a bank teller.

TOP JOBS UP FOR SAN RAFAEL VOTE

Nearly Every Elective Post Will Be At Stake In Municipal Ballot Next April

By WAT TAKESHITA

San Rafael city officials are getting ready for next April's municipal election, in which almost every elective post in the city will be at stake.

The mayor's term expires every two years. Mayor John F. McInnis is expected to try for a repeat. Councilmen Charles W. Aby and Fred Jensen are also up for re-election. The mayor receives $100 per month and each councilman gets $50 per month.

Political observers are hinting that the two councilmen and the mayor may get some opposition this year.

But the biggest fight appears to be shaping up for the post of city attorney, now held by Albert E. Bagshaw. When Harold J. Haley, former city attorney, was appointed municipal court judge in 1956, Bagshaw was named to the post. As of now, Bagshaw intends to run.

Several other attorneys are being named as possible candidates. Foremost among them is Thomas P. Boyd, former member and chairman of the San Rafael Board of Education and now a member of the city recreation and park commission.

City Clerk-Assessor W. L. (Lynn) Morgan will be seeking his third term. Morgan was appointed in July, 1953, when Gene Smith died. He was elected in 1955.

Chief of Police Frank Kelly will be going for his fifth term. Elected in 1943, Kelly was re-elected in 1947, 1951 and 1955.

Tax Collector-Treasurer Angelina (Angie) Soldavini, who is filling out the term of retired C. C. Webb, is looking ahead for a full four-year term. Miss Soldavini has been with the city since 1928. The council appointed her to succeed Webb in June of last year.

Three posts on the San Rafael Board of Education are also expiring. They are held by Rex Silvernale, chairman of the board, C. Paul Bettini and Roderick P. Martinelli, who was appointed this year to fill the unexpired term of Boyd, who resigned.

Election day is the second Monday in April, or April 13.

Merit Plan Set For Cheer Leaders

Tamalpais High School students have decided to elect their cheer leaders strictly on a basis of merit, rather than by popular vote as in the past.

The plan calls for a "clinic" for those aspiring to become cheer leaders, where they would learn how to make their job as effective as possible.

After a designated time, those in charge of the clinic would elect not less than three nor more than six to run for the office of head leader.

Runnersup in the election would become assistant cheer leaders.

'I DON'T EXPECT TO CHANGE'

Ex-Glass Blower Inherits $1 Million

FRESNO (AP) — Charles C. Binkley, 73, woke up today with a cold, a headache and a million dollars.

How does it feel?

"Not much different, son," replied the twinkle-eyed grey-haired little man. "I haven't seen the money yet."

UNKNOWN BENEFACTOR

A Superior Court jury deliberated 3½ hours yesterday and then awarded Binkley half of a fortune left by a half-sister he never met—or had ever heard of before about three years ago.

Mrs. Cora Nidever died in 1955 at the age of 85. She left an estate of $3,126,488 but no will was ever found.

'LITTLE INVESTIGATION'

He began what he calls a "little investigation" that included a check of Civil War pension files.

Then he announced his father, a Union Army veteran named Joseph Binkley, had been the father of Mrs. Nidever. He said his father married Anna Miller Lewis in Indiana in 1880 after leaving Mrs. Nidever's mother Hester Binkley in Ohio in 1878.

Eight nieces and nephews of Mrs. Nidever contested Binkley's claim but the jury was unanimous in determining his right to half the fortune.

STILL SILENT

Noncommittal before the judgment was announced, Binkley was still silent about his fiscal plans today.

"I've lived in the same house in Montpelier for years," he said, "and there's no reason to move now.

"I don't need any clothes. I really don't have any plans. I don't expect to change my mode of living."

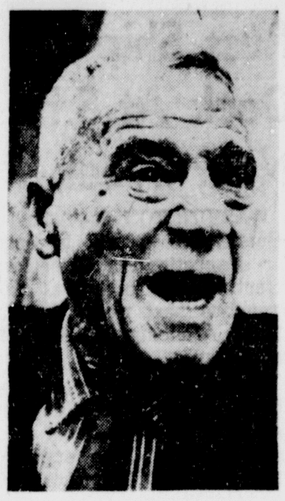

He has a daughter, Mrs. Glenoma Saunders, and five grandchildren in Weiser, Idaho.

His biggest interest is his horse, a 7-year-old pacer named Grand Ripple Mite. He races the horse at Indiana county fairs.

There have been plenty of suggestions on how he might spend the money. "I've had 50 or 60 offers already. Everything from business opportunities to proposals of marriage."

He chuckled.

"None of that foolishness for me," he said.

Seven N.Y. Newspapers Suspend Publication

NEW YORK (UPI)—Seven of nine major New York City newspapers hit by a strike of deliverymen suspended publication today.

An eighth paper, the News, a morning paper, was unable to publish when printers refused to cross a picket line.

The ninth paper, the Mirror, which published this morning, had not announced whether it would go to press tomorrow.

The suspensions were the latest development in the two-day strike of newspaper deliverers which cut off deliveries of the newspapers in the metropolitan area. All of the papers published yesterday, with sales restricted to the newspaper offices.

The papers which suspended publication were, in order, the Post, the Herald-Tribune, the Times, the World-Telegram and Sun, the Long Island Star-Journal, the Long Island Daily Press and the Journal American.

The other morning papers, the Mirror, Times and Herald-Tribune, published a limited number of editions for sale at their offices.

Radio and television stations and out-of-town newspapers—even a restaurant and a railroad—tried to fill the news void, but their efforts fell far short of satisfying the news thirst of New York City's five million readers.

New Chief Of Information At Hamilton

Maj. Phillip Coady, a command pilot, has been assigned to head the office of information services at Hamilton Air Force Base, it was announced today.

Major Coady has been base disaster control officer and acting executive officer, as well as director of operations of the 78th Air Base Group. He has been transferred to the 78th Fighter wing, which operates the information office.

Major Coady is a former commander of the 61st Fighter Intercepter Squadron.

Lt. Jack Crawford, who formerly held the information office post, and Lt. Louis Baldacci will continue serving in the office.

PHENIX CITY SLAYING

Convict Admits Murdering Alabama Vice Crusader

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A Virginia convict has confessed to the 1954 slaying of vice crusader Albert Patterson, Gov. James E. Folsom's office said yesterday.

"There appears to be a degree of truthfulness" in the signed statement of Calvin W. Pruitt, 28, who said he shot the attorney general-elect in a robbery attempt while a debt-ridden soldier stationed at Ft. Benning, the governor said.

Folsom said he asked Atty. Gen. John Patterson to join in an investigation of the confession concerning the murder outside his father's Phenix City law office the night of June 18, 1954.

The Patterson City vice cleanup which he had promised in winning the Democratic nomination for attorney general shortly before.

John Patterson was sent into the attorney general's office in his father's place and was elected governor this year. He takes office in January.

He was unavailable for comment.

Pruitt, a native of Hayeville, Ala., is serving Virginia sentences of 30 and 20 years. He was convicted last May of robbing two service stations.

Brush With Law Almost Costs Boy Inheritance

BLACKPOOL, England (AP)—A 15-year-old British boy will inherit $42,000 in 1991 if he hasn't spent two years in jail for larceny. He appeared in juvenile court yesterday—on a larceny charge.

The boy pleaded guilty to stealing a camera and a raincoat. The charge normally would result in sentencing to a juvenile detention center—not jail.

The boy's attorney said that would still leave him eligible for the inheritance.

The money was left by an eccentric seaside postcard seller. When he died in 1951, he said his adopted son could have the money when he became 48. But two or more years in jail for larcency would bar the boy from ever getting the money, the will stipulated.

Sentencing was postponed for two weeks to await a medical report. The youth's name was withheld.

County Gets Title To Marin City

Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority, has delivered a check for $78,671.50 to the Public Housing Administration in San Francisco, which "gives the authority title and clears the mortgage on the 32-acre parcel of property which will be the site of the 300-family low-rent housing project."

Klahn said 16 contractors are figuring on the huge construction project. Bids are to be opened next Wednesday.

VICTIMS OF BLAST — Bodies of persons killed in yesterday's bombing of the Fountain of the World cult center at Chatsworth lie beneath rubber sheets beside the demolished building. Nine persons, possibly 10, were killed in the blast, including the cult's leader and the two men who apparently rigged the bomb in a murder-suicide plot. (AP Wirephoto)

Public Worker Drive Planned By Teamsters

MIAMI BEACH, Fla (AP)—The Teamsters Union will start an organization drive early next year among the nation's 10 million city, county and state employees.

"I believe all Americans have the right to representation," Teamsters president James Hoffa told the union's directors yesterday.

"We believe that if the AFL-CIO is so lax in its responsibility to organize the unorganized in this field who are seeking organization we should extend our help to assist them in getting better wages and working conditions."

The Teamsters were expelled by the AFL-CIO last year on corruption charges.

Hoffa would not estimate the length of the drive among government workers. He said there is "tremendous opposition from the politicians."

Henry Feinstein, president of New York's Teamster Local 237, said some 3,000 New York checkoff cards and one policeman will present a card to the police department next week as a test case.

Novato Cub Scouts To Visit Nike Site

Novato Kiwanis Club's Cub Scout Pack 12 and parents will visit the Ft. Scott Nike site Saturday, announced Duane Jaeke, outdoor activities chairman for the pack.

The Christmas pack meeting will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. at Marion School.

Pair Angered At Cult's Leader Believed Bombers Of Its Center

CHATSWORTH, Los Angeles County (AP) — Tape recordings discovered near the dynamited wreckage of the Fountain of the World monastery point to two former cult members as the bombers, police say.

Nine persons, possibly 10, were killed in yesterday's earth-jarring explosion. The two dynamiters are believed to have shared the fate of their victims.

Detectives said the blast apparently was touched off by Ralph Muller, 33, and Peter Kamenoff, 42, both of Joshua Tree, San Bernardino County.

Tape recordings made by the pair the night before the dynamiting indicate they were angry at the leader of the cult, Krishna Venta, and wanted to "bring him to justice," officers said.

The tapes, an hourlong recital of grievances against Krishna and the cult, also were described as farewell messages and detectives believe the men deliberately blew themselves up.

Muller once confided to a friend that it was his ambition to depose Venta and set up a cult of his own to replace the Fountain of the World.

The suicidal nature of the bombing was underscored by the fact the triggering device had to be manually operated, presumably by one of the men who carried the dynamite into the building in a zippered bag.

Venta, a barefooted, self-styled mystic, five of his flock and two children were killed in the explosion. One and perhaps two other bodies have also been recovered.

The violent explosion and the fire that followed made identification nearly impossible.

Muller and Kamenoff were seen in an argument with Venta about an hour before the blast. Details of the quarrel were not known.

The tape recordings were found in Muller's pick-up truck, parked near the cult's 29-acre colony in Box Canyon, about 30 miles northwest of Los Angeles.

After listening to them, officers pieced together this story:

Muller and Kamenoff left their desert home in Joshua Tree—about 115 miles east of Los Angeles — picked up 20 sticks of dynamite and electric primers and drove to the cult area.

They registered at a motel in nearby Tarzana, set up their recorder and taped their last words.

"They said they wanted to bring Krishna Venta to what they termed justice," said Undersheriff B. B. Cummings of Ventura County.

"Whether they meant religious or otherwise, I wouldn't attempt to say.

"They said they were going to take care of their problems in their own way. What the problems were, we don't know.

"They don't say out and out they were going to commit suicide, but they bid their goodbys. One of them said: 'If we don't come back, people will understand.'"

Officers said Kamenoff blamed Venta for separating him from his wife and child by persuading her to stay in the cult's Homer, Alaska, colony. Kamenoff also left a written farewell note, said detectives.

Kamenoff and Muller apparently planned the bombing several weeks ago. A Joshua Tree neighbor said they came to him last month seeking information on the use of dynamite. They said they wanted to use it in mining.

Both men were construction workers. Kamenoff was a member of the cult from 1949 to 1957. Muller was a member off and on for several years.

Teamsters Told To Comply With Cleanup Orders

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. district court judge today ordered the Teamsters Union to comply with reform orders of court-appointed monitors. The union was barred from holding a scheduled new convention next March.

Judge F. Dickinson Letts upheld complaints of a two-man majority of the three monitors that the union under president James R. Hoffa had failed to comply in good faith with reform recommendations.

Judge Letts, noting that the monitors are officers of the court and subject to the court's supervision, said they have all powers reasonably necessary to bring about a cleanup of the union.

"The Teamsters are obliged to comply with such orders of recommendation (by the monitors) and in good faith cooperate with the monitors," he said.

Letts, an 83-year-old former Republican congressman from Iowa, rejected a contention that the role of the monitors is merely advisory.

Letts said in his 12-page memorandum opinion that the Teamsters, without the knowledge and consent or approval of the court-appointed monitors had issued a call for a convention in the early part of March, 1959.

Officers, Sergeant Given Promotions

Two young commissioned officers and a veteran sergeant, all from the Army's Nike site at Santa Venetia, were promoted this week in the office of Lt. Col. Thomas F. Bristol at Ft. Baker, commander of the 2nd Missile Battalion, 51st Artillery.

Promoted from second to first lieutenant were John P. Real of 310 Pinewood drive, San Rafael, and Samuel S. Sindoni of 45 Corrillo drive, San Rafael.

At the same ceremony, Sgt./1c George H. Powers of 445 Via Herbosa, Novato, was promoted to warrant officer. He first enlisted in 1940 with the Massachusetts National Guard.

Russ Ship To Dock At S.F. Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Soviet scientific vessel will be open for inspection by American scientists and others at San Francisco next week, the National Academy of Sciences said today.

The ship, the Vityza, will be the first to visit this country during the International Geophysical year. It is expected to dock at San Francisco next Wednesday for a brief halt in its studies of the ocean bottom.

The IGY committee is arranging for Americans to visit the vessel and for members of the Soviet scientific group to inspect research facilities in this country.

The vessel has been cruising recently in the eastern and northern Pacific, but has worked as far south as New Zealand.

Veterinarians Elect

Dr. W. T. Berner, San Rafael veterinarian, this week was elected treasurer of the Bay Counties Veterinary Medical Assn. Dr. Tom D. Harris Jr. was elected president.

Survey Finds Inequities In Veterans' Pensions

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A survey by the House Veterans Committee indicated today that thousands of veterans drawing non-service connected pensions on the basis of need actually enjoy, with their wives, either fair incomes or substantial holdings of stocks, bonds and cash.

One such "needy" veteran had, with his wife, a net worth of $62,096, including $53,296 in liquid assets, and an income of $3,348. He had drawn pension checks totaling about $5,400 and on the basis of mortality tables could expect to draw another $9,450. His military service totaled four months, all in the United States.

The survey showed, on the other hand, that many thousands of less fortunate veterans are supporting themselves meagerly in their old age with no income but their veterans' pensions of either $66.15 or $78.75 per month.

Veterans Committee Chairman Olin E. Teague (D-Tex.) proposed to correct both conditions, at least partially. He said legislation is being drafted to pare from the pension rolls some of those who don't need help and to increase payments for those who need it badly.

The White House has hinted it may sponsor legislation in the same field, as part of a drive to cut government spending. Teague's proposals, at least intially, probably would increase total outlays for veterans' pensions.

Pensions are not to be confused with compensation. Compensation is paid, as a matter of right, to veterans with disabilities incurred in military service. Pensions are for disability incurred in civil life and are payable only where the veteran passes a test of need.

No allegation was made that dishonest claims of need were made by the veteran, even in the most extreme cases turned up by the committee. The blame was fixed rather on faulty law and administration.

Fatal home accidents are estimated to have cost the nation 11 billion, 900 million dollars last year in addition to the human toll.

Lodge Declares Hungary Still Run By Terror

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge declared today that a reign of terror, carried out by Soviet agents, is continuing in full force in Hungary despite U.N. efforts.

He called on the 81-nation General Assembly to condemn the Soviet Union once more and to persist in trying to end the repressive measures.

NEW DEBATES

Lodge addressed the Assembly as it opened a new round of debate on the Hungarian problem which it took up first in an emergency session during the 1956 Hungarian uprising.

Lodge himself blasted the Soviet Union and the puppet Hungarian regime for the execution of former Premier Imre Nagy, Gen. Pal Maleter and other leaders of the uprising. He called their execution "murder in judicial disguise."

'SCOURGE OF TERROR'

"The Hungarian people must be relieved of that scourge of terror," Lodge declared. "Of all our aims with respect to Hungary, that is the most urgent."

Lodge formally submitted a 37-nation resolution calling on the Soviet Union and the Hungarian Red government to end repression in the battered satellite. The Assembly was expected to give the proposal overwhelming approval.

In 1841, Oberlin College in Ohio became the nation's first college to confer degrees on women.

Big 4 Meet On Berlin Looms

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Big Four foreign ministers conference next spring is being mentioned by many diplomats as a means of easing East-West tensions over Berlin.

Some officials are predicting, however, the three Western Allies will propose that such a meeting deal with the entire problem of Germany's future as well as Berlin.

American, British and French diplomats are reported giving increasing thought to the advantages of a new round of talks with the Russians. This prospect has been weighed carefully in considering a reply to Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demand that West Berlin be turned into a free city.

The feeling that such new talks would be desirable appears to be gaining ground among Western diplomats. But a decision is being delayed until after the 15-nation Atlantic Pact Council meeting which starts in Paris next Tuesday.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, now hospitalized by an intestinal ailment, is planning to attend the Paris conference, assuming he recovers in time. The State Department reported that Dulles is doing some work in his hospital suite in preparation for the meeting.

Allied authorities are in no hurry to rush an answer to Khrushchev's Berlin proposal.

The Atlantic Pact foreign ministers will discuss the reply generally, informants said, but will not seek to draft a reply. This conference would approve guide lines which diplomats would follow in drafting a formal note a few weeks later.

At this stage it is not decided whether the American-British-French answer to Khrushchev should propose the foreign ministers meeting. Some diplomats favor delaying this bid until later.

Those favoring it believe it would be a positive reply of the kind that is needed. It would be a mistake, they believe, merely to reiterate Western determination to stand firm in Berlin regardless of Soviet pressure.

Russian Steals Show At Nobel Prize Banquet

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A stocky, gray-haired Soviet physicist stole the show at last night's glittering banquet for 1958 Nobel Prize winners.

The King of Sweden and the rest of the royal family, the other six prize winners and 700 selected guests applauded warmly when Igor Tamm spoke in Swedish to express appreciation for the prize he and his two countrymen, P. A. Cherenkov and I. M. Frank, shared in physics.

After just two well-pronounced phrases, the audience in Stockholm's City Hall started clapping.

The smiling Tamm, who has become immensely popular with the citizens of Stockholm in his few days here, waved his hands to quiet the applause and started his speech all over again. Then the scientist from the proletarian Soviet Union greeted the Swedish King and Queen in their own language with traditional, elaborate phrases.

He repeated his speech in English, praising fellow winners and expressing hope that "the spirit of friendly international cooperation of scientists all over the world will lead to peaceful cooperation in other fields between all nations."

Others honored at the banquet were British chemistry winner Frederick Sanger, and the three Americans who shared the prize in medicine and physiology: Joshua Lederberg of the University of Wisconsin, Edward L. Tatum of New York's Rockefeller Institute and George Beadle of the California Institute of Technology.

The only President of the United States to be buried in Arlington Cemetery in Virginia is William Howard Taft.

Russ Reject U.S. Demand To Free Pilot

BERLIN (UPI)—Russia today rejected American demands the Soviets release a U.S. Army pilot held by East German Communists since he parachuted into the Soviet Zone on Dec. 3.

A spokesman for the Soviet Embassy in East Berlin said the matter was outside Soviet jurisdiction—which meant Russia would insist the United States negotiate with Communist East Germany if it wants the flier returned.

The flier is Lt. Richard Mackin, 27, of Washington, D.C., who bailed out of his small liaison aircraft when he ran out of gasoline and wandered into East Germany.

The Communists are also holding a West German pilot, Georg Genth, who made a forced landing 200 yards inside the Communist zone yesterday with his sports plane on a flight from Luebeck. It was considered certain he also would be used as a hostage to try to force Bonn to negotiate with East Germany.

The United States refuses to deal with East Germany and it has asked the Soviets to return Mackin under four-power occupation agreements. The Soviets have told the west they will abrogate all such agreements in six months.

Mom Of 6—Triplets!

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A San Francisco mother of six children has given birth to three more at St. Joseph's Hospital.

But as usual, it was the father who was doing all the talking.

"We were only expecting twins," said Peter Tarantino, a fish company employee. "I'm sure excited. I feel wonderful. Babies are wonderful."

Mrs. Marguerite Mary Tarantino, 40, just beamed at Marie Louise, Mary Joan and Victor.

No One Said 'Dulles,' But Russ Got Mad Anyway

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union delegates lost their tempers today in the 10-nation conference on prevention of surprise attack. They lashed out with denunciations of NATO and accused the West of trying to trick the Communist bloc with Trojan horse tactics.

Soviet Dep. Foreign Minister Vassili Kuznetsov became so angry during his speech that he apparently misunderstood some of the translations of remarks made by the Western side.

Kuznetsov thought he heard the name of John Foster Dulles and that set him off on a bitter denunciation of what he described as "aggressive Western tendencies." Actually, the Western delegates had made no reference to the U.S. secretary of state.

Soviet Col. Gen. A. A. Gryzlov followed Kuznetsov with a speech filled with references to alleged Western attempts to spy on the Soviet bloc.

L. D. Wilgress and Air Commodore W. W. Bean, both of Canada, and Gen. Otto P. Weyland, commander of the U.S. Tactical Air Command, denied the Soviet bloc allegations.

Moscow Says Revolt Put Down In China

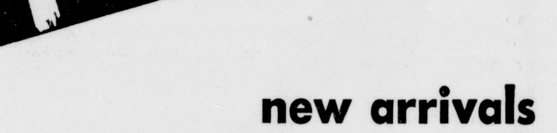

LONDON (UPI)—Moscow Radio today reported the discovery and liquidation of what it called an "American-Chiang Kai-shek" spy ring in Red China's Kwantung Province—where an attempted uprising was reported yesterday.

A Tass news agency dispatch from Peiping said the Kwantung Province Peoples Court sentenced five agents to death, gave prison terms to others and acquitted six who voluntarily surrendered.

Press dispatches last night from Portuguese Macao, off the Kwantung coast of South China, reported a Hungarian-type uprising had taken place on the Red offshore island of Lappa early Tuesday.

According to the Macao reports there were sounds of rebellion on the nearby Communist island, followed by heavy troop movements, gunfire and public execution of three men.

REGULUS LEAVES SHIP — Regulus II guided missile roars off the deck of landing ship King County yesterday in test of missile firing system of USS Halibut, nation's first nuclear-powered missile. AFTER THAT, WHO WANTS TO GO SHOPPING?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Intent on Christmas shopping, Mrs. Dorothy Moore and her son Dale, 8, stepped from a bus. Then she realized she had left her purse—with $90—on board.

She raced after the bus, caught it and retrieved her money.

Then she remembered her son, left eight blocks behind. Back she hurried. When she reached him, he was window shopping.

"I was so glad to see him I was no good after that," said Mrs. Moore.

"We just took the next bus home."

Record-Setting A-Sub To Get New Power Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The crew of the nuclear submarine Seawolf, which established a record by staying submerged two months, will be dispersed and the individuals assigned to other submarines within the next two months when the submarine is withdrawn from service for installation of a new power plant.

The 20-million-dollar job will require from 11 to 13 months.

A few of the officers and men in her crew may be in the new crew formed when the Seawolf is recommissioned sometime in 1960.

Capt. Richard Laning, skipper of the Seawolf since she joined the fleet in 1957, has been ordered to duty in the office of chief of naval operations here.

Leakage in part of the heat exchange equipment of the present liquid sodium reactor resulted in the Seawolf operating at only 80 per cent of maximum power. The Navy decided to replace the sodium reactor with the standard pressurized water system used in other nuclear submarines.

MMWD Approves Purchase Of Land

Directors of Marin Municipal Water District last night authorized purchase of land for a North Marin filter plant near San Geronimo and agreed to share costs for two fire main extensions for the Kentfield Fire District.

Robert J. Brusatori, secretary, said the board approved the purchase of seven and one-half acres of land at a cost of $22,005 from the Ralph S. Roy Jr. family of San Geronimo for future location of the filter plant, to be built in connection with the Nicasio dam project.

The directors approved agreement with the fire district to extend four-inch lines on Briar road and Foster avenue in Kentfield, with each party paying half the cost, estimated at about $5,000.

Directors absent last night were Dr. L. L. Stanley and William Marcus.

Missile Flies 250 Miles From Vessel

POINT MUGU (AP)—The silhouette of a ship that could have been a submarine slipped silently through the morning mist.

Midway along the foredeck of the ship, a circular hatch some 15 feet across swung open and a shiny metal bird with folded wings crawled up into the light along a slanted track.

It came to rest in a cradle of steel girders, straightened its stubby wings and swiveled into launching position.

The great bird, as long as a five-story building is tall, began to scream louder and louder as submariners remote in the bowels of the mother ship opened the throttle of the missile's powerful turbo-jet engine.

A rocket-like blast broke the straining bird loose from its moorings and hurtled it toward an inland target.

The shot yesterday was a shakedown of the missile firing system of the USS Halibut, the nation's first nuclear-powered missle submarine, which will be launched at Vallejo next month.

For this test the forward hull of a tank-landing ship, King County, had been converted to duplicate the Halibut.

The missile used in the test, a 57-foot-long Regulus II, sped 250 miles from its launcher to Tonopah, Nev.

Eisenhowers To Open Social Season Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower will open the White House winter social season tonight with a formal state dinner honoring the Supreme Court.

The guest list may be a little larger than usual, but the social season itself—with five state dinners—is the shortest ever.

The Eisenhowers have reduced the traditional presidential entertaining to a minimum. They dropped a military-science dinner added last season.

But an Eisenhower innovation—the after-dinner musicale for about 150 additional guests—was retained for tonight.

Two diplomatic dinners have been set for next Wednesday and Thursday. The brief social season will wind up next month with state dinners Jan. 26 for Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the Cabinet, and Jan. 27 for the speaker of the House, Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.).

Rematch Of Moore-Durelle Classic Sought Next July

Archie Wins Greatest Fight In Last 10 Years

(COMBINED AP AND UPI)

MONTREAL—Promoter Eddie Quinn said today a return performance of the great Archie Moore-Yvon Durelle ring classic is a "must" for Montreal next July.

And Truman Gibson, president of the International Boxing Club, agreed with him.

A classic it was—one of the ring's greatest—as Moore, perhaps the oldest active champion in boxing annals, climbed off the canvas four times last night (once from a slip) and became the sport's all-time kayo king by blasting the Canadian champion with four knockdowns for an 11th-round knockout.

HEART BROKEN

It was with good reason that Durelle, the fighting fisherman from New Brunswick, burst into tears in his dressing room from heart-breaking frustration; for he had been almost as close to becoming light-heavyweight champion as a man could—in the first round and again in the fifth session of their blood-and-thunder battle.

Moore admitted he talked to himself after his second knockdown.

"Hey, 'old man,' this can't be age catchin' up to you. You just can't let this happen—with the all-time knockout record to be won," he said to himself.

KAYO RECORD

Whether Archie will be 42 or 45 Saturday, his birthday, he carved a niche in boxing history with his amazing determination and surprising dynamite that many a future youngster will envy as he learns how knockout No. 127 was scored by the patriarch from San Diego before 8,484 frenzied fans in the Montreal Forum.

The thrilling knockout boosted Archie out of a tie with the late heavyweight challenger, W. L. (Young) Stribling at 126 KO's during their careers: 204 bouts in 23 years for archie, and more than 230 in 12 years for Stribling of Macon, Ga. It'll be a long, long time before anyone else approaches 127.

Only one more successful defense and Archie will have equalled his class record of eight, established by Maxie Rosenbloom back in the early 1930's.

GREAT CONDITION

Archie weighed 173¾—the lightest in four years—to 172 for the champion of Canada and the British Empire. Their low weights, indicating that each was trained unusually sharp, may have been responsible for their great fight.

Referee Jack Sharkey counted Yvon out at 49 seconds of the 11th round as he lay flat on his back, for his fourth knockdown.

MOORE ON DECK

It was amazing that Archie, at his age, still had enough power to blast 29-year-old Durelle into submission, after taking such a terrific early battering. Moore was on the floor for official knockdowns twice in the first round for counts of eight from two rights to the chin. And another trip, from a half-punch, half-push, was ruled a slip.

In the fifth round a right to the jaw dropped him for seven and he took a savage battering until a few seconds before the bell when he came storming back. The knockdowns were the high points of the fight; but in every round they were blasting away in a fashion that had the fans wondering what kept Archie and Yvon on their feet.

OKAYS REMATCH

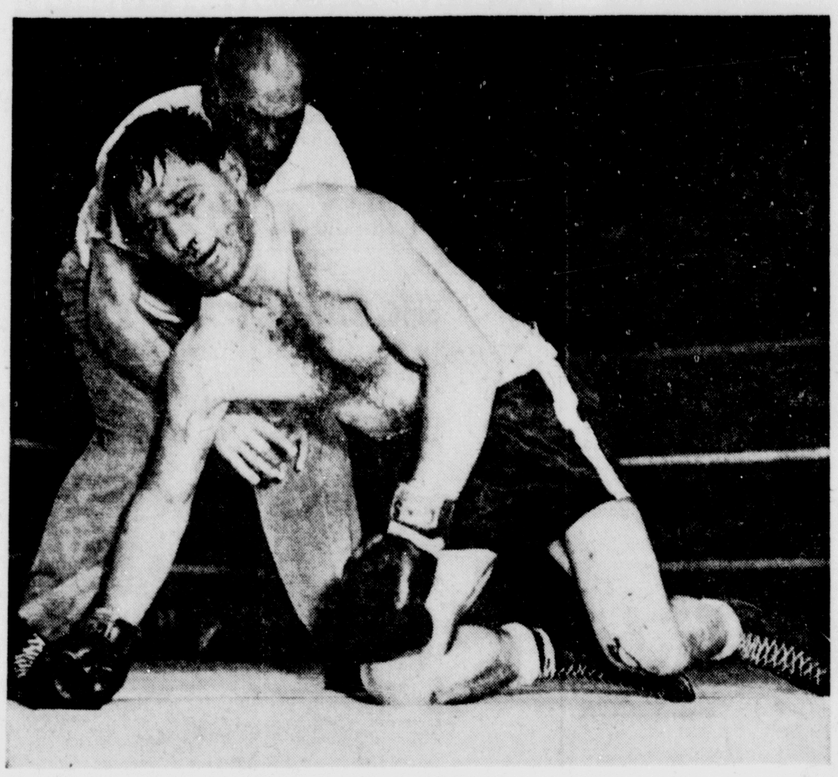

"Durelle put up a great fight and can have another chance if he wants it," said the champion. "I'd like another chance too at heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson."

"Yeah, Patterson, we'd like him," interjected Moore's manager Jack "Doc" Kearns. "If he doesn't fight that Swede Ingemar Johansson this summer, maybe he'd like to take on the old man. If he's not interested then there's that Sugar Ray Robinson. He and Archie would pack any stadium."

Moore was full of praise for Durelle, a 3½-1 underdog who put up a great battle.

"Durelle is one of the very top light heavyweights I have ever fought," he said. "I knew I had him after the fourth round, but before that I was awfully rocky. Every knockdown was clean and fair."

All three judges had Moore leading on points when the end came—Judge Rene Ouimet, 46-45; Lucien Germain, 44-42; Harry Shulman, 44-42. The five-point "must" system was used with the winner of each round getting five points and the loser four or less.

IT'S ALL OVER — Canadian challenger Yvon Durelle vainly attempts to get up off deck in 11th round, but Referee Jack Sharkey moves in to help him to his corner after counting him out at Montreal last night.

Cox Hits 16, But Dons Bow To TCU Quint

San Francisco's Dons lost a heartbreaker to Texas Christian 58-56 last night, their second straight defeat, without a victory on their new million dollar basketball court.

The teams were tied 11 times in the game, but Dale Nippert's field goal with only 24 seconds left gave the Horned Frogs the edge. Nippert led the scoring with 19 points. Sophomore Ron Cox of San Anselmo paced the Dons with 16.

Cox, former All-Northern California star at Drake High, started the season as a reserve, but has won a starting position off outstanding performances in each game.

USF led the see-saw contest 31-26 at halftime.

A flurry of fisticuffs occurred just before the end of the game when the Dons' Dave Lillevand and TCU's H. D. Kirchner tangled on a retrieve try. Players from both benches leaped to the floor and a few punches were exchanged before order was quickly restored.

No major game is scheduled for northern California quintets tonight.

BOWLING

Walt Silva, the Sausalito tavern owner, bombed the pins to the tune of a 664 series Tuesday night in the Marin Bowl's Handicap League, easily walking off with top honors.

Silva compiled his mighty margin on games of 235, 232 and 197.

Gomez Was A Flop With The Giants, But Will Sanford Be Any Better?

CONNOLLY

Last year, for the want of something better to do and because a guy always has the right to dream, I carefully went over all the pitchers on the S.F. Giants staff and, so help me, I believed Ruben Gomez would be a winner, wire to wire.

And what happens?

Of all the good for nothing so and so's, Gomez was it. He kicked off the season like a champion and suddenly became a bum, not even a stumble bum, because he couldn't last long enough to get up a sweat. But unfortunately, before Manager Bill Rigney was able to yank him, dear ole Ruben had given the other side a whale of a lead and the game was lost almost before it started.

And now we find in the news that Gomez has been traded to Philadelphia for a guy named Jack Sanford, whose record with the Phillies for 1958 wasn't an iota better than the record of Gomez with the Giants.

Sanford, I hope, will become the big star of the Giants, but a guy has to be a helluvan optimist to believe in comebacks.

Sanford won (with a tail-end club) 10 games and lost 13.

Gomez captured 10 games and lost 12. His earned run average was 4.37 per game against an earned run average compiled by Sanford of 4.45. So it's six of one and a half dozen of the other, on pitching form.

The only difference is Gomez was on a first division club and Sanford was on a tail-end outfit.

But very often in major league baseball a recruit pitcher has his best year. And that Sanford had in 1956 while a recruit with the Phils. Then he slipped last year in his sophomore year, so the dope is that he should go to town for the Giants in 1959. I wonder? He has to make a comeback!

Gomez will never be any better with any club than he was with the Giants last year for the simple reason he thinks more of what he does in the Puerto Rico league than what he does in the National League, where he really earns money.

Until someone comes along and tells Gomez he either pitches in the summer in the USA or he doesn't pitch at all, he'll go no place.

This business of allowing Puerto Rican ball players to set the rules in organized baseball is a lot of hooey. Either the National League bosses should say to the Puerto Ricans "stop winter ball or get the heck out of here" or else let the Puerto Ricans run the circuit.

I believe that a big league ball player dragging down a fat salary should be told that he is expected to conserve his energy in the winter for the right to earn his chops in the summer.

But in Puerto Rico they say it is a crime against their country not to play winter league ball. Well, if that is the case, I'd say the heck with Puerto Rico and let them play where they were born instead of coming here and milking the American baseball fans.

And the sooner the majors discover they are setting a bad precedent, the better it will be for the paying public.

The late Judge Landis would have no truck with such ideas. He'd tell the Puerto Ricans to either play baseball in the U.S.A. ONLY or get the heck out of the game.

And, money wise, it would be a severe shock to Gomez and other Puerto Rican players if they could only get dough like they play for in the winter, as against the dough they got for summer play in the National League.

What a joke it is to consider Orlando Cepeda playing all winter and exposing himself to injury for a paltry sum like the Puerto Rico League pays him.

Suppose Cepeda was seriously injured? Who would suffer . . . the Giants or the Puerto Rican League?

I began this epistle by talking of the respective merits of the Sanford-Gomez deal. But I got sidetracked.

But truthfully I can't say I'm too much impressed with the Sanford-Gomez swap.

I hope it works out like Bill Rigney expects it to work out.

Giants Must Pay Taxes On Stadium

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants will have to pay more money for the use of the Seals Stadium next year, it was learned today.

Paul I. Fagan, owner of the stadium, said he has asked the Giants to pay the taxes as well as the rental. Taxes amount to about $36,000 a year.

Fagan said he relieved the Giants of the tax this year as a favor to Mayor George Christopher, who thought it would hasten the Giants' decision to move west.

He said the Boston Red Sox paid the taxes when they owned the San Francisco Seals.

Under the agreement between Fagan and the Giants, the club can move to its new ball park at Candlestock Point whenever it is completed.

"The move will leave me with an abandoned stadium on my hands," he said. "In partial compensation, the Giants are assuming responsibility for the 1959 taxes."

Fagan will demolish the stadium after the Giants move.

Tars Clobber Vallejo For 3rd Straight Win

Coach Cal Riemcke's red-hot College of Marin Tars, showing the class that won them the Golden Valley Conference championship last season, rolled to their third straight triumph last night with a 65-51 triumph over the Vallejo College Falcons at the Marin gymnasium.

Led by freshman Bill Breuner, the 6-foot, 8-inch product of Marin Catholic High, the Tars rallied from a nip and tuck first half into their run-away victory.

Breuner scored 15 points in the attack, followed by veteran Junior Banuelos' 14 and freshman Kenny Anderson's 13 points. Rounding out the Tar tally were Larry Fulton 9, Pat Anthony 7, Claude Curley 4, Robbie Harvey 2 and Butch Warmington 1 as Riemcke, in his second year at Marin, was able to use his reserves.

The Tars led most of the way, except for a brief moment in the first half when the visitors edged into a 23-22 advantage. Marin quickly regained the lead, made it 39-33 at half, then pulled away.

The Tars will go gunning for victory number four tomorrow night when they battle Santa Rosa J. C. at Kentfield, 8 o'clock.

Varsity Defeats Faculty Squad At Marin Catholic

Youth won out over age last night when the Marin Catholic High School varsity basketball team huffing and puffing faculty squad by a 44-31 margin in their annual game.

Gary Ragghinanti scored 10 points to lead the Wildcats while Father Kenneth Hunt, a 6-foot, 5-inch star, hit 10 for the losers. Father Bernard Cummings tallied six points.

When the faculty team first took the floor, the school band blared out with "Hold That Tiger!" The crowd of approximately 700 fans loved every minute of the game.

Marin Fishermen Wins Schenley Contest Honors

Two Novato fishermen and a 12-year-old San Rafael lad were among recent prize winners in the Schenley Sportsmen's Club competition for striped bass anglers.

The Novatans are Lloyd B. Underhill and Howard Croach. Underhill won an award for the 27-pound striper he took at Petaluma Creek and Croach for a 14-pound, 4-ounce fish at China Camp.

Twelve-year-old Raymond Bobo was honored by the sportsmen's club for his 25-pound, 8-ounce striper caught in San Pablo Bay. The youngster was fishing from Fred Jensen's cruiser, the "Hoocares the 10th."

COLTS' DEFENSIVE HERO

Marchetti Returning To Scene Of College Glory

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It may be anti-climactic for the Baltimore Colts, but Sunday is a big day for their star defensive end—hefty Gino Marchetti. He'll be back in Kezar Stadium.

The opposition will be the San Francisco 49ers, in the tail-ender of the National Football League season, but the setting will be the same for Gino, who starred there with the San Francisco Dons in their last football year, 1951.

Marchetti was on the unbeaten San Francisco team which produced nine professional footballers.

The Colts already have won the Western Conference title in the NFL. The 49ers seek a measure of revenge for the licking they took in Baltimore, which gave the Colts the title. Baltimore has yet to win a game in Kezar Stadium.

But it will be a homecoming for Marchetti. The 6-4, 240-pound ironman from Antioch started his pro career with the now defunct Dallas Texans. He joined Baltimore in 1953. He earned All-Pro honors in 1956 and 1957.

John Bridgers, Colt defensive line coach, calls Marchetti "the greatest defensive lineman in pro football."

"Gino is quick, strong and has the savvy so necessary to get the job done in pro ball," he added.

In 10 games Marchetti has tossed passers for losses on 17 occasions and 17 other times he has deflected passes.

Mrs. Hatchet Tops Women's Tourney

Mrs. Jack Hatchet turned in a card of 94-18—76 to win top honors in Class A of the Marin Golf Club's women's medal handicap tournament Tuesday at the new course.

Mrs. Fred Ahnert was second with 110-22—78.

In Class B Mrs. Albert Wilson led the way with 112-36—76, followed by Mrs. C. E. Wright with 110-33—77.

USC Admits Probe Of Irregularities

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Dr. Hugh C. Willett, University of Southern California faculty representative, said today he was confident the school has operated within NCAA recruiting practices.

The administrator, former president of the NCAA, confirmed reports that SC was under investigation.

Dr. Willett said yesterday that charges of alleged irregularities involving two prospective athletes had been filed with the NCAA in the summer of 1957 "by a person or persons unknown to us."

"We immediately made a thorough investigation and filed affidavits which we believe completely refute those charges," he said.

USC was placed on probation by the NCAA in November, 1956, after a similar ban by the Pacific Coast Conference for giving illegal financial aid. The school was reinstated in good standing by the PCC last July, but is still on NCAA probation.

"We are still technically on probation," a USC spokesman said. "The fact we are on probation could make it rough on us."

University spokesmen were quick to deny that Angelo Coia and Dan Ficca were the athletes involved.

Palmer, Casper Co-Favorites In Florida Tourney

SANFORD, Fla. (AP) — Golf's two biggest money winners of the year—Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., and Bill Casper Jr., of Apple Valley, Calif.—teed off as favorites in the $15,000 Sanford Open today.

The tournament over the 6,600-yard par 71 Mayfair course continues through Sunday and is the final PGA-sanctioned event of 1958.

Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass., who won the Dorado Beach Tourney in Puerto Rico last week, ranks close with Palmer and Casper among the top choices in the field of 150.

Bears Practice On Pass Defense

BERKELEY (AP)—California's Golden Bears, drilling on alternate days for their Rose Bowl clash with Iowa New Year's Day, worked on pass defense and running plays yesterday.

Right tackle Jim Green, who was knocked out in the first bowl practice Monday, remained sidelined. The only other missing Bear was quarterback Gus Gianulias, who was injured early in the season.

Speaker died of a heart attack Monday at the age of 70 while returning from a fishing trip on Lake Whitney near his native home here.

Mike Watters Good Choice For J.C. All-Star Game At Stockton

The announcement yesterday that College of Marin star Mike Watters had been selected to play in the third annual East-West All-Star Junior College game in Stockton Dec. 20 was greeted happily yesterday by Mike's coach, Harry Pieper.

"Well, that's a fitting climax to Mike's two years with us at Marin," beamed Pieper, adding, "I can't think of any more deserving player. He is one of the most outstanding players I've ever coached."

Mike's teammates seconded the motion with a roar, for they respect his ability and leadership.

Pieper pretty well sums up Mike's ability thusly:

"Here is a boy who will do anything asked of him. We started him at end at the start of the season and he played 60 full minutes of all-out football. When we needed a guard, he jumped right into that position and did the same thing. Then we needed a back and he took over that position and again turned in 60 minutes of top notch play. I didn't keep track of how long he played each game, but I think he played 60 minutes of nearly every game.

"He helped hold our club together and I found it a pleasure to work with him."

Mike will play end in the All-Star game.

Pieper says Mike is a cinch to make good at a four-year college and right now it looks like he may go to Oregon or Oregon State.

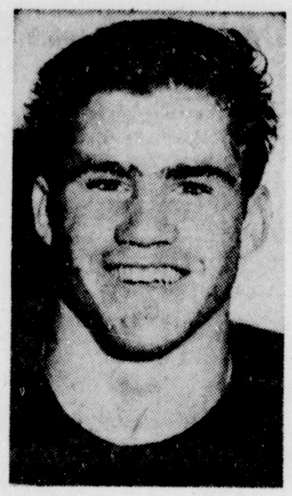

Watters, who hails from Novato, first made a football name for himself at San Rafael High. As an end, he led San Rafael to an undefeated record in 1956, winning All-Northern California recognition and earning an invitation to the North-South Shrine Classic in Los Angeles.

At San Rafael he was one of the main reasons the San Rafael line never had a touchdown scored against it. He was a tremendous defensive player.

We're sure he'll do well for himself at Stockton Dec. 20.

SOME FAIR to middlin' former college basketball stars will be seen in action at the Redwood High School gym Saturday night when the San Francisco Olympic Club takes on the Hamilton Field club.

Among members of the Olympic team are Ron Tomsic (Stanford), Ken Flaig (COP), and Don Bragg (UCLA).

All-Star end

Their coach is Carl Minetti of Kentfield.

The main event will start at 8 o'clock, but get there early because five grammar school teams will play in a preliminary tournament that should be fun to watch. I'll start at 6:30 o'clock.

AN AIR FORCE officer interviewed San Rafael High's All-Everything football star, Ron Snidow, this week. The Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs is mighty interested in this 6-foot 2, 205-pound terror.

Missouri, with 21,813 calves, led the nation in 1958 in the production of registered Angus cattle, followed by Iowa, Illinois, Texas and Oklahoma.

Boat Drag Race Produces New World Speed Record

By BETTY FROST

Northern California's first boat drag race produced a new world's champion last weekend when Carl McGinn of Glendale took his "Hot Ice" over the quarter-mile course at Searsville Lake at 98.03 mph.

McGinn's performance broke the dead-heat record which he and Rudy Ramos had achieved at the same time in southern California in the early summer. McGinn's boat is classified as a cracker box hull powered by a fuel-injected Chrysler engine.

Approximately 4,000 spectators witnessed the record-breaking performance as 105 boats took part in the boat drag race. Roy Sayles of San Rafael, president of the sponsoring V Drive Boat and Ski Racing Assn., said the spectacular races attracted so much favorable interest that the organization is scheduling a similar event for early next spring in the Bay Area.

Joe Flores of Hanford was clocked at a speed of 93.36 in the 90-95 mph class. Other winners were Wes Hansen of Corcoran, 86.20 in 85-90 mph class; Jim Burrow, Sun Valley, Calif., 84.31 in the 80-85 mph class; Bill Iacona, 79-22 in the 75-80 mph class; Weston Rose, San Jose, 74.25 in the 70-75 mph class; Sonny Kraus, 67-61 in the 65-70 mph class; Le Roy Temple, 64.00 in the 60-65 mph class; Ernest Rose, Santa Clara, 56.63 in the 55-60 mph class; Fred Morales, Richmond, 52.94 in the 50-55 mph class; Larry Schevabeenen, Fresno, 47.23 in the 45-50 mph class; Tim Mahoney, San Francisco, 43.94 in the 40-45 mph class; John Cordell, Redwood City, 38.11 in the 35-40 mph class; Ralph Reynold, Red Bluff 33.66, in the 30-35 mph class.

DR. PAUL DE SILVA of San Francisco was named commodore of the San Francisco Yacht Club at the annual membership meeting held at the Belvedere club Saturday night. For De Silva this is a return engagement as he served the club as commodore in 1951-52. He sails the International class sloop, Icy Folly, and has sailed as a crew member on ocean races to Hawaii and Tahiti.

Dr. Emmet Rixford of Sausalito is the new vice-commodore; L. E. Von Schultheis of Belvedere is rear-commodore; Leonard James of Sausalito, secretary, and John R. Moore of Belvedere, treasurer. Directors are Robert Barth, David Imrie, Paul Marcucci, Don Owen, Frank Wosser, and retiring commodore, Dr. Raymund J. Millzner of Belvedere.

Search For S.F. Girl Spreads To Marin

A 19-year-old San Francisco secretarial student and former University of California coed, vanished from her home a week ago, and the search for her spread into Marin County where the girl had some acquaintances.

The missing girl is Laurel Edith Breier, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Breier of 65 Borica street, San Francisco. Breier operates a bowling alley in San Francisco.

The girl is about 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 148 pounds, and usually wears sweaters and skirts with a preference for black. Her father said she had never run away before. She had attended University of California, then a secretarial school in San Francisco. One week ago today, she left home to look for a job and never returned.

San Francisco police asked Marin officials to help in the search. Deputy Sheriff Arthur Wiggins said he had talked to Robert Irvin, 33, of 942 Greenhill road, Homestead Valley, who knew the girl, but he has been unable to provide any information on where she might be.

Marin YMCA Installs At S.F. Meeting

Walter Zurcher of San Rafael was installed as chairman of the board of managers of the YMCA of Marin, at a dinner meeting Tuesday night in San Francisco's Park Presidio YMCA.

Other officers installed are Erwin Farley, vice chairman, for camping activities; Dr. Catherine Pike, vice-chairman, program; Bert Broemmel, treasurer, and Warren Staiger, secretary.

Installation ceremonies were conducted by Fred H. Smith IV, chairman emeritus. Rex Silvernale, outgoing chairman, reviewed the YMCA's accomplishments in the past year, noting particularly the growth in number of HI-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs in Marin.

The Y hopes to reach a total of 75 of these clubs by next May, he noted.

Dinner was served by the San Rafael Tri-Hi-Y Club under direction of Mrs. Malcolm Finley and Mrs. Finn Dale.

Snark Missile In Round Trip Over Atlantic

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP)—A Snark guided missile, the nation's most advanced weapon capable of spanning intercontinental range, blazed across the Atlantic early today on the start of a round trip flight.

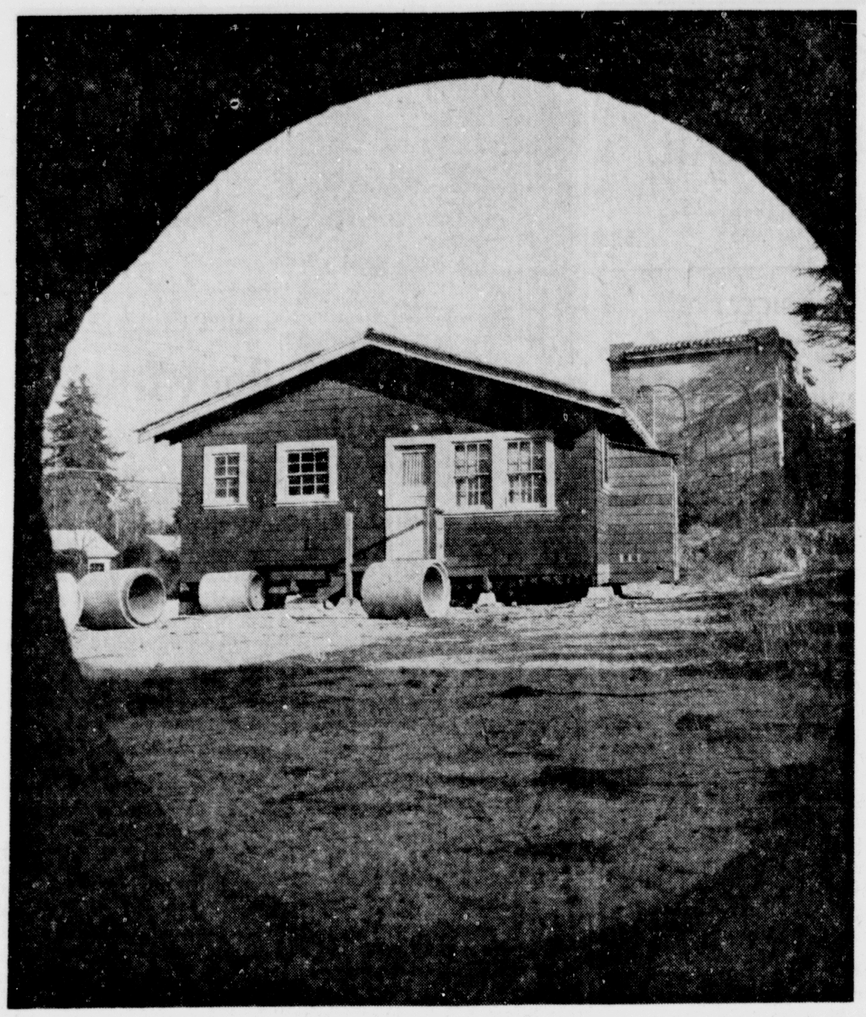

The 69-foot weapon was fired once before from the cape and recovered.

One of the goals of this shoot reportedly was to test new instruments aboard the Snark. The range attempted and type of new equipment used was not disclosed.

The Snark, capable of carrying a nuclear warhead over 6,000-mile range, will become operational next July when the first unit is assigned to Presque Isle, Me.

Road Job Finished

Traffic today was rolling along resurfaced Center boulevard in San Anselmo, a $14,000 project completed earlier this week by Lee Mac Paving Co. of Corte Madera. Traffic had been rerouted since work began on Nov. 20.

CENTER OF INTEREST — Eastman Hall, new recreation facility being installed in Larkspur, the use of which was requested by numerous civic groups last night at a meeting of the city recreation commission. The hall is located at William avenue and the NWP tracks. (Independent-Journal photo)

77 Children Flee Flames At School

WOBURN, Mass. (UPI)—Seventy-seven grammar school children were led safely from a burning school today.

The two-alarm blaze broke out in the basement of the four-room wooden school when a boiler became overheated. Firemen confined flames to the basement, although first floor timbers were scorched.

Less than two hours after the fire, the building was condemned by the state. Officials said fire escapes at the school were enclosed with wood.

It was the second school closed in Massachusetts for fire safety reasons since last week's school fire tragedy in Chicago in which 92 died.

Use Of Eastman Hall Discussed By Larkspur

The Larkspur Recreation Commission last night heard requests by city youth and civic organizations for use of Eastman Hall, at a meeting attended by about 20 persons.

Orrin W. Gray, chairman, said the commission made no decision as to which requests for use of the partially-finished hall, could be accepted, pending review of written applications and an opinion by the city council.

The hall, recently sold to the city for $1 by the Larkspur Women's Club, was donated by Redwoods Presbyterian Church.

It was moved to William avenue and the NWP tracks. Gray said the structure is expected to be ready for use by March 1.

"The requests we received last night seemed to dovetail enough that there would be no particular conflicts in scheduling," Gray said.

He said he expects to get an opinion on the use of the hall from the council and the women's club in time for a decision Jan. 14.

The recommendation will then be sent to the council for final approval in February.

Gray said groups heard from last night included Camp Fire Girls, Brownies, Funsters, Lions Club and Women's Club. Use of the hall for the eight week summer recreation program also was suggested.

He attended Kingsport Naval Academy and was assigned to the Hancock last year and has been a frequent visitor of the Longs when his ship has been in port.

FOR YACHTSMEN

Final Plans Are Complete For Auxiliary's Show On Saturday

To get into the spirit of its Yuletide for Yachtsmen party to be held Saturday, Dec. 13, members of the Women's Auxiliary of the San Francisco Yacht Club held a planning session aboard the newest addition to the club's sailing fleet, Mr. and Mrs. Clement McKaig's "Le Reve."

The 40-foot Concordia class yawl provided a nautical background as committee workers made final plans for the cocktail hour fashion show, which is a popular annual club event. "Le Reve" was built in Germany for the McKaigs and officially joined the SFYC fleet at ceremonies in the Belvedere harbor on Nov. 8.

Committee members on hand to put the finishing touches on the holiday party were Mrs. Colin Mason, newly elected Auxiliary president, Mesdames Emmet Rixford, chairman of the party, Robert Barth, hospitality chairman, Paul Marcucci, decorations chairman, and Raymund Millzner, who will assist the models.

The committee workers enjoyed a preview of the forthcoming style parade, as Mrs. Allen Olinger and Mrs. Robert Boat modeled clothes they will wear in the fashion show.

Added to the list of models is Linda Fromhagen, whose engagement to yachtsman Robert Bernheim was recently announced. Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jules Bernheim, will host a group of friends at the cocktail-fashion party.

Clothers to be displayed will be from the Modern Eve Shop, with Netboys supplying the shoes, and Mr. David of The Salon arranging hair styles for the models.

Country Christmas Focus Show Honors Friends Of Arequipa

"Make Mine a Country Christmas" jingled the holiday bells on Tuesday at Rickeys' Rancho Rafael, as Grace Graham invited the "Fashion Focus" guests to a festive, old fashioned Yuletide luncheon and fashion show.

Right in the mood for a country Christmas were the Friends of Arequipa, honored for their work with the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., to bring holiday happiness to many of Marin's handicapped citizens.

Five beautifully bedecked snowy white trees, each trimmed in a different color and accented with effective spotlights, were in the different dining rooms to welcome the Friends of Arequipa and their guests. Redwood baskets tied with big red bows and filled with snowy greenery hung from the ceiling of the Garden Room above the living tree glowing with tiny Italian lights. Red streamers hung with snowballs, tall red candles, and snowy pine added the country Christmas feeling to the Rickey smorgasbord table skirted in bright green for the holiday.

In a Christmas commentary, Marion Bellamy, "Fashion Focus" coordinator, reminded that the nicest country Christmases are happy, relaxed and fun because the early bird has written her cards, baked her cakes, bought the gifts and planned a holiday wardrobe. The first two Christmas tasks the early bird struggles with alone; for the last two she enlists the aid of Grace Graham who has the magic knack of knowing what gifts and fashions Marin women love to give and receive!

CHRISTMAS TOUCH

Mrs. Graham's unusual Christmas touches to each holiday outfit-jeweled ornaments, gay felt "trees" hung on a cummerbund, armloads of imported scarves carried by the models as gift suggestions, brought exclamations of delight from the enthusiastic audience. Holiday hair fashions styled by The Salon of San Rafael added a note of Yuletide elegance and glamour and Beauty Counselors showed makeup to add extra sparkle.

"Santa Claus is coming to Town," Mrs. Herman Feutsch the Santa in slim, red plaid tapers, imported popcorn stitch white pullover; a Christmas wreath on one arm; red Grace Graham gift packages tucked in a basket, her Empire hair style by the Salon protected by a soft wool scarf.

"Making A List and Checking It Twice," Mrs. Walter Moreno of the Hawthorne unit sporting a handsome leather jacket in a soft "new" green, topping an imported muted tweed skirt and beige wool pullover.

"Deck The Hall," then welcome the guests, Mrs. Dan Sweeney of the Sycamore Unit hostessing in pastel yellow jersey, the neck a high sabrina, the silhouette a pretty blouson, the accent a red Christmas rose.

"Tis The Season To Be Jolly" and trim a tree with a silver Grace Graham sunburst. Mrs. James Conley of the Hawthorne Unit the trimmer, velveted in perwinkle tapers and gray silk shirt; a plaid cumberbund accenting a tiny waist.

"Jolly Old St. Nicholas" take me on a cruise, the Christmas wish of Mrs. Douglas Duchan from the Madrone Unit in palest blue moygashel linen sheath, over it the luxury of a white mohair full length coat.

HOLIDAY SEPARATES

"Lend Your Ear This Way" and bring me favorite holiday separates; slim gold brocade skirt and scooped neck cashmere trimmed with leaves of gold, the wisher, Mrs. Frank Stolte of the Sycamore Unit.

"O, The Weather Outside Is Frightful," inside Mrs. Len Ravoni of the Cascade Unit ready for a party wearing a lush blue and green very full skirted shirtmaker print; jewelry to accent the brilliant colors.

"Inside It's So Delightful" meeting Mrs. Gordon Wardlaw, from the Cascade Unit, a Christmas red rose blooming at the waist of a white brocade dress for a holiday night.

"Holiday at Home" accenting the fresh, contemporary feeling of Christmas will be next Tuesday's "Fashion Focus" luncheon theme. Honored guests will be Tom Thumb Chapter of the Children's Home Society

LeNoir Hosack, Mezzo-Soprano To Entertain San Rafael Club

A brilliant mezzo soprano, Le Noir Hosack, will entertain at the meeting of San Rafael Improvement Club on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 16. She was soloist at the Carmel Bach Festival for three years and a finalist in the San Francisco Opera auditions. She was chosen by Darius Milhaud to create two roles in his Minute Operas.

Recently she completed the creation of a leading role in the premiere performance of the challenging modern opera, "The Love of Dan Perlimplin and Belisa" by Arnold Elston, at the University of California in Berkeley. In 1954 Miss Hosack was the recipient of a scholarship for study with Madame Lotte Lehmann at the Music Academy of the West in Santa Barbara.

Miss Hosack brings to the interpretation of her large repertoire an emotional expressivity which invariably wins acclaim of critics. She received her early musical training in Ohio and Pennsylvania. At 15, her serious vocal study was begun and continued through college years when she was enrolled in the Drama Department of Carnegie Institute of Technology. She played three seasons in leading roles with the Pittsburgh Savoyards, outstanding Gilbert and Sullivan company, under the direction of Harvey B. Gaul, renowned composer and organist. After her marriage the singer came to California with her husband and continued her musical activity first on the Monterey Peninsula and then in San Francisco.

LENOIR HOSACK, mezzo soprano, who will be featured on the program of the San Rafael Improvement Club on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 16. The program, which begins at 2 o'clock, will be followed by a tea.

The program will begin at 2 o'clock and will be followed by a tea. Mrs. Robert Allison is chairman of the tea committee. Assisting her will be Mesdames George W. Duncan, Leslie Jones and Sydney H. Diehl. Presiding at the tea tables will be Mesdames Herbert Brainerd, Louis L. Robinson, both past presidents, Mrs. Edith J. Foran and Miss Ethel Bryce.

The decrations will be exceptionally beautiful, as Mrs. Fedora Ross, as usual, is conducting a workshop. On Saturday and Sunday, starting at 9 a.m., members will gather at the clubhouse to create Christmas garlands and wreaths under Mrs. Ross' direction. Mrs. Murray Schrock is in charge of placing the decorations Tuesday.

The Marin Junior Music Club will meet Saturday, Dec. 13, 1:30 p.m. at Olney Hall, College of Marin, and will share an unusual topic: "What is a Recorder?" by holding open house to county music teachers and their students.

To tell the history of the recorder will be Leo Christiansen, Sausalito teacher of piano and YWCA recorder class, who has an outstanding reputation as choral director.

Assisting in the demonstration of recorders, from bass to high pitched soprano, will be members of the Mill Valley Recorder Club: Mrs. Margaret Greene, Tim Kelly, Mrs. Bernard Klopf, Mrs. Abe Goodman, Mrs. Richard Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fourman of Mill Valley and Dr. Margaret Bennett of Kentfield.

They will play works by old masters written for this instrument followed by modern compositions and Christmas carols, showing it's traditional use in social gatherings.

Business Club Hears Christmas Message

Christmas signifies "the brotherhood of man," the Rev. John David Alexander of the San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo stated when he gave the Christmas message at the dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Marin County at Rickey's Rancho Rafael Tuesday night. He told of the Jewish religious observance, Chanukah, "Festival of Lights" which began on Dec. 6 and ends Dec. 13, and explained it is also a joyous occasion. It celebrates the rededication of the temple in Jerusalem after its defilement by the heathen at the time of the religious persecution of the Jews by the Syrians 168 B.C. to 165 B.C.

The Rev. Alexander spoke of various symbols which are associated with Christmas and said many of them stem back before the time of Christ. The Romans gave gifts at the Saturnalia. The mistletoe was a sacred symbol of the Druids and the Romans considered it a symbol of peace. During the early Christian era the feast of St. Nicholas was observed with the giving of gifts and later the name Santa Claus was given the jolly fellow who distributed gifts.

Anita Meyer was chairman of the evening. Hortense Buck was co-chairman and others on the committee were Helen Hickman and Edith Gray. June Brusatori, club president, welcomed members and guests and introduced the committee, her officers and special guests. In the latter group were Lavina Schroeder, president of Redwood Empire District, BPWC, and Elinor Ballentyne, corresponding secretary of the district. Both are Sonoma residents. Also honored were Harold Keaton and Mrs. Keaton and in behalf of the club, Ella Lossius, junior past president, presented Mr. Keaton with a gift for his cooperation in putting on the club's "Fun Night." Also introduced were two of the club's members, Jean Brown, district chairman of health and safety, and Frances Mason, district emblem chairman.

The meeting was begun with the salute to the Flag led by Mrs. Gray and the reading of the collect by Mrs. Hickman. Mrs. Meyer presided during the program. Young Steven Gutman, son of Marcia Gutman, one of the club members, played a piano solo, Mendelssohn's "Hope."

As has been the custom for many years at the club's Christmas meeting, the A Cappella Choir of College of Marin, under the direction of Clinton Lewis, sang. The program included "O Rejoice Ye Christians Loudly," "Alleluia" by Randall Thompson, a French carol, "Angels We Have Heard On High," a German carol, "Cradle Song of the Shepherds," a Swedish number, "Let Carols Ring," a spiritual "Go Tell It On The Mountain" with Pamela Wilson as the soloist, "Trepak" from the Nutcracker Suite, and "O Holy Night" with Bernice Schneider and Edward Thompson as soloists.

During the dinner community singing was led by Mrs. Buck with Mrs. Meyer at the piano. Gifts were exchanged in a musical skit. The dinner tables were beautifully decorated with sparkling cones and candles.

Vienna Topic At Zonta Club

Marin Zontians enjoyed an exciting Evening in Vienna, when Mrs. Richard von Warton, honorary representative of the Austrian Tourist Bureau, presented the program, which included colored movies, at the Zonta meeting at the home of Mrs. William Rattray of Ross, with Miss Dorothy Campbell as co-hostess.

A report on the sale of Christmas necklaces was given by Mrs. John Pitcher, who also described the demonstration of holiday decorations given by Mrs. Ray Eubanks. Zonta was a participating club in presentation of the demonstration.

At the recent luncheon meeting held at West End Villa plans for a Christmas party at the home of Dr. Anne Brady, with Mrs. Leonard Tew as chairman, were completed. The party is a buffet supper tonight. At this meeting it was decided to send copies of the Readers Digest in Arabic to the Far East as a gesture of friendship.

Dr. Gwen Campion, Zonta service chairman, urged members to join the Eye Bank, and Marin Zontians voted unanimously to endorse it.

Varied Activities Planned For 4 Schools In Reed District

Varied activities are being planned by the four schools in the Reed District to celebrate the Christmas season.

"Christmas Around the World" is the theme of the program which the children of the Tiburon school will present tomorrow at 7:15 at the Southern Marin Recreation Center. Carols will be sung by both the first and second graders, the latter wearing choir robes. The third grade will sing festival songs and the fourth will present a group of international dances.

Following the reading of "The Littlest Angel" by Mrs. James Knox, the group will participate in community singing. Directing the children's part of the program are Mr. Leland Lincoln, music director for the district and Mrs. Loa Forsyth, fourth grade teacher. Starting at 7 p.m. dessert will be served to the parents.

In conjunction with the Reed School the Reed unit will present "The King's Christmas Carol" on Wednesday, Dec. 17 at 7:30 in the Reed School Auditorium. Directed by Lincoln and Louise Beattie, dramatics instructor, the production will feature the drama class, orchestra and combined chorus.

On Thursday, Dec. 18, at 7:30 p.m. the Bel Aire Unit will meet in the Reed School Auditorium. The program will feature children in each grade singing many songs from "Here and There at Christmas Time." Baby sitting service will be provided.

The Belvedere Unit will meet in Mrs. Ruth Danforth's second grade room at 1 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 19, at which time the first through third grades will present a Christmas program. The kindergarteners will have their own parties in their individual classrooms.

Crusade Reaches 78.4 Per Cent Of Quota In Marin

Contributions totaling $132,765 put Marin United Fund at 78.4 per cent of its $169,258 quota for 1958, according to figures heard Tuesday at the final report dinner at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, Ignacio.

Addressing some 125 persons attending the meeting, R. E. Mittelstaedt, general campaign chairman, said, "Thousands of dollars are still outstanding in Marin County." He urged "all those responsible to continue to make every effort to bring in those dollars."

Mittelstaedt also appealed to residents who have not been contacted to send checks directly to the United Fund office in San Rafael.

FALLEN BEHIND

He noted that despite the "extremely capable" work of Mrs. Fred T. Adams, Marin residential chairman, the residential division had fallen behind this year because of late organization and incomplete coverage due to a lack of volunteers.

The campaign chairman expressed confidence that a sizeable percentage of Marin's 21.6 per cent shortage will be forthcoming in the next four weeks.

However, fund officials said "allocations to Marin agencies will definitely be less than last year in relation to United Bay Area Crusade experience this year and not the local experience." UBAC reported $9,691,069, or 82.5 per cent, of its 11-million-dollar five - county quota.

LEADS BAY AREA

While Marin places fourth among the five counties in total contributions, it has consistently led the Bay Area by a wide margin in both the small business and public employees divisions. The latter division exceeded results of the previous year (singly and including the military) for the first time in many years.

Special districts in the public employees division have exceeded their quota by $25 and the county's federal post offices are only $13 short of their goal. This division's total percentage is 93.1.

Latest individual business division to meet its quota is the Kentfield business division, with the last minute cooperation of the Kentfield Lions Club. Among the business divisions that have met or exceeded their quotas are Sausalito, San Rafael, Novato and Kentfield.

Also heard at Tuesday night's meeting was a tape recorded digest of current problems of UBAC by Samuel B. Stewart, chairman of the board. Predicting that this year's campaign may be as much as 2 or 3 per cent less than last year, he said "it is reasonable to expect serious questions as to whether the combined annual campaign program can or should be continued in its present form." After analyzing suggested alternatives to the present program, he concluded that the "most practical course of action is to proceed with the organization we now have, and to seek improvement in 1959 by early adoption of plans for such improvements.

Retiring president Eugene Crawford presented a report and newly elected president, Mrs. Thomas J. Mellon, named her finance committee for 1959 as follows: Arthur Latno, executive vice president of the First National Bank, San Rafael, chairman; Irving Chapman, Chapman Shoe Store, San Rafael; Francis T. Fogarty, J. C. Penney store manager, San Rafael; Albert V. Martin, trust officer, Crocker-Anglo Bank, San Francisco, and John V. Bacigalupi, Bank of America, fund treasurer, member ex-officio.

An amendment to the by-laws adding two members at large to the executive committee and changing the status of honorary members to honorary directors was adopted.

State Grants Funds For Harbor Work

The state Small Craft Harbors Commission Monday formally made available more than 15 million dollars in construction loans and earmarked funds, including $300,000 for a Mill Valley small boat harbor and the same amount for Marin County to spend on improving Richardson Bay.

The action by the commission, meeting in Blythe, came as the Marin County Board of Supervisors was discussing possibility of the county loan.

Carroll Snyker, manager of Marin Development Foundation, and Francis Newton, chairman of the foundation's harbor development committee, appeared before the board to outline briefly the need for dredging Sausalito Canal up Richardson Bay so the waters would be made more usable for small craft.

They told the supervisors they would be back next Tuesday with detailed engineering plans for the bay's development.

Reappointment Of 2 Planners Asked

The Mill Valley Planning Commission has recommended the city council reappoint Mrs. George Gustafson and Lew Tyrell to the commission.

Both are serving out the unexpired terms of members who resigned. Their terms expire Dec. 31.

The commission submitted the names of Jane A. Duncombe, Walter Mountjoy and Robert Royston for consideration as members of the architectural advisory committee. In addition, the Outdoor Art Club will be asked to submit a name for consideration.

Mrs. Richard Bennett and Robert C. Coolidge resigned recently from the board.

Hearings Set Monday On Tracts In Tamalpais Valley, Sleepy Hollow

Public hearings on the tentative maps of two proposed subdivisions, Kay Park Unit 3 in Tamalpais Valley and Sleepy Hollow Unit 8 near San Anselmo, are scheduled Monday at 2 p.m. by the Marin County Planning Commission.

The commission will meet in the county office building at 1711 Grand avenue, San Rafael.

Golden Gate Homes, Inc. plans to build 11 homes in Kay Park 3, to be located on 2.9 acres south of Marin avenue and north and west of Richardson way.

The tentative map shows all lots containing a minimum of 7,500 square feet and one new street. None of the lots would be less than 60 feet in average width.

Sleepy Hollow 8, according to the tentative map submitted by developer Harold D. Lang, would consist of 16 lots on 7.2 acres west of Tarry road and north of Sleepy Hollow 7.

At 10 a.m. Monday, the commission will take up Kenny Development Co.'s application for an adjustment permitting erection of a 300-square-foot free-standing directional sign on the northwest corner of Manuel T. Freitas parkway and Highway 101 at the Terra Linda entrance. The sign would advertise Kenney's new Terra Linda Oaks subdivision.

I-J BOYS HAVE CHOICE OF RIDES

For about 50 Independent-Journal newspaperboys, Dec. 29 will be a day to remember. As a reward for securing new I-J subscriptions, the boys will be flown by Western Airlines to Disneyland, where they will have opportunity to ride the Concord Stage shown here into Frontierland after a trip across the picturesque Rainbow Desert. Or they may choose to make the trip in true pioneer spirit in a covered wagon, a chugging mine train or on the backs of mules. Shown overlooking the stagecoach is Disneyland's ghost town of Rainbow Ridge.

2 Neighbors End Dispute Over Fence

Two neighbors in Loch Lomond, fighting over a fence that lies between their properties, buried the hatchet Tuesday night at the San Rafael Planning Commission meeting.

Roland Hellman of 32 Manderly road won a variance to permit construction of a six-foot fence on top of a six-foot concrete retaining wall. But Hellman must complete the six-foot fence along the entire boundary. At present, one portion of the fence drops to about four feet six inches.

His neighbor, Bruce Bernhard, charged that the retaining wall and fence add up to a 12-foot fence and had threatened to put up a 12-foot fence of his own.

Planning commissioners laid the feud to rest by granting the fence to Hellman on condition that Hellman would not appeal the case to the city council.

The planners also set two public hearings for Aldersly, Inc., operator of the Danish Home at 326 Mission avenue, which wants to rezone adjacent property from duplex to multiple residence. The adjacent property, at 507 Belle avenue, has an old residence which the Danish home wants to add to its facilities. Public hearings will be held Dec. 23 and Jan. 13.

Chamber To Elect

Directors of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce will elect 1959 officers at a noon meeting next Thursday at the Ranch House restaurant, said George G. Washburn, chamber secretary.

Red Cross Names New Home Service Chief

Sidney C. Rapp of the Marin County Housing Authority has been appoited chairman of the home service committee of the Marin Red Cross by Mrs. Edward J. Ruff, chapter chairman.

Rapp replaces Mrs. Eugene Lockton of San Rafael, who recently resigned the chairmanship, but remains on the committee.

Home service of American Red Cross helps families of men and women in the armed forces, and veterans and their families meet personal and family problems.

New members of the committee named by Mrs. Ruff include Byron W. Leydecker, Mrs. John E. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Joseph Gutstadt, Mrs. Carl Q. Riznik, Mrs. Esther C. Whitman and Maj. Gerald M. Hayes.

Parking Violators To Get Only One Reminder

If you get a parking tag, you'd better pay up while it's still fresh in your mind.

Beginning next week, only one mailed reminder will be sent to the traffic violator before a warrant of arrest is issued, Municipal Court Clerk Edna L. Lemke announced today. In the past, two notices were sent to the violators.

The judges have ordered the discontinuance of the extra courtesy notice formerly given because other Bay Area communities are giving only the one statutory notice required by the state Vehicle Code.

Mrs. Lemke said dropping the extra notice will ease some of the clerical burden in the clerk's office.

A parking ticket paid within 11 days after the car has been tagged will not be penalized. If unpaid prior to the dispatch of the notice to the owner, $4 will be added to the original bail as shown on the back of the parking ticket.

If the citation is still delinquent and a warrant is issued, the bail will be $15 in most cases. If the original bail were in excess of $5, then the bail would be $10 more than the original bail.

Only about 8 per cent of the nation's estimated 350,000 blind persons are employed.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

What Are The Real Facts About U. C. Enrollments?

Every once in a while we receive a book just loaded with statistics. We just did. It is from University of California and is entitled: Summary of Students, Fall Semester 1958.

Now ordinarily such a volume doesn't make inspiring reading, but because of the current interest in schools, we decided to look into it more closely than usual—with some surprising results.

We discovered that there is a distinct and dangerous trend away from poultry husbandry on the College of Agriculture campus at Davis. Not a single, solitary freshman is majoring in the course this year, while only one sophomore, two juniors and five seniors are studying it, a definite downward trend.

On the other hand Dietetics is becoming more popular. Eight freshmen girls are majoring in it (lucky husbands), while there were only four sophomores and seniors and just one junior.

Speaking of girls, fellows, if that's what you're lookig for in college try the Santa Barbara campus. Down there they've got 1,443 girls to only 1,279 fellows. It's the only U.C. campus where there are more of the pretties.

On the other hand, girls, are you looking for a fellow? Have you considered law—or oceanography? At Hastings Law School there are only 15 women enrolled to 508 men, but then maybe law students are kept pretty busy with torts and stuff. But then, what about a course in skin diving at a school with 51 men and only two girls? Wow! That's the situation at the Scripps Institute of Oceanography at La Jolla.

Incidentally, there isn't a single Marin student enrolled at La Jolla, but there are 13 students from here over at Hastings. In fact, there are 425 Marin students taking courses on all the U.C. campuses; that's out of a total of 44,005 men and women, less than one per cent.

Of course most of the Marinites are taking their training at Berkeley, where they are 344 strong. Davis comes in second with 27 from here, while 16 are over at the San Francisco medical center. Fifteen Marinites got the word and went down to Santa Barbara, but the book of statistics didn't make it clear whether Marin boys or Marin girls decided they liked it there. UCLA attracted only eight youths from Marin, while Riverside barely escaped being skunked when two Marinites registered.

There are reams of vital information in a book like this, but we'd like to close on this hopeful note:

Although there are no seniors, eight juniors at Berkeley are majoring in American Civilization. That's the same number of juniors who are majoring in Communications and Public Policy.

STOPS DRIVING AT 81

An 81-year-old woman surprised officials by turning in her driver's license recently in Albany, N.Y.

The octogenarian had a perfect driving record. But she returned her license to the State Motor Vehicle Bureau with this thoughtful comment: "It would be a nice gesture to turn in my license and retire from driving a car voluntarily before I might become a menace to life on the highway."

To have the wisdom and courage to acknowledge one's limitations is tribute to anyone, old or young. It is even more commendable when such self-restraint shows a consideration for the well-being of others.

God has put it within the power of every one of us to contribute to the well-being of humanity by doing good and avoiding evil.

The more we realize that the peace of the world starts with each of us, the more alert we will probably be in thinking up practical ways to apply divine law and order to human affairs.

"Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven." (Matthew 6:10)

Deepen in me, O Jesus, a greater thoughtfulness for others.

Pet World's Elsa Maxwell Wants To Throw Equine Beach Party

NEW YORK (AP) — Mary Simpson, known as the Elsa Maxwell of the pet world, has an odd professional ambition. She wants to throw a beach party for horses.

"A beach is an ideal place for such a party," she explained. "Horses love the surf, but most of them rarely get to visit a beach."

Throwing parties for animals is now a career for this pretty, blue-eyed blonde.

Miss Simpson, an employee of the Hess Brothers department store in Allentown, Pa., is the world's only pet party consultant — at least as far as she knows.

But Mary, a college graduate who majored in Far Eastern history, doesn't think of her job as odd. She has loved animals all her life, enjoys catering to them.

"People have been throwing parties for their pets for some time," she said, "but it has been on a rather haphazard basis."

Miss Simpson likes to go over the animal guest list in advance — just as a professional Washington social hostess might.

"Animals don't differ much from human beings at a party," she observed. "They catch the air of excitement. They have their showoffs and their wallflowers. You have to be sure the guests will get along.

"So far I haven't supervised a party where we mixed canaries, parakeets and cats and dogs. But we've had a number of cat and dog mixed parties that came off very well.

"THE FACT a dog chases a cat outside the home has no bearing on how they will get along at a party. After they get to know each other, they behave very well. Cats and monkeys also get along well at parties."

Jealousy arises only when the guest pet of honor gets all the presents — or when two dogs want to show off at the same time.

"As at a children's party," cautioned Miss Simpson, "it is important that all the guests receive a favor. And it is better if the favors are identical. This keeps down envy."

Pets like to play games at parties just like people. Their favorite games. Mary said, are "bone scramble" and "hide the meatball."

WHAT SHOULD you give a pet as a birthday party present?

"The best present for a bird is another bird," said Miss Simpson. "The best way to surprise a cat or dog is to get it another toy like the very first one it ever had. It will remember — and be pleased.

"You can also get it a copy of some object it likes around the house but has been forbidden to play with — such as a slipper, lady's hat, rubber, or braided rug. But it is essential that you first use the object yourself, so that the pet will associate it with you. Otherwise he won't care for it."

U.S. Is Leader Of Human Rights

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The observance of Human Rights Day yesterday by many national and local groups not only commemorated the anniversary of the adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights by the United Nations General Assembly, but marks a decade of effort here and abroad to obtain recognition of these rights as a moral obligation in every country and territory.

In the past the efforts of the United States have been notable. Our statesmen incorporated a Bill of Rights in our own constitution. In the lifetime of many of our citizens, another American statesman conceived the League of Nations as the world's initial effort to protect the rights of all peoples. Later it was our statesmen who were chiefly responsible for the more effective United Nations.

In future efforts, we look to America to take an even greater lead in establishing an international order which will assure the equal rights of all peoples.

Truly this is a great and revered nation. Her liberty has reached its highest degree. The intentions of its people are most praiseworthy. They are indeed worthy of being the first people to build the tabernacle of the great peace and proclaim the oneness of the world of humanity.

High Level Bond Campaign Needed

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The I-J is to be commended for granting so much coverage to analysis of the local bond issue failures.

To date, however, it has been almost "one-sided" inasmuch as the voters responsible for the defeats remain silent. To some wishful thinkers already contemplating special elections this silence is being construed as an expiation on the voters part.

I would like to submit the following opinions for consideration. They are my own, resultant of a few years of "door-bell-ringing election campaigns" here in Marin County. My motive in writing is to introduce a thought overlooked by experts before and after Nov. 4.

The majority of the people of Marin County, despite much opinion to the contrary, are a thinking people, a discriminating people. As such, they are sensitive to the needs of our ever expanding communities and are willing to assume responsibility at all costs — not at any price.

One person on the local scene recognized this and saw fit to establish a rapport with some 20,000 people. It is surely safe to assume that Dr. Virgil Hollis is thoroughly acquainted with and mindful of the mood of the people in regard to education.

As a thinking people, therefore, the Marin County voters qualify in having facts presented before them in an intelligent manner, unaccompanied by the aura of the "public - relations - type - boys" campaign that has prevailed and too often succeeded in other areas. Scare-ads, threats, gobble-de-gook, expediency and innuendoes are not the tactics of the humanitarian.

A worthy proposition that needed no glamour was Proposition H of San Anselmo. A yes majority on this issue disproved the "no-vote trend."

As a voter and out of respect for the many intelligent citizens I was privileged to meet, I suggest to those concerned a higher level of bond issue presentation and campaigning. Give the people pertinent facts only and do not be angered at their ability to separate the essential from the non-essential.

Ornamented Tree Brings Sadness

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I won't complain when Santa scares the kiddies,
I'll shop for gifts until my bones all ache
On Christmas day, I'll chop and stuf and whip and bake
Even raise a cup of cheer — that Yuletide's here,
But when I raise my eyes unto the cross to contemplate His gift of Love,
I only see — shining from the hills above — an ornamented tree.

Must Efficiency Bring Discomfort?

EDITOR:
Independent-Journal

You may publish this. The original has been sent to the city council:
Council Parking Committee,
San Rafael
Gentlemen:

"Parking"—"Parking Problems" — "Parking Committees" — words synonymous with San Rafael these years.

So we FINALLY develop parking lots, gloat over the additional spaces (with justification) and immediately erase 50 or more from the streets! First was the lack of parking space, now it's the slow traffic. Which is more important?

I don't know the answers and my sympathy to those who have tried, and try trying, to work out the problem. However, I question this in particular: Why the sudden enthusiasm for cutting out the few extra spaces in front of the Post Office on D street, also those on the slope above it—WHY this drastic measure during the Christmas rush?

Efficiency and discomfort seem to go hand in hand today—are these words also becoming synonymous?

Sincerely,
DAVINA KOSH

Simple Plan To Reduce Deficit

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

A beautifully simple plan to reduce the federal deficit will be brought before the House of Representatives soon.

The overpowering debt affects us all. This was evident in the last election when Joe Atlas (the American tax payer), Marin edition, turned thumbs down on more expenditure for either hospital or school. How will we win the desperate race out of this world, among other things, without more millions for rockets which, we hope, won't fizzle?

Rep. Paul Fine will advance an idea (again) which is not a vague, half conceived, esoteric blueprint to change the world, but a practical, workable plan to get us out from under—a national lottery.

Think it over.

Argument Is Whether Students Should Be Marked For Effort Or Achievement

The endlessly debated question—whether effort or scholastic achievement should be most rewarded — got two different answers in the past 10 days from two public bodies concerned with schools

The Marin County Grand Jury said achievement should be emphasized. The West Marin School Board said effort should be emphasized, and backed up its opinion by adopting a new report card for its 195 pupils.

ACTUALLY THE NEW report card will have two sets of marks.

First, the pupil will get a mark of A, B, C, D, or F for effort in his various subjects.

He will receive a mark of 1, 2 or 3 in achievement to indicate if he is in the top, middle or lowest one-third of his class. Two cards a semester will be augmented by one parent-teacher conference.

Supt. George Stratton explained that it will be possible for a low-ability pupil to receive a high letter grade and get a little boost to his morale. And it will end any "coasting through with A's and B's" by high ability pupils because they will be marked for their effort.

IN CONTRAST, the Grand Jury said in its report that it was not the high ability pupils nor the low ability pupils that concerned it so much as those with average intelligence who form the "great majority."

"Many are advanced from elementary school to high school and are eventually graduated without having mastered any proficiency in basic academic subjects. We feel that the administrators have been lax in not demanding higher scholastic achievement from the student of average mentality."

It should be said, in fairness, that this last statement was contradicted by Richard L. Foster, county superintendent of schools. Foster said results of standardized achievement tests indicated otherwise.

HOWEVER, SOME parents would quarrel that standardized achievement tests don't require very high achievement for any specific grade level. And the debate continues.

I have often wondered what happens to students, once graduated and working, who find that no longer does anyone particularly care about the amount of effort? It's only what they can produce that counts.

The answer to that argument would probably be that what they produce is not always dependent on book learning.

AS THE GRAND Jury observed:

"In order to improve the end product of the schools, the education of the pupils, we are of the opinion that nothing permanently constructive can be accomplished until there is instilled into the parents and the community at large a greater respect for learning. Academic achievement in the minds of a large segment of the public is running poor competition with athletics, extra curricular activities and social events, with natural reaction from youngsters."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Is It True We Can't Afford The Defenses That We Need?

Only the Armed Services Committees of the Senate and House can require a full accounting as to why the administration is cutting the Army and Marine Corps about 70,000 men.

Secretary of the Army Wilbur Brucker does not approve the cuts. Gen. Maxwell Taylor and Gen. Randolph McC. Pate oppose them. Defense Secretary Neil McElroy is not happy about them. Nobody in the Pentagon considers these cuts either wise or safe and yet nobody, including the President, will come right out and say to the country: "We can't afford the defenses we need."

THE ISSUE OF cutting back the Army and Marine Corps is thus becoming woefully blurred and the only way it is going to get unblurred is for Congress to press some searching questions upon every witness, military and civilian, whom the Pentagon sends to the Hill to explain its budget.

Congress deserves to get from the two generals and others their candid, professional judgment as to what these reductions would mean. To this end both Congress and the military chiefs will do well to bear in mind the commitment which Secretary McElroy gave to the Senate Armed Services Committee last June 25. He said:

"It is my conviction that officials of the Department when testifying before Congress should give their personal judgment and opinion when asked for them," and . . . "answer such questions frankly and honestly in the light of his professional knowledge and experience.... There should not be any question of retaliation or penalty for such testimony."

THERE IS THE KEY with which Congress can get the needed information.

The military chiefs are not to volunteer opinions which conflict with higher Defense Department policy.

But they are to answer "frankly and honestly" when asked. And no retaliation.

They certainly ought to be asked and I have no doubt that it will be nearly the first order of business after Congress convenes next month.

No knowledgeable person will assume that everything the military chiefs want is either attainable or absolutely necessary. Anybody who is charged with the responsibility of defending the nation wants about all he can get.

THEREFORE, THE HEART of the matter is this: At what point has the Administration stopped reducing padded military demands and at what point has it begun to cut the Army and Marine Corps on the theory that our "economy can't afford it?"

That is the core of the issue, now blurred by lack of information, which Congress needs to get at because Congress is alone free to decide what the country can afford to spend for its defenses. And if Congress will get the information out in the open, the American people will help it decide.

Making Trees Less Tasty To Beasts Urged

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A Washington forester said today that animal damage in the nation's timberlands could be cut in half by changing the taste of trees.

William S. Looney of Shelton, Wash., told the 49th annual Western Forestry Conference that animals have damaged about two million acres of timberland in the Pacific Northwest.

He said rabbits have feasted on 66,000 acres of seedlings in Washington and Oregon, deer and elk have browsed on about 60,000 acres, and bears have clawed their way through a million acres. Smaller animals accounted for the rest.

Foresters estimate that "animals cost the Pacific Northwest some 12 to 15 million dollars a year," Looney said.

"Basic control of animal damage lies in research in the food habits of these destructive animals," Looney said. "Perhaps a systemic repellent can be developed which will make trees taste more like hash instead of cake and thus discourage cellulose sabotage."

Space Research May Give Man Longer, Better Life

NEW YORK (AP)—Space research may lead to a better and even longer life for man.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency, said this today in a speech prepared for a convention of the Life Insurance Assn. of America.

Johnson said space projects involve almost a billion dollars this fiscal year, with 700 million dollars of it devoted to research.

Aside from the contribution to national defense, he said, the programs produce knowledge and techniques permitting still further increases "in our national productivity, our standard of living, and our way of life."

"Our manned satellite programs can lead to better health and life for all Americans," Johnson said.

"We shall have to develop foods and vitamins of great energy content, packaged and capsuled to efficiently and safely preserve the life of man in space. We may need drugs to perform new and wonderful missions for the space travelers.

"There is no reason to assume that such foods, vitamins and drugs will not also benefit those of us who remain behind on our globe. . . .

"In the vacuum of outer space, we may find environmental cures for the diseases of earthman; we may even discover means to directly increase the human life span."

GIs' Soft Early Life Blamed For Brainwash Success

Communist indoctrination of American soldiers captured in Korea succeeded because of the training (or lack of it) they received before entering the Army, an Army psychologist charged last night.

Thirteen per cent of American GIs captured in Korea turned collaborators, said Lt. Col. Frederick A. Zehrer, chief of the clinical psychology service at Letterman Army Hospital, in a speech before the San Francisco Psychological Assn.

In contrast, he related, the Turks captured by the Reds in Korea produced no collaborators.

The Turks, said Zehrer, "adapted themselves to the diet and scrounged for food. They maintained rigid discipline with rank respected as it was prior to capture; they refused to participate in indoctrination sessions; they stressed the point that if a leader was removed, the next in rank would be in command so that segregation would be useless.

"They believed in their cause they cared for one another. They had a language barrier in their favor, but when an interpreter was located, they sent him away rapidly."

But the Americans — or too many of them — "fell for" the system under which "progressives" received special treatment by their Chinese captors while "reactionaries" drew the work details and scanty food, the Army psychologist said.

The same mental attitudes that resulted in 13 per cent of the surviving Americans becoming "collaborators" accounted for a high death rate among the young GIs (average age 21 at capture) in the Red prison camps, said Zerer.

In one North Korean prison camp, he said, 400 of the 1,500 American prisoners died. In the same camp, all 229 Turkish prisoners survived.

Related the psychologist:

"An Army doctor, who was taken prisoner while caring for combat casualties and was decorated for his heroism . . . reported that at a certain point in his starvation, a young soldier would complain he was too weak to get his food. He would lie down, pull a blanket over his head and shut out the world . . . In a few days, he would be dead."

These Americans, Zehrer pointed out, were mostly men with little Army experience, who entered service as members of the army of occupation in Japan. Other United Nations units in Korea were composed principally of World War II veterans.

This, he argued, showed that the Americans had not developed the mental discipline and strength of will that should have been acquired before they ever entered Army service.

"This responsibility for youth," he said, "is one shared by parents, church and educators. . . . It includes a basic fortitude developed throughout early life by exposure to example and a basic system of personal values."

New Legislature Favors Tougher School Discipline

By JERRY HARRELL

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Tougher discipline in the classroom and stepped-up teaching of fundamentals are among the primary targets of the 1959 Legislature in the field of education.

Replies to an Associated Press questionnaire also s howed strong sentiment favoring:

A separate state board to run the state colleges, more state help for junior colleges and giving the Legislature a bigger hand in educational policies.

Asked if they think California's elementary schools and high schools are doing a good job, more than half of the lawmakers said no.

Three out of five said, however, they think the University of California and the state colleges are doing good jobs.

Almost 40 per cent said they want changes in the state's education laws. The same number said they favor more control of educational policies and operations by the Legislature. But many disagreed.

"I do not believe we should become quasi-educators," one assemblyman said. "I would oppose legislation fixing curriculum requirements."

Assemblyman S. C. Masterson (D-El Sobrante) took the opposite view:

"We have turned our schools over to the 'professionals' and now we electors find that we are dissatisfied with the job that is being done and we're powerless to force changes."

Assemblyman Sheridan N. Hegland (D-La Mesa) said he would resist "any effort to centralize more power in the Department of Education. I think that local school boards are best qualified to determine educational policies."

There was almost unanimous agreement in the demand for cutting out "frill" courses, increasing the solid subjects and establishing a firm discipline in the schools.

Recommendations ranged from a terse "eliminate progressive education" to letting teachers administer "on-the-spot timely physical force."

"I would like to see the rod returned to the teacher's hand so a teaching-learning environment can return to the classroom," said Assemblyman-elect Charles G. Garrigus (D-Reedley).

"Let's start teaching more fundamentals," said Sen John J. Hollister, Jr. (D-Coleta).

Assemblyman Frank Lanterman (R-La Canada) joined the call for "re-emphasis on disciplined learning habits" and "less emphasis on social adjustment."

While the battle over the curriculum looms as the most explosive issue, the lawmakers also face these other education problems:

1. The proposal for a separate board to run the state colleges, which is opposed by the State Board of Education and the Education Department.
2. School finances.
3. The continuing need for more classrooms.
4. Textbook selection.
5. Teachers' salaries.

Several legislators called for a speed-up in the state's school building program. One assemblyman urged year - round school sessions to make the fuliest use of existing buildings.

Hegland said he hopes something can be done to abolish "the monopoly now in the hands of the state Education Department over elementary textbooks."

The Legislature and the department are at odds over science books ordered early this year for first and second graders.

Hegland joined several others in calling for state financial aid to districts for building junior colleges.

Assemblyman Ernest R. Geddes (R-Claremont) noted:

"Communities are likely to, and do, put on pressure for a state college with no local taxes because it is cheaper than establishing a properly based junior college."

Legislation establishing a minimum wage for teachers and barring discrimination in the hiring of teachers was suggested by Assemblyman Phillip Burton (D-San Francisco).

Assemblyman Dorothy M. Donahoe (D-Bakersfield) urged "more realistic" state college courses in teacher training.

A consolidation of school districts with one district to a county was advocated by Assemblyman Charles J. Wilson (D-Los Angeles).

Several lawmakers said they preferred not to comment until the first report of the Joint Interim Committee on the Public Education System and the citizens' advisory commission make their reports.

The two groups also have called for more discipline and more teaching of fundamentals.

ANNUAL ROLE

Mill Valleyan Set To Play Santa Again

On this Christmas Eve, as usual on recent 24ths of December, LeMoyne (Lee) Porter of 101 Longfellow road, Enchanted Knolls, Mill Valley, will play Santa Claus to about 15 Mill Valley families and the community's Methodist Church.

Porter, who during the rest of the year is personnel manager for the marketing division of the Shell Oil Co., makes a real production of his portrayal of St. Nick.

First, with the aid of his wife Edythe, he compiles a list of homes at which an appearance of Santa has been requested and a dossier on each child at each home—age, distinguishing physical characteristics, present requested and where the present is to be found in the garage or grounds of the home.

Then he memorizes the list and hits the Santa trail, appropriately garbed.

He picks up the cached presents at each house, bursts in the door with a well-practiced "Ho, ho ho!" and hands out the gifts, addressing each recipient by name.

Mostly, he gets by without being recognized, but on occasion some smart tot spots neighbor Porter behind the whiskers.

Porter's annual performance in the role of Santa has been recognized by the Shell Oil Co. in an article in the current issue of its magazine, Shell News.

"I come to my office without any commitments," Hollis assured the board members. "There will be no drastic changes."

Warren Ailing, Won't Attend Ike's Dinner

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren is ill with a virus infection.

The White House announced today that Warren will be unable to attend tonight's official dinner for Supreme Court justices.

Justice Felix Frankfurter already was off the list because of a heart disturbance that sent him to a hospital.

Mail Gifts NOW, Says Postmaster

San Rafael Postmaster Warren H. Williams emerged from behind a pile of Christmas mail bags at the post office long enough to tell residents that "the time is now" to mail those Christmas cards and packages.

"It's too late to talk about early mailing," said Williams. "Time means everything now. Even a few hours delay in getting your cards and gifts mailed may mean disappointment to your friends and loved ones on Christmas Day."

USE AIR MAIL

If Christmas cards going out of Marin County are not dispatched promptly, they'd better go by air mail, the postmaster suggested.

He offered a reminder, too, to "be sure to include your return address on all Christmas card envelopes and package labels."

Every year, he said, many packages wind up in the dead letter office instead of under Christmas trees because of wrong addresses—and no return addresses.

Williams said volume of Christmas mail is already heavy at the San Rafael office, with the "big bulge" yet to come.

EXTRA PERSONNEL

Twenty-five extra men have already been added to the San Rafael Post Office's force to help unload, load and deliver the Christmas mail. By Monday, the number will be swelled to 100, Williams said.

The last two of seven extra trucks from military installations were to be turned over to the post office today. Four are from Hamilton Air Force Base, two from the National Guard's 579th Combat Engineer Battalion at Fairfax and two from the Army station at Two Rock Ranch.

Postal employees are digging in for the big drive to get everything delivered by Christmas Eve. The San Rafael Post Office will be open from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., including Saturday, and from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

"This year," said Williams, wishfully, "I'd like to see every mail bag empty and every post office employee relaxing at home on Christmas Eve."

Strep Infections On Increase Here

Streptococcic infections are on the increase in Marin, the weekly report of the Marin County Health Department indicated today.

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, said 14 "strep" infections were reported to her office last week. Eight of the cases were in San Rafael, two in Mill Valley, and one each in Kentfield, San Anselmo, Fairfax and a rural area.

There were four cases of measles (in Marin City, Mill Valley, San Anselmo and a rural area); two cases of mumps (in Kentfield and San Rafael); two cases of salmonella (in San Rafael), and one each of tuberculosis (in San Rafael) and pertussis (in Novato).

Big Paris department stores reported daily growing sales of the plastic hoops which sell for about $1.

About three buyers out of four are grownups.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A probe of housing problems in New York City by the Civil Rights Commission will be started in February, Robert G. Storey, commission member, says.

He pleaded ignorance on the nature of the complaints. "We intend to find out," he said.

Anti-Negro Acts Told

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A parade of Negro witnesses has told a federal judge that state officials erected one barrier after another to keep Negroes out of Georgia State College.

Judge Boyd Sloane is hearing the suit of three Negro women who claim entrance requirements at the college discriminate against their race. There is no jury.

Edward Jacob Clements, an Atlanta insurance underwriter, said in U. S. District Court yesterday that his application was endorsed by two white ministers. It was rejected, he testified, because the ministers were not alumni of Georgia State.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—University of Michigan coeds, 240 strong, stood outside Mosher's Hall dining room last night, listened to an 11-point grievance against U. M. food preparations and refused to eat their evening meal.

It was the second major protest concerning Michigan dormitory food within a week.

Judy Hassenzahl, a sophomore, read a list of 11 specific complaints about the food as the girls stood outside the dining hall just before it opened.

She listed seven major complaints: Greasiness, small portions, refusals to grant seconds on eggs for breakfast when there are some left, repeated servings of unpopular dishes, "running out of food listed on the menus, refusal to prepare more food until supkplies are completely distributed and thus causing long delays in meal lines, and dishes inappropriate to the weather, such as cold plates on cold days.

Bomb Trial Delayed

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A hopelessly deadlocked jury and physical exhaustion of defense attorneys have delayed proceedings in the case of George Bright, charged with bombing a Jewish temple.

Judge Durwood T. Pye Wednesday declared a mistrial after the jury said it still couldn't agree on a verdict after 26 hours of deliberation.

Immediately after the mistrial, the state started preparing for selection of a new jury to try Bright. But James R. Venable, defense attorney, sought and received a postponement on grounds that he and his associate Essley B. Burdine were physically unable to proceed at this time.

About Babies—Breast Feeding, Cruelty To Kiddies In Hospitals

Mrs. T. C. "I'm a mother. I'm also a registered nurse, and I work in a maternity hospital. I know from experience that breast babies usually get along better than bottle babies. Yet I hear doctor after doctor telling mothers not to bother with breast feeding. I'll admit it is easier with bottles. But don't the doctors care about the babies? Shouldn't they advise breast feeding, and tell mothers why it is important?"

Reply. I believe they care. But they're busy. Some doctors didn't take the college mental health courses which teach why breast feeding is superior. I share your concern. From the standpoint of babies' emotional welfare I urge all mothers to nurse their little ones. Ladies, please give nature's way a good trial.

HOSPITAL RULES

Mrs. M. S. "I'm starting a crusade for better hospital treatment of small children. My girl is 2½. Until she went to the hospital she was happy, lovable, emotionally stable. Then she had to have serious surgery. The hospital would not let either her father or me into her room before the operation. No one told her what was happening. She thought they were killing her, and suffered a terrible shock. After the operation our visits were limited to one hour daily. She cried for us constantly. They tied her down, and gave her sedatives. Now, six months later, she is a mess. A psychiatrist called her a 'gravely disturbed child.' He blamed the hospital. He said this happened frequently. Is he right? Whom can we sue?"

Reply. I'm sorry to say that the rigid, heartless procedures followed with small children by some hospitals can cause serious emotional damage. However what your hospital did is common. I doubt if you'll get far with a lawsuit. A few modern hospitals are better, especially those built for children only. Other things equal, parents always should try to get their little ones into hospitals which try to minimize fears. Let me join your crusade. Reforms are needed.

Hub To Place Stop Signs On Greenfield Ave.

Residents of Greenfield, Terrace and Spring Grove avenues in San Anselmo have won stop signs to end use of Greenfield as a "speed way," despite the recommendation of Police Chief Donald T. Wood that the signs be denied.

The stop signs, and cross walks, were asked in a petition bearing 68 names — those of 67 residents of the area and of Principal James W. Stinchcomb of Isabel Cook School, which children from the area attend.

Stinchcomb joined several residents in urging the stop signs at Tuesday night's city council meeting.

SON WAS HIT

Principal presentation was by William Castelli of 55 Terrace avenue, whose small son escaped with bruises when struck by a car on Greenfield recently.

The petitioners asked and won: (1) signs stopping traffic on both Greenfield and Terrace where those avenues intersect; (2) crosswalks on both streets there and on Greenfield at the Miracle Mile; (3) moving of a stop sign at the Miracle Mile to conform with the crosswalk; (4) a southbound stop sign at the curve of Greenfield near the Miracle Mile entry. The council, at suggestion of City Manager Arthur W. Brewer, added a crosswalk across Miracle Mile at the Greenfield intersection.

Chief Wood approved the crosswalks but recommended against the stop signs, Brewer told the council.

OTHER ACTION

Also at the San Anselmo City Council meeting Tuesday night and early yesterday:

1. The council upheld a planning commission turndown of duplex zoning for a lot on Humboldt avenue owned by William Youngblood. Councilman Carmel H. Booth, although voting against the "spot zoning," said she would like to see the entire Lansdale area rezoned for multiple dwellings.
2. Warrants totaling $61,070.44 were approved.
3. The new business license ordinance, with retail licenses based on gross receipts, was approved as an emergency measure, effective Jan. 1.
4. The building code ordinance was postponed to Jan. 13, as were the board of review's report calling for re-instatement of James A. Farmer in the rank of police patrolman; a claim by R. E. Nolan because he had to pay workmen kept waiting when the city manager allegedly missed an appointment, and appointment of Warren Landon to the Marin Mosquito Abatement District board.
5. The all-inclusive traffic ordinance, revised by City Atty. John G. Buresh to make the chief of police the traffic engineer and to make that officer's authority subject to prior approval by the council, was introduced.
6. A special meeting set for Jan. 6 to hear Planning Consultant James M. Campbell was canceled, when Buresh informed the council he had inadvertently written Campbell to appear Jan. 13, the night of the regular January meeting.

The center of religious activity among the Pueblo Indians of New Mexico is the "kiva," a circular, underground chamber equipped with an altar and mural decorations.

5 Men Sentenced For Drunk Driving

Five motorists, convicted of drunken driving, were sentenced Friday by Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin Municipal Court.

Russell Samuel Hoffman, 26, truck driver of 1109 Nye street, San Rafael, drew six months probation and $200 fine. Hoffman was caught on Francisco boulevard south of San Rafael on Nov. 21.

Two men drew five days in jail and $250 fine each for their second offenses. They are Lindy Calvin Backman, 33, of 615 Manuel drive, Novato, and Myron Franks, 56, of San Francisco.

Backman was caught by highway patrolmen last June 4. Since he is appealing the conviction, the judge stayed the execution of sentence.

Franks was arrested by Ross police on Nov. 22.

Kenneth Clayton Bon, 47, of Post Office Box 148, Sausalito, was fined $250 and put on six months probation for drunken driving. Mill Valley police arrested Bon on Nov. 26.

Kenneth Southgate Beebe, 51, must pay $280 fine. He was caught last Wednesday on West Blithedale avenue in Mill Valley.

Arthur Able Charleson, 60, of 108 Ethel avenue, Mill Valley, was freed of a drunken driving charge because the jury could not agree. But the jurors found him guilty of resisting arrest by Mill Valley police last Aug. 8 on Throckmorton avenue, Mill Valley.

For resisting arrest, Charleson is on six months probation, must pay $175 fine, and must make restitution for the torn uniform of a police officer and a dog which Charleson's car killed in the mishap.

DANCING WITH BEAR BRINGS HER PRIZES

All she had to do was dance with a bear and she won:

1. A bottle of expensive perfume;
2. A jeweled wrist watch.

It happened on the "Truth or Consequences" television show recently, when Helen Berlew of San Quentin, waitress in a San Rafael restaurant, was on vacation in Southern California.

She missed her question—as master of ceremonies Ralph Edwards calculated she would—and as a result she was forced to take the consequences, in this case, to dance with a bear.

The bear was really a friend in bear's clothing. But says Helen, "At first sight those arms looked awfully big and hairy to me."

Deficiencies In Streets Reported

Larkspur and Corte Madera street deficiencies were outlined to the Larkspur committee to study merger at its meeting Monday at city hall.

Two lines of type showing the figures in the Public Affairs Research, Inc., merger study report were inadvertently dropped from the story in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

The deficiencies of $373,341 for Larkspur and $238,378 for Corte Madera are estimates of the cost of bringing half of each town's street mileage up to state standards.

William R. Zion, manager of the research firm, said he felt the figures were a fair indication of relative costs of any long-range street rebuilding program in the merged city.

Kids Give $70 For Jr. Red Cross

More than $70 was donated by San Rafael High School students to the Junior Red Cross in a recent membership drive in the student body.

The drive was organized by the Junior Red Cross Council, made up of representatives from organizations in the school.

Each club at the high school will choose a project such as making tray mats for hospital patients, providing Christmas tree ornaments, making cookies or candy, or providing entertainment for the hospitalized. The money which was donated will help to buy supplies for these projects.

Chamber In S.F. Elects Marinites

Two Kentfield men have been named to the board of directors of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce for 1959.

Re-elected was W. W. Davison of 636 Goodhill road, vice president, Standard Oil Co. of California. W. E. Waste of 44 Hill drive, executive vice president of the Bechtel Corp., was elected as a new director.

Library Board Sees Sketch Of Addition

An architect's sketch and estimated cost of an addition to the San Anselmo Public Library are to be presented at the library board's meeting on Jan. 12, said J. Edward Jones, member of the board.

Architect Adrian H. Malone showed the board preliminary sketches at a meeting Monday night.

The addition will about double the bookshelf capacity and seating capacity of the library. Cost is expected to fall between $30,000 and $40,000 Jones said. Construction will not begin until the next fiscal year.

Overflow Crowd Hears 'Messiah' At Seminary

By MARTHA BRUCKNER

The traditional Christmas music from the "Messiah" was presented Tuesday for the 22nd time by Dr. John Milton Kelly and the San Francisco Theological Seminary A Cappella Choir combined with the Marin Chorale. The seminary gymnasium was again too small to seat all those who wanted to share the true Christmas spirit of this performance.

Dr. Kelly rendered the wonderful Handel composition spiritually and musically in its pure and genuine meaning, with a performance that was cut like a gem down to the smallest detail. Moreover, this conductor achieves with his thoroughly trained chorus of more than 100 voices a mellow and rich sound quality rarely found in a local choir.

His carefully selected soloists displayed the same spirited beauty. The very light soprano of Marion Swartz (Novato), the warm contralto of Eleanor Clemmens (Oakland) and the firm metallic tenor of Robert Bruce, a seminary student, were already the delight of last year's presentation. As a newcomer, Cary Smith (Mill Valley), a student at San Francisco State College, matched their quality with his rich bass.

At the organ, Wilbur F. Russell, assistant director of music at the seminary, was, as always, an instrumentalist of high taste and skill. With Carolyn Witt from Corte Madera, the accompanying piano was in good hands.

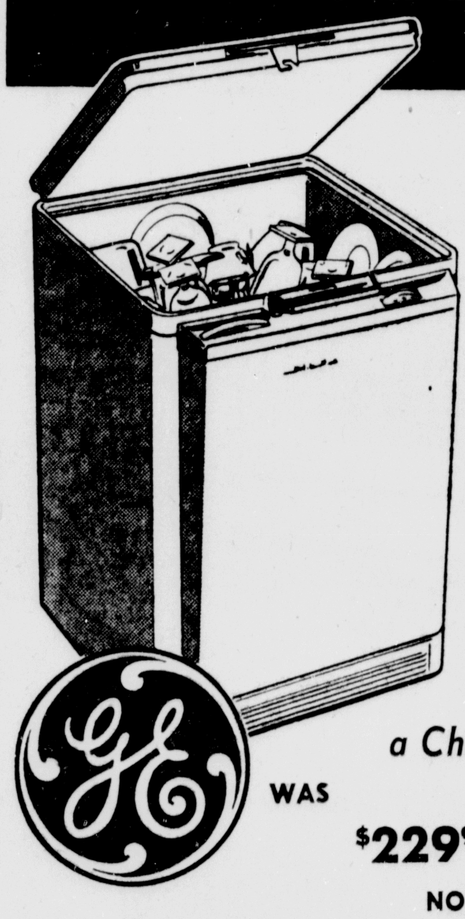

However, the piano of our days brings a strange sound to Handel's music, which was written for a harpsichord. The music department of the seminary is interested in acquiring a harpsichord, after having installed recently some beautiful baroque registers in the organ at Montgomery Chapel. At the moment, however, there are not sufficient funds to purchase a concert-size harpsichord.
